Preface

This is a dictionary of intermediate Japanese grammar, a companion volume to A Dictionary of Basic Japanese Grammar published in 1986 by the same authors. While DBJG was designed primarily for students and teachers of beginning-level Japanese, this volume is designed for students and teachers of intermediate-level Japanese. After examining relevant textbooks, some references on sentence patterns, and authentic sources used in intermediate and advanced Japanese courses, we have chosen approximately 200 entries which we believe to be the most important grammatical items for intermediate Japanese learners.

The format of this dictionary is the same as that of A Dictionary of Basic Japanese Grammar. For the convenience of readers who have not used DBJG, we have repeated from that text the sections To the Reader and Grammatical Terms. In this volume, however, we have modified To the Reader slightly and have added some entries to Grammatical Terms. Along with the Japanese index, there is an English index that lists the English equivalents for each entry. One difference between the two volumes is that no romanization has been provided for example sentences in A Dictionary of Intermediate Japanese Grammar. Instead, furigana (hiragana over kanji) is used.

Needless to say we owe a great deal to our predecessors, whose works are listed in the references. Without their linguistic insights we could never have written this dictionary. We would like to thank our colleagues, friends, and spouses, who have kindly answered our persistent questions and shared their language intuition. However, for fear of omission, we would rather not attempt a comprehensive listing of names. Even so, we want to mention three individuals who made this publication possible, first, Ms. Chiaki Sekido from the Japan Times, who edited our manuscript most conscientiously and effectively, and helped us invaluablely with her comments and suggestions. Also, our thanks go to Ms. Carmel Dowd and Ms. Sharon Tsutsui, who edited our English to make it more readable.

We sincerely hope that this dictionary will be useful in furthering our readers' understanding of Japanese.

To the Reader

This dictionary consists of the following parts:

- A. Grammatical Terms contains brief explanations or informal definitions of the grammatical terms used in this book. If readers find that they are not familiar with these terms, it is suggested that they read this section carefully.
- B. Special Topics in Intermediate Japanese Grammar discusses selected topics: Japanese discourse grammar, newspaper grammar, conversational strategies, and sentence structure analysis for reading comprehension. The section introduces readers to a number of important concepts with which they should be familiar in order to improve their reading and conversational skills.
- C. Main Entries constitutes the core of this volume. Each entry is organized as follows:

① [entry name]	② [part of speech]	③ [usage restriction]
④ [meaning / function]	⑤ [English counterpart(s)]	⑥ [related expression(s)]
⑦ ◆Key Sentence(s)
⑧ Formation
⑨ Example(s)
⑩ Note(s)
⑪ [Related Expression(s)]

- ① [entry name]: Each entry is given in romanized spelling followed by its hiragana version. Entries are alphabetically ordered based on their romanized spellings.
- ② [part of speech]: Each entry is followed by its part of speech.
- ③ [usage restriction]: <s> or <w> is provided when the entry item is used only in spoken Japanese or only in written Japanese and formal speeches, respectively.

- ④ [meaning / function]: The general meaning or function of the entry item is given in the box below the entry name.
- ⑤ [English counterpart(s)]: English expressions equivalent to the entry item are given to the right of the box.
- ⑥ [related expression(s)]: Items which are semantically related to the entry item are listed as [REL. aaa, bbb, ccc]. Expressions in plain type like aaa are explained in the entry under 【Related Expression(s)】 (⑪). Expressions in bold type like bbb contain comparisons to the entry item under 【Related Expression(s)】 for bbb.
- ⑦ ◆Key Sentence(s): Key sentences present typical sentence patterns in frames according to sentence structure. The recurrent elements are printed in red.
- ⑧ Formation: The word formation rules / connection forms for each item are provided with examples. The recurrent elements are printed in red.
- ⑨ Example(s): Example sentences are provided for each entry.
- ⑩ Note(s): Notes contain important points concerning the use of the item.
- ⑪ 【Related Expression(s)】: Expressions which are semantically close to the entry item are compared and their differences are explained.

(⇒ aaa (DBJG: 000–000)) in Formation, Notes, and 【Related Expression(s)】 indicates that the item which was referred to (i.e., aaa) is explained on pp. 000–000 of the companion volume: A Dictionary of Basic Japanese Grammar.

- D. Appendixes contains information such as katakana word transcription rules, compound verbs, compound particles, conjunctions, prefixes and suffixes, counters, cooccurrence, and functional expressions and grammar patterns.
- E. Indexes provides both a Japanese index and an English index. The Japanese index includes the main entries, the items explained in 【Related Expression(s)】, and the items covered in A Dictionary of Basic Japanese Grammar. The English index includes English counterparts of the main entry items.

A formal situation is a situation in which relationship between the speaker and the hearer(s) is formal, and an informal situation is a situation in which the human relationship is informal. The formal and informal forms of verbs / adjectives(i / na) and copula can be exemplified by the following chart:

Formal Forms	Informal Forms
<sup>い</sup> 行きます	行く
<sup>おお</sup> 大きいです	大きい
<sup>げんき</sup> 元気です	元気だ
<sup>がくせい</sup> 学生です	学生だ

Informal forms are required by some grammatical structures.

(⇒Appendix 4 (DBJG: 589–99))

Gr. 1 / Gr. 2 Verbs Gr. 1 and Gr. 2 Verbs are Japanese verb groups: If a verb's informal, negative, nonpast form has the [a] sound before nai as in (a), the verb belongs to Group 1, and if not, as in (b), it belongs to Group

GRAMMATICAL TERMS

2. There are only two irregular verbs (i.e., kuru 'come' and suru 'do') that belong to neither the Gr. 1 nor to the Gr. 2.

- (a) Gr. 1 Verbs: 切らない [kira - nai]
読まない, 書かない, 待たない, 死なない, 会わない, 話さない
- (b) Gr. 2 Verbs: 着ない [ki - nai], 食べない [tabe - nai]
いない, 寝ない, 起きない, 出来ない

Hearer The person who receives a spoken or written message. In this dictionary the term "hearer" is used in a broader sense to mean the person to whom the speaker or the writer communicates.

Imperative Form A conjugated verb form that indicates a command, as in Hanasel 'Talk!,' Tabero! 'Eat it!,' Shiro! 'Do it!' or Koi! 'Come!'

Indefinite Pronoun A pronoun which does not refer to something specifically. No in B's sentence in (a) is an indefinite pronoun. Here, no is used for jisho 'dictionary,' but does not refer to a specific dictionary.

- (a) A: どんな辞書が欲しいんですか。
(What kind of dictionary do you want?)
- B: 小さいのが欲しいんです。
(I want a small one.)

Indirect Object The indirect object of a verb is the recipient of the direct object of the main verb, and is marked by the particle ni. In (a), for example, the indirect object is Midori, a recipient of a scarf, which is the direct object of the verb yatta. It can be inanimate, as in (b). The main verbs which involve the indirect object are typically donative verbs (as in (a) and (b)).

- (a) 一郎はみどりにスカーフをやった。
(Ichiro gave a scarf to Midori.)
- (b) 台風は九州地方に多大の被害を与えた。
(The typhoon brought great damage to the Kyushu area.)

Informal Form (⇔ Formal / Informal Forms)

Intransitive Verb A verb which does not require a direct object. The action or state identified by the intransitive verb is related only to the subject of the sentence. For example, the verb hashitta ‘ran’ in (a) is an intransitive verb because the action of running is related only to the subject.

(cf. Transitive Verb)

- (a) <sup>すずき</sup>鈴木さんは<sup>はし</sup>走った。
(Mr. Suzuki ran.)

Intransitive verbs typically indicate movement (such as iku ‘go,’ kuru ‘come,’ aruku ‘walk,’ tobu ‘fly,’ noru ‘get onto’), spontaneous change (such as naru ‘become,’ kawaru ‘change,’ tokeru ‘melt,’ fukuramu ‘swell,’ hajimaru ‘begin’), human emotion (such as yorokobu ‘rejoice,’ kanashimu ‘feel sad,’ omou ‘feel’), and birth / death (such as umareru ‘be born,’ shinu ‘die’).

(cf. Na-type Adjective)

- (a) <sup>たか</sup>高い<sup>ほん</sup>本
(an expensive book)
<sup>つよ</sup>強い<sup>ひと</sup>人
(a strong person)

I-type adjectives are further subdivided into two types: i-type adjectives which end with shi-i and those with non-shi-i endings. Most adjectives with shi-i endings express human emotion (such as ureshii ‘happy,’ kanashii ‘sad,’ sabishii ‘lonely,’ kurushii ‘painful’); the non-shi-i adjectives are used for objective descriptions (such as kuroi ‘black,’ shiroi ‘white,’ hiroi ‘spacious,’ takai ‘high, expensive’).

Main Clause When a sentence consists of two clauses, one marked by a subordinate conjunction (such as kara, keredo, node, and noni) and the other not marked by a subordinate conjunction, the latter is called a main clause. The bold-faced parts of (a) and (b) are main clauses.

- (a) <sup>やまだ</sup>山田は<sup>あたま</sup>頭が<sup>いた</sup>痛いのに<sup>がっこう</sup>に<sup>い</sup>学校に行った。

(Yamada went to school, although he had a headache.)

- (b) <sup>かずこ</sup>和子は<sup>おつと</sup>夫が<sup>やさ</sup>優しいから<sup>こうふく</sup>幸福だ。

(Kazuko is happy, because her husband is kind.)

When a sentence has a relative clause, the non-relative clause part is also referred to as a main clause as in (c).

- (c) <sup>わたし</sup>私はきのう、<sup>ともだち</sup>友達から<sup>か</sup>借りた<sup>いへ</sup>ビデオを<sup>み</sup>家で見た。

(Yesterday I watched a video which I borrowed from my friend.)

- (a) <sup>しず</sup>静かな<sup>いえ</sup>家

(a quiet house)

<sup>げんき</sup>元気な<sup>ひと</sup>人

(a healthy person)

Na-type adjectives are very similar to nouns. Some na-type adjectives can be used as real nouns as shown in (b). All na-type adjectives behave as nouns when they are used before the copula da, as shown in (c).

- (b) <sup>けんこう</sup>健康は<sup>だいじ</sup>大事ですよ。

(Health is important, you know.)

cf. 健康な人

(a healthy person)

<sup>しんせつ</sup>ご親切は<sup>わす</sup>忘れません。

(I'll never forget your kindness.)

cf. 親切な人

(a kind person)

- (c) この人は<sup>がくせい</sup>元気 / 学生 {だ / です / だった / でした / じゃない / じゃありません / じゃなかった / じゃありませんでした}。

(This person {is / was / isn't / wasn't} healthy / a student.)

Nominalizer A nominalizer is a particle that makes a sentence into a noun phrase or clause. There are two nominalizers no and koto: the former represents the speaker's empathetic feeling towards an event / state expressed in the nominalized noun phrase / clause; the latter represents the speaker's relatively anti-empathetic feeling towards an event / state.

(⇒ no<sup>3</sup> (DBJG: 318–22); koto<sup>2</sup> (DBJG: 193–96))

Noun Phrase / Clause		Particle	Predicate
Sentence	Nominalizer

(Reading Japanese is difficult.)

The nominalized sentence can be used in any position where an ordinary noun or a noun phrase / clause can be used.

Participial Construction The construction which expresses an action accompanying situation expressed in the main clause. The participial construction often involves te-form, as in (a) and (b).

- (a) わたしはコートをついでハンガーにかけた。
(Taking off my coat, I hung it on a hanger.)
- (b) ソファに座って新聞を読んだ。
(Sitting on the sofa I read newspaper.)

Passive Sentence A sentence which describes an action by someone from the viewpoint of someone else who is affected by that action. (cf. Active Sentence) (a) and (b) are passive sentences.

- (a) わたしはビルにぶたれた。
(I was beaten by Bill.)
- (b) 太郎は秋子に泣かれた。
(lit. Taro was annoyed by the fact that Akiko cried. (= Taro was annoyed by Akiko's crying.))

Special Topics in Intermediate Japanese Grammar

1. Discourse Grammar

(1) Mechanism of Cohesion: Inter-sentential Reference

When two or more sentences are recognized as a cohesive sequence (i.e., discourse) rather than a collection of unrelated sentences, in many instances the discourse involves certain linguistic mechanisms to maintain cohesiveness between sentences.* Among such mechanisms, inter-sentential reference is one of the most common ones.**

Inter-sentential reference (ISR) is a kind of reference in which an element in a sentence refers to something or someone mentioned in another sentence. Specifically, when reference is made to an entity mentioned in a previous sentence, it is called “anaphoric reference” or “anaphora.” Anaphora is the most common ISR. Examples of anaphora are given in (1). In this discourse the bold-faced parts (i.e., anaphoric elements or anaphors) refer to persons or things mentioned in previous sentences.

- (1) これは清兵衛と云う子供と瓢箪との話である。この出来事以来清兵衛と

*Cohesiveness is also maintained by the information each sentence carries. In general, a sequence of sentences is recognized as a cohesive unit when the sentence contains a “common thread” in terms of the information they carry. For example, a set of sentences is recognized as a cohesive unit if the sentences have a common topic. Similarly, if sentences are put together to perform a common function (e.g., making a request), they are recognized as a cohesive unit.

**Another mechanism to maintain cohesiveness between sentences is the conjunction. As a matter of fact, conjunctions (or conjunction equivalents) such as those shown in (i) create a cohesive sentence sequence by connecting sentences directly.

- (i) そして (and (then)); そこで (therefore); しかし (however); 一方 (on the other hand); 例えば (for example); ついでながら (incidentally); その結果 (as the result of that)

(⇒ Appendix 4. Conjunctions)

瓢箪とは縁が断れてしまったが、間もなく清兵衛には瓢箪に代わる物が出
 来た。それは絵を描く事で、彼は嘗て瓢箪に熱中したように今はそれに 熱中している。

(志賀直哉『清兵衛と瓢箪』)

(This is a story about a child named Seibei and gourds. After this incident, the tie between Seibei and gourds was severed. However, he soon found something to substitute for gourds—painting. He is now as devoted to it as he once was to gourds. (Shiga Naoya: Seibei and the Gourds))

As seen in (1), various kinds of elements can appear as anaphors, including pronouns, repeated nouns, and related nouns. In addition, anaphors are ellipted in some situations.

A. Pronouns

Pronouns can be classified into two groups: personal pronouns (e.g., watashi
 'I,' kanojo 'she,' kare-ra 'they') and demonstrative pronouns (e.g., kore 'this,' sore-ra 'those,' soko 'that/the place').

Anaphoric personal pronouns are limited to third-person pronouns, including kare 'he,' kanojo 'she,' and their plural forms. (1) presents an example of kare.

Among demonstrative pronouns, only the so- and ko- series can be anaphoric. (1) gives examples of sore and (2) an example of kore.*

- (2) A社がM型ワープロの五パーセント値下げに踏み切った。これは、最近
 低下している同社のワープロシェアの巻き返しを狙ったもの(である)。

(Company A has decided to reduce the price of M-type word-processors by five percent. Their aim is to regain (lit. This is to aim at regaining) their recently declining share of the word-processor market.)

*Are 'that' can be used in conversation to refer to something which is known to both the speaker and the hearer, as in (i).

- (i) A: ここにあった英和辞典、知らない?
 (Do you know where the English-Japanese dictionary is which was here?)
 B: ああ、あれは今山田さんが使ってるよ。
 (Oh, that one; Yamada is using it now.)

B. Repeated Nouns

An anaphoric noun is, in many instances, a repetition of its antecedent.

Proper nouns

If an antecedent is a proper noun, the most direct way to refer to the same entity in a later sentence is to repeat the same proper noun. For example, in (1), Seibei is repeated in the second sentence.

Common nouns

When an antecedent is a common noun, the same noun may appear as an anaphor in certain situations. For example, if an antecedent refers to generic entities, the same noun can be repeated with no modifier (e.g., hyōtan 'gourds' in the second and third sentences in (1)). If an antecedent refers to a specific entity, on the other hand, the same noun may appear in later sentences either with or without a demonstrative adjective (i.e., sono 'that/the' or kono 'this'). A demonstrative adjective is necessary if the referent would be otherwise interpreted as non-anaphoric because of a lack of sufficient context to interpret it as anaphoric. For example, in (3) the apāto 'apartment' in the second sentence does not refer to the same apartment mentioned in the first sentence, while in (4) sono apāto 'that apartment' does refer to the same apartment mentioned in the first sentence.

- (3) 昨日ボストンのアパートを見た。ジョンも今日アパートを見た。
(I saw an apartment in Boston yesterday. John also saw an apartment today.)
- (4) 昨日ボストンのアパートを見た。ジョンも今日そのアパートを見た。
(I saw an apartment in Boston yesterday. John also saw that apartment today.)

In (5), on the other hand, there is sufficient context to interpret the kozukai 'janitor' in the second sentence as anaphoric; therefore, no demonstrative adjective is necessary.

- (5) さて、教員は清兵衛から取り上げた瓢箪を汚れた物でもあるかのように、捨てるように、年寄った学校の小使にやってもらった。小使はそれを持って帰って、くすぶった小さな自分の部屋の柱へ下げて置いた。

(志賀直哉『清兵衛と瓢箪』)

(Later, the teacher gave the gourd he had taken from Seibei to an old janitor as if it was a filthy object. The janitor took it home and hung it on a pillar in his small dingy room. (Shiga Naoya: Seibei and the Gourds))

When reference is made in a later paragraph, the anaphoric noun often appears with a relative clause which reiterates identifying information about the referent mentioned earlier. For example, in the story of Cinderella, one of Cinderella's shoes comes off when she runs down the stairs of the palace to hurry home. When this shoe is referred to in a later paragraph, the reference could look like (6).

- (6) シンデレラが階段で落として行った靴を手がかりに、王子様はシンデレラを探させました。

(Using the shoe Cinderella lost on the stairs as a clue, the prince had his men look for her.)

C. Related Nouns

Anaphoric reference often occurs with nouns (or noun phrases) which are not the same as but are related to their antecedents. There are three situations in which "related nouns" appear as anaphors:

- (a) Situations where an anaphor and its antecedent refer to the same entity (direct anaphora);
- (b) Situations where an anaphor refers to part of its antecedent's referent (semi-direct anaphora); and
- (c) Situations where an anaphor refers to an entity inferred from previous context (indirect anaphora).

Direct anaphora

In direct anaphora, reference can be made by nouns which refer to larger categories than their antecedents refer to. For example, in (7) the hana 'flower' in the second sentence refers to the sakura 'cherry (blossoms)' in the first sentence. In this case, a demonstrative adjective is mandatory.

- (7) 桜は日本のシンボルだ。【この / *ø】花はみんなに愛されている。

(Cherry blossoms are the symbol of Japan. They (lit. These flowers) are loved by everyone.)

Additional examples of direct anaphora can be seen in (8) and (9).

- (8) 昨日山田<sup>たず</sup>が訪<sup>き</sup>ねて来た。この男<sup>おとこ</sup>は私の<sup>こうこう</sup>高校時代の<sup>じだい</sup>クラスメートだった。
(Yamada came to see me yesterday. This guy was one of my classmates in my high school days.)
- (9) 山下<sup>やました</sup>かずひと<sup>かずひと</sup>のギターを<sup>き</sup>聞いた。この天才<sup>てんさい</sup>ギタリストは16歳<sup>さい</sup>の<sup>とき</sup>にヨーロッパ<sup>ヨーロッパ</sup>の<sup>こくさい</sup>三つの<sup>さん</sup>国際コンクールで優勝<sup>ゆうしょう</sup>した。
(I heard Kazuhito Yamashita play guitar (lit. Kazuhito Yamashita's guitar). This genius guitarist won three international competitions in Europe when he was sixteen.)

Semi-direct anaphora

In semi-direct anaphora, an anaphoric noun refers to part (or an element) of its antecedent's referent. For example, in (10), the yuka 'floor' in the second sentence refers to the floor of the apartment mentioned in the first sentence. In this case, the anaphor does not require a demonstrative adjective.

- (10) 昨日ボストンの<sup>アパート</sup>アパートを見た。床<sup>ゆか</sup>に少し傷<sup>きず</sup>があったが<sup>いい</sup>いいアパートだった。
(Yesterday I saw an apartment in Boston. Although there were some scratches on the floor, it was a good apartment.)

Indirect anaphora

In indirect anaphora, there is no explicit antecedent. The referent of an anaphor is inferred from a previous sentence(s). For example, in (11), the gen'in 'cause' in the second sentence does not refer to anything which is directly mentioned in the first sentence. Rather, it refers to something which is inferred from that sentence. In this case, the anaphor does not require a demonstrative adjective.

- (11) 昨日神戸<sup>こうべ</sup>の<sup>しょうがっこう</sup>小学校で<sup>かじ</sup>火事があった。警察<sup>けいさつ</sup>が<sup>げんいん</sup>今原因<sup>しん</sup>を調べている。
(Yesterday there was a fire at an elementary school in Kobe. The police are investigating the cause now.)

D. Anaphor ellipsis (Zero anaphora)

In some situations, anaphors are ellipted. Such anaphoric reference is called “zero anaphora.” This can be seen in (12).

- (12) 清兵衛が時々瓢箪を買って来る事は両親も知っていた。ø三四銭から十五銭位までの皮つきの瓢箪を十程も持っていたろう。 (Seibei's parents were aware that he bought gourds once in a while.
(志賀直哉『清兵衛と瓢箪』)

(He) had some ten gourds with skins costing from three or four to fifteen cents. (Shiga Naoya: Seibei and the Gourds))

In (12), Seibei wa or kare wa ‘he’ is ellipted in the second sentence. Because of this “invisible anaphora,” the two sentences in (12) form a cohesive sequence.

(2) Phenomena of Tense and Formality Switchings

A. Tense Switching

Usually a series of past events are narrated in the past tenses. But primarily in written Japanese discourse that narrates a past event, past tenses often switch to nonpast tenses. The following is a passage from a famous novel called Yama no Oto ‘The Sound of the Mountain’ by Yasunari Kawabata. Everything that is being described in this passage concerns past events. So the English native reader/writer, for example, expects the author to use nothing but the past tense.

- (1) [1]八月の十日前だが、虫が鳴いている。[2]木の葉から木の葉へ夜露の落ちるらしい音も聞こえる。[3]そうして、ふと信吾に山の音が聞こえた。[4]風はない。[5]月は満月に近く明るいが、しめっぽい夜気で、小山の上を描く木々の輪郭はばやけている。[6]しかし、風に動いていない。[7]鎌倉のいわゆる谷の奥で、波が聞こえる夜もあるから、信吾は海の音かと疑ったが、やはり山の音だった。[8]遠い風の音に似ているが、地鳴りとでもいう深い底力があった。[9]自分の頭の中で聞こえる

[1] It is ten days before the month of August, but insects are already crying. [2] The sound of night dew dropping from a leave to another is audible. [3] All of a sudden Shingo heard the sound of the mountain. [4] There is no wind. [5] The moon is almost a full moon and bright, yet the moist night air blurs the outline of the tree tops of the small mountain. [6] But the trees are not moving in the wind. [7] At the so-called inner part of the valley of Kamakura, some nights Shingo is able to hear the sound of waves, so he suspected that it was the sound of the sea, but it turned out to be the sound of the mountain. [8] It is like the distant sound of the wind, but it had deep power like that of the earth rumbling. [9] He feels as if it were in his head, so he thought it was his ears ringing and he shook his head. [10] The sound stopped. [11] After the sound stopped Shingo was overtaken by fear for the first time. [12] A chill ran through his spine as if the hour of his death had been proclaimed. [13] Shingo had tried to figure out objectively if it was the sound of the wind or the sound of waves or ringing in his ears, and he thought it was possible that there wasn't any sound. [14] But there was no doubt that he had heard the sound of the mountain.)

Logically speaking, the author could have written every sentence in the past tense. Nevertheless, the author sometimes used the past tense and sometimes the nonpast tense. In this passage, 5 sentences (i.e., Sentences 1, 2, 4, 5, 6) out of 14 sentences are in the nonpast tense shown by the double underline. (In the translation the original nonpast predicate is translated using the nonpast tense and italicized.) In other words, a switch from the past tense to the nonpast has occurred in those 5 sentences.

An examination of the 5 sentences in the nonpast tense reveals that these sentences describe a circumstance that surrounds Shingo, the main character of the story. The rest of the sentences (i.e., sentences 3, 7–14) describe in the past tense whatever Shingo did or felt in the given circumstances. To put it in general terms, tense switching is a strategy available to the writer to differentiate a stage and a set of chronological events that occur within that stage. The stage is certainly important in that it defines a space in which a drama develops, but it is less important than the drama itself. So, important, dramatic information is described in the past tense, whereas relatively unimportant circumstantial information is described in the nonpast tense. The use of such nonpast tenses has an effect of creating a vivid sense of immediateness for the reader.

A principle that appears to govern Tense Switching goes as follows:

Principle of Tense Switching

A part of a past event (often a state rather than an action) can be described using the nonpast tense, if the writer perceives it to be relatively unimportant circumstantial information that has no direct bearing upon the major story line.

B. Formality Switching

By formality switching is meant switching from formal style to informal style or less frequently switching from informal style to formal style. The latter, i.e., switching from informal style to formal style, occurs in spoken Japanese. The informal style is a suitable style to be used when the speaker / writer wants to express his feeling, his knowledge or his conviction in a straightforward manner. So, in a formal setting which requires the speaker / writer to use the formal style, the style can switch from formal to informal as shown in the following examples (2a, b, c).

- (2) a. 日本という国は外国人の目にはとても閉ざされた国という印象を
与えているんですね。日本に行けばガイジン、つまり、外の人と言
われ、お客様扱いに終始してしまう。なかなか親しい友人が出来
ない。同僚との付き合いも大変だ。会社の昇進にも限界がある。
とにかく、日本は、もっと、開かれた社会にならなければなりませ
んね。

(Japan is giving foreigners an impression of a country very much closed. Foreigners are called “gaijin,” that is to say, outsiders and they are always treated like guests. And they cannot make good friends easily. Association with colleagues is tough. There is also a limit to their promotion. Anyway, Japan has to become a society more open to foreigners.)

- b. 日本は犯罪が少ないですね。日本人が犯罪を犯そうとした場合、刑罰は別として、それを止める契機が二つある。女房、子供の顔が浮かぶ。会社のことが気になる。だから、悪いことが出来ないんですよ。

(There are not many crimes committed in Japan, you know. When a Japanese is about to commit a crime there are at least two factors that will deter him from committing it, aside from punishments. The faces of his wife and children come to his mind. He thinks of his company. That's why he cannot do evil things, you know.)

- c. いろいろの意味で生きることが困難な今日の日々を、あなたはどのように生きておられますか。生きることが困難なのは、何も今に始まったことではない。昔から、人生は、少なくともそれをまじめに受け取った人にとっては、いつも苦しみに満ちたものだったに違いありません。(……中略……) わたしたちの人生はまことに取るに足りない、小さなものであり、わたしたちの一人一人はまことに哀れな、つまらないもの、そして、時にはいたたまれないほどに醜いものです。しかし、だからといって、この人生、この自己以外にわたしたちは生きる場所はない。ですから、一回限りの人生、かけがえのない自己を大切にしようではありませんか。

(矢内原伊作『自己について』)

(How are you living your life these days when life is difficult in all sorts of ways? The difficulty of living has not just started now. From ancient times, human life must have been full of difficulties at least for those who dealt with it seriously. (. . . omitted . . .) Our lives are truly insignificant, such tiny things, and each one of us is truly miserable, mundane and sometimes unbearably ugly. But even so, we have no other place than ourselves in which we can live. So, shall we value this irreplaceable self in this life that we have but once?) (Isaku Yanaihara "On Self")

The speaker of both (2a) and (2b) is talking to a person in the rather formal situation of a round-table discussion. This is a situation where a formal style is required, but instead of using a formal style all the way, he has switched his style from formal to informal style as indicated by the double underlines.

The writer of (2c) employs formal style all the way with intermittent informal style. In (2c) there are two double-underlined predicates in which formality switching has taken place. In both cases the writer expresses something appended to what follows either in a coordinated or subordinated way. In fact, in both cases, the sentences that are in an informal style can turn into a coordinate clause or a subordinate clause like (3a) and (3b), respectively. Whatever is expressed in an appendix to the major clause is usually distanced from the hearer/reader, and therefore tends to be expressed usually in informal style. Also to be noted here is the statistical tendency for formality switching to occur when the sentence is a negative sentence.

- (3) a. 生きることが困難なのは, 何も今に始まったことではないのであ
って, 昔から, 人生は, 少なくともそれをまじめに受け取った人にと
っては, いつも苦しみに満ちたものだったに違いありません。
- b. しかし, だからといって, この人生, この自己以外にわたしたちは
生きる場所はないのだから, 一回限りの人生, かけがえのない自己 を大切にしようではありませんか。

An extreme case of formality switching is instanced by the following example.

- (4) 今日はこれからコンピュータチップのお話をします。まず, コンピュ
ータチップの構造ですが, (A bee stings the speaker's head) あっ, {痛
い / *痛いです} !

(Today I am going to give a talk on computer chips. First of all, regarding the structure of the chip, ouch!)

The speaker of (4) is giving a public talk in which he is required to use formal speech. However, at the point when he is stung by a bee, he automatically switches his style from formal to informal, because his expression is an exclamation which is a most straightforward expression of his physiological feeling.

Although much less frequent than formal-to-informal switching there are cases of informal-to-formal switching as shown in (5).

- (5) A: 僕とドライブに行かない?
(Don't you want to come for a drive with me?)
B: そうねえ、どうしようかしら。
(Mm, I wonder what I should do.)
A: ドライブに行こうよ、ね。
(You must come with me.)
B: あなた、運転が荒っぽいでしょ。
(You are a reckless driver, aren't you?)
A: そんなことはありません。君とドライブする時は、優しく運転します。
(Not at all. When I go for a drive with you, I will drive considerably.)

In this example, a couple is talking very informally. The speaker A wants to persuade B to come for a drive with him, but the persuasion has not been successful, so by switching the style he wants to teasingly indicate that their relationship does not deserve intimate, informal style. Therefore, he intentionally switches his style from informal to formal.

The Principle of Formality Switching

Formal style may be switched to informal style when the speaker / writer wants to express his/her feeling, knowledge or conviction in a straightforward manner.

2. Newspaper Grammar

Japanese newspapers use certain sentence forms, phrases, and words which are not common to other writing.

(1) Headlines

A. Ellipsis of particles and verbals

In newspaper headlines the topic marker wa and case markers are often dropped. (Particularly, ellipsis of the subject marker ga and the direct object marker o is common.) Predictable verbals are also dropped.

Examples:

- (1) a. 地球資源衛星(が)軌道に(乗る)
(Earth resource satellite goes into orbit)
- b. 公立高(が)授業料(を)値上げ(する)
(Public high schools to raise tuition)
- c. 東アジア重視(が)鮮明に(なる)
デュポンジャパン(が)初の日本人社長(を)(任命する)
(Emphasis on East Asia becomes clear / Du Pont Japan appoints first Japanese president)
- d. 政府は土地価格の問題解決に努力を(せよ) [社説]
(Government should make an effort to solve land price problems)
[Editorial]

(For examples of wa-omission, see (4a) and (4b).)

Note: As seen in (1d), particles are not dropped in imperative sentences.

B. Ellipsis of no

The noun connector no is often dropped in long noun compounds (particularly, in those which contain more than one no).

Examples:

- (2) a. 企業(の)交際費(は)5兆6,274億円(に)(上る)——昨年分

(Companies' social expenses reached (lit. reach) ¥5,627.4 billion last year)

- b. 90年の世界(の)ビール消費量(を)
キリンビール(が)発表(する)

(Kirin announces the world's beer consumption in '90)

C. Suru-verbs

The suru of suru-verbs is usually dropped.

Examples:

- (3) a. 米(が), フロン(を)95年(に)全廃(する)
(US to totally abolish CFCs (chloro-fluorocarbons) in '95)
- b. 衛星事業(が)海外市場(の)開拓に着手(する)
(Satellite industry begins foreign market development)

D. Da after N and Adj(na)stem

Da after nouns and na-adjective stems is usually dropped.

Examples:

- (4) a. 交通死者(は)1万1,105人(だ) — 昨年度
(11,105 killed in traffic accidents last year)
- b. プラント輸出(は)東南アジア向け(が)好調(だ)
(Plant export to SE Asia flourishes)

E. Tense

In headlines past events are represented using the nonpast tense (e.g., (1a), (1c)). Because the nonpast tense also represents future events, whether an event is a future one or a past one is known from other headline elements (e.g., (2a), (3a)) or from the text (e.g., (1b), (3b)).

F. Abbreviations

- a. Country names

Country names are often abbreviated.

Examples:

- (5) 日 (Japan); 米 (America); 英 (Great Britain); 仏 (France); 独 (Germany); 伊 (Italy); 加 (Canada); 豪 (Australia); 中 (China); 台 (Taiwan); 韓 (Korea); 南ア (South Africa)

b. Groups, companies, institutions

The complete names of groups, companies, and institutions are often abbreviated.

Examples:

- (6) 安保理 = 安全保障理事会 (the Security Council)
 公取委 = 公正取引委員会 (the Fair Trade Commission)
 都銀 = 都市銀行 (city banks)
 東電 = 東京電力 (Tokyo Power Company)
 京大 = 京都大学 (Kyoto University)

Note: Some abbreviations in this category are commonly used in spoken as well as written language.

c. Special abbreviations

Some English acronyms and letters are commonly used in headlines to save space.

Examples:

- (7) EC (European Community); IC (integrated circuit); KO (knock-out); NY株 (New York stocks); W杯 (World Cup); 初V (first victory)

(2) Bodies

A. Suru-verbs

The conjugated part of a suru-verb connective form (i.e., -shi) is often dropped. -suru or -shita of a suru-verb in sentence-final position is also dropped in some situations.

Examples:

- (8) 昨年、全国の医療機関で入院または外来で診療を受けた患者は、一日当たり約八百三十六万人と国民の十四・八人に一人に上り、前回の昭和六十二年調査からさらに増加(し)、毎年約一兆円伸び二十一兆円にも達した医療費の膨張を数字で裏付けていることが、二十八日厚生省がまとめた平成二年患者調査で分かった。(中略)調査は三年に一度実施され、今回は全国で計一万二千五百四十四カ所の病院、診療所、歯科診療所を無作為に抽出(した)。十月十六日～十八日のうちの一日を調査日に指定(し)、外来や入院患者の状況を調べ全国推計した。

(東京新聞12. 29. 91朝刊)

(A survey of patients in 1990 compiled by the Ministry of Health and Welfare on December 28, has revealed that the number of patients who had medical examinations at medical institutions in the nation last year as either hospitalized patients or outpatients was about 8,360,000 (one in every 14.8 Japanese) a day—a further increase since the last survey in 1987. The survey also shows through figures the soaring medical and medicare expenses, which have increased by ¥1 trillion every year since 1987, reaching ¥21 trillion. . . This survey is conducted once every three years. In this survey a total of 12,054 hospitals, clinics, and dental clinics were randomly selected and their patients were surveyed on one of the designated dates from October 16–18.)

Note: Because the stems of most suru-verbs are also used as nouns, the parts of speech must be carefully identified when -shi is omitted.

B. Da after nouns

Da after nouns is often dropped, the result being a noun-ending sentence.

Examples:

- (9) a. 大蔵省と文部省は二十一日午前、国立大学の授業料を年額三万六千円引き上げることで合意した。1993年四月の入学者から適用する。私立大学との格差が鮮明になってきたうえ、理工系の研究設備の近代化が急務になってきたことなどが値上げの理由(だ)。

(日本経済新聞12. 21. 91夕刊)

(The Ministry of Finance and the Ministry of Education agreed on the morning of the 21st that the tuition of national universities will be raised by ¥36,000 a year. The new tuition will come into effect from April 1993. The reasons for the raise include the obvious gap between the tuition of private universities and that of national universities and the urgent need to modernize facilities for science and engineering research.)

- b. 平成二年度に全国の高校で起きた校内暴力は、四百九十校、千四百十九件に上り、いずれも過去最悪を記録したことが二十五日、文部省の「児童生徒問題行動実態調査」で分かった。特に教師に対する暴力が急増しているのが特徴(だ)。

(日本経済新聞12. 26. 91朝刊)

(“A Survey of Problematic Behaviors by K-12 Students” released by the Ministry of Education on December 25 has revealed that the number of cases of school violence which took place at high schools across the country in 1990 reached 1,419, involving 490 schools. Both figures are the worst on record. One of the characteristics is that there is a sharp rise in violence towards teachers.)

3. Conversational Strategies

In order to become proficient in advanced Japanese conversation it is necessary to be able to use conversational strategies. They include (A) Aizuchi ('back-channel' responses), (B) Fillers, (C) Rephrasing, (D) Topic Shift and Topic Recovery and (E) Avoidance of Decisive Expressions, among others.

A. Aizuchi ('back-channel' responses)

Aizuchi ('back-channel' responses) is an interjection to indicate that the hearer is involved with what the speaker has said up to that point of the conversation. The most common aizuchi expressions include はい 'yes,' ええ 'yes,' うん 'yeah,' そう 'oh, yeah?,' そうですね 'Is that so?,' へえ 'wow,' そうですね 'that's right,' ほんとう(に) 'really,' それで 'so?,' それから 'and then?' Examples are given below. (Aizuchi expressions are given in double parentheses.) In Japanese the hearer uses such aizuchi now and then at phrase-final and sentence-final positions. Phrase endings are often signaled by the particle 'ne.'

- (1) [A male superior talking to his subordinate] ちょっと、<sup>あす</sup>明日、<sup>ほんこん</sup>香港に飛
ばなくちゃならないんでね、((はい)) この<sup>ほうこくしょ</sup>報告書ね、((はい)) あさってま
でに<sup>かんせい</sup>完成しておいてくれないかね。((はい))
(lit. I have to fly to Hong Kong tomorrow ((yes)), so complete this report ((yes)) by the day after tomorrow, will you?)
- (2) [A male speaker talking to his male friend] 暮れから<sup>しょうがつ</sup>正月の<sup>なのか</sup>七日にかけ
てね、<sup>オーストラリア</sup>オーストラリアの<sup>シドニー</sup>シドニーに出かけてね、((へえ)) <sup>なつ</sup>真夏の<sup>たいよう</sup>太陽の
<sup>もと</sup>下で、<sup>およ</sup>泳いできたんだ。((そう))
(lit. From the end of the year till January 7, I went to Sydney in Australia ((wow!)) I swam under the midsummer sunshine. ((oh, yeah?)))
- (3) [A female speaker talking to her female friend] 昨日<sup>きのう</sup>銀座を<sup>あち</sup>歩いていた
らね、((うん)) <sup>まり子</sup>万里子を見かけたのよ。((ほんとに)) それで、<sup>こゑ</sup>声をかけた
らね、((うん)) <sup>し</sup>知らん<sup>かお</sup>顔をしてそっぽ向いちゃったの。((ええ、ほんと
(Yesterday when I was walking on the Ginza street ((yeah)) I saw Mariko ((really?)) So I called her. ((Yeah)) She pretended not to recognize me and looked the other way ((Oh, yeah?)))
- (4) [A male superior to his subordinate] このごろとても<sup>いそが</sup>忙しいだろう。

(You know I've been terribly busy these days. (right)) So, I wanted to make a trip for a change. And I went to a travel agent (yes), but I couldn't get the ticket easily. (Is that right?) So in the end I gave up the idea. (Is that right?))

It should be noted that in English aizuchi (typically 'uh-huh' or 'yeah') is seldom used. In fact, frequent use of aizuchi creates an impression that the hearer is not paying serious attention to what is being said. Not only verbally, but also nonverbally, the Japanese hearer nods very frequently to indicate his / her involvement with what the speaker has to say.

B. Fillers

While aizuchi is a strategy available for the hearer, a filler is a strategy available for the speaker.

First, the particle ne in (5) and (6) is a typical filler that indicates the speaker's attempt to involve the hearer. (5) is an example of informal speech, and (6) is an example of formal speech in which ne is preceded by desu. This use of desu ne is most commonly used in business Japanese.

- (5) 昨日<sup>けふ</sup>ね、トムが突然<sup>とつぜん</sup>アメリ<sup>あ</sup>カ<sup>か</sup>からや<sup>き</sup>っ<sup>て</sup>来<sup>き</sup>てね、僕<sup>ぼく</sup>の<sup>うち</sup>家<sup>いえ</sup>に一<sup>ひと</sup>晩<sup>ばん</sup>泊<sup>とく</sup>ま<sup>った</sup>んだよ。

(lit. Yesterday, y'know, Tom suddenly came here from the States, y'know, and stayed overnight at my house.)

- (6) これが<sup>せんじつ</sup>すね、先<sup>せん</sup>日<sup>じつ</sup>お話<sup>はな</sup>して<sup>はな</sup>お<sup>も</sup>た<sup>ら</sup>し<sup>た</sup>新<sup>しん</sup>しい<sup>し</sup>ソフ<sup>つか</sup>ト<sup>と</sup>でして、もし、お時<sup>じ</sup>間<sup>かん</sup>が<sup>あ</sup>り<sup>ま</sup>し<sup>た</sup>ら<sup>う</sup>で<sup>す</sup>ね、試<sup>し</sup>験<sup>けん</sup>的<sup>てき</sup>に、お使<sup>つか</sup>い<sup>く</sup>だ<sup>さ</sup>る<sup>と</sup>あ<sup>り</sup>が<sup>た</sup>い<sup>ん</sup>です<sup>が</sup>。

(This is the new software I mentioned the other day, and if you have time I'd appreciate it if you could use it on an experimental basis.)

However, too many ne's in a single sentence makes the sentence very awkward, as shown in (7).

- (7) ??? 僕<sup>ぼく</sup>は<sup>ね</sup>、今<sup>けふ</sup>日<sup>に</sup>ね、成<sup>なり</sup>田<sup>た</sup>空<sup>くう</sup>港<sup>こう</sup>に<sup>ね</sup>、友<sup>とも</sup>達<sup>だち</sup>を<sup>ね</sup>、迎<sup>むか</sup>えに<sup>ね</sup>、車<sup>くるま</sup>で<sup>ね</sup>、行<sup>い</sup>

(??? Today, y'know, I, y'know, went to Narita Airport, y'know, by car, y'know, to pick up my friend, y'know.)

Secondly, the filler anō is used to signal the speaker's hesitation about saying something embarrassing, as in (8a). In (8b) anō is used to signal the speaker's search for the right word or phrase. Too many anō's in a single sentence sounds very awkward as shown in (8c).

(8) a. A: どうしたんですか。

(What happened?)

B: あのう, 財布を忘れてしまったんです。

(Uhh . . . , I forgot my wallet, you know.)

b. どこだっけ, あのう, 昨日買って来た本は。

(Where is it? Eh . . . I mean the book I bought yesterday.)

c. * あのう, 昨日, あのう, 母が, あのう, 京都からやって来て, あのう, 久しぶりに, あのう, 話して, あのう, 帰りました。

(Ah, uh, yesterday, y'know, my mother, y'know, came from Kyoto, y'know, talked with me after a long while, y'know, and went home, y'know.)

Thirdly, the phrase 'nan to iu X deshita ka' 'What was X called?' in (9) becomes 'nan te iu X datta kke' in informal speech. The phrase can be used whenever the speaker has forgotten an exact name.

(9) 新宿に有名な本屋がありますね, 何という本屋でしたか, ああそうだ, 紀伊国屋だ。あそこで, 日本の経済の本を四冊買いました。

(There is a famous bookstore in Shinjuku—what was the name? . . . Oh yeah, Kinokuniya. I bought four books on the Japanese economy there.)

Fourthly, the interjection ēto used in (10) is used when the speaker is trying to remember something. Just like the case of anō, too many ēto's in a single sentence makes it very awkward.

(10) ロシア共産主義が崩壊したのは, ええと, 1991年の十二月でした, たしか。

(The fall of Russian communism was, let's see, December of 1991, if I remember correctly.)

Fifthly, the phrase 'nan to ittara ii deshō (ka)' in (11) and its informal equivalent 'nan to ittara ii ka na/ne' are used when the speaker is looking for the right expression.

- (11) 最近<sup>さいきん</sup>の世界的な<sup>せかいてき</sup>思考傾向<sup>しこうけいこう</sup>は、何<sup>い</sup>と言<sup>い</sup>ったらいいのでしょうか、ボーダーレス<sup>ボーダーレス</sup>の思考<sup>しこう</sup>なんですね。

(The recent tendency in world ideology is, how shall I put it? Borderless thinking.)

Sixthly, the interjection mā is used primarily to avoid making a definite statement, as shown below.

- (12) a. A: この大学<sup>だいがく</sup>は学生数<sup>がくせいすう</sup>はどのぐらいですか。
B: まあ、一万五千人<sup>いちまんごせんにん</sup>ぐらいでしょうか。
(Somewhere around 15,000, I suppose.)
- b. A: 最近<sup>さいきん</sup>はお元気<sup>げんき</sup>ですか。
(Have you been in good health lately?)
B: まあ、そうですね。
(I guess so.)
- c. 日本<sup>にほん</sup>食<sup>しょく</sup>は、まあ、何でも食べますが、納豆<sup>なっとう</sup>だけはどうにもおいが
(I can eat practically all Japanese food, but natto (= fermented soybeans) has too strong a smell for me and I don't like it.)

C. Rephrasing

Just as native speakers of Japanese know how to rephrase words using other explanatory expressions when they cannot recall the most suitable words, intermediate learners of Japanese, too, should start to learn how to rephrase words they don't know or cannot remember. By doing so embarrassing pauses can be avoided. A common way to rephrase a noun is by means of a noun modification, as shown in (13a, b).

- (13) a. [The speaker A cannot remember / doesn't know the word geta, traditional footwear in Japan.]

(You know the stuff Japanese people put on when they wear kimono—what do they call it?)

B: ああ、<sup>げ</sup>下駄のことだね。

(Oh, you mean geta?)

- b. [The speaker cannot remember / doesn't know the word genkan, Japanese version of a foyer.]

(In a Japanese house, ah, what do you call it? The place where people take off their shoes before entering the house, that's an interesting space, you know.)

When a word that needs rephrasing is a verb or an adjective, the speaker can rephrase it by using more basic words or phrases, as shown in (14a, b).

- (14) a. [The speaker cannot remember / doesn't know the verb hōsōsuru 'to broadcast'.]

(Is this FM classic music program broad, broad, ah, can we hear it every day at the same time?)

- b. [The speaker cannot remember / doesn't know the na-adjective nihonteki(na) 'Japan-like'.]

あの<sup>じょせい</sup>女性<sup>おんな</sup>は日本人<sup>にほんじん</sup>, 日本人<sup>にほんじん</sup>, 日本人らしい<sup>おんない</sup>雰囲気<sup>き</sup>がありますね。

(That lady has a Japanese, Japanese, Japanese-like atmosphere, doesn't she?)

When the speaker wants to get the word which he cannot remember / doesn't know, he can use ~ koto / hito / yōsu, etc. o nan to iimasu ka, as shown in (15a, b).

- (15) a. [The speaker cannot remember / doesn't know the verb nesugosu 'oversleep'.]

A: 朝、予定より遅くまで寝ることを何と言いますか。

(What do you say when you sleep longer than you planned in the morning?)

B: 「寝過ぎ」と言います。

(We say nesugosu.)

- b. [The speaker cannot remember / doesn't know the adjective gaikōteki 'social'.]

A: 人と話すのが大好きで、どこへでも積極的に出かけて行く人のことを何と言いますか。

(What do you call a person who loves to talk with people and goes out willingly no matter where it is?)

B: 「外向的」と言います。

(We call it gaikōteki.)

D. Topic Shift and Topic Recovery

In any language the speaker cannot shift the topic of conversation abruptly; there are ways to signal a topic shift. Some of the most common Japanese ways to signal a topic shift are given below.

- (16) a. ところで
(By the way)
- b. 話は違いますが,
(lit. The story is different, but . . .)
- c. ちょっと話がそれますが,
(lit. The story deviates a little bit, but . . .)
- d. 話題が変わりますが,
(lit. The topic is going to change, but . . .)
- e. Xと言えば / Xって(言えば)
(Speaking of X)

When the speaker wants to get back to the former topic, he can signal his desire to recover the old topic. Some of the standard ways to signal it are as follows:

- (17) a. さっき X って言ったけどさ [highly informal]
(A while ago I / you said X, but)
- b. さっきの話ですが / さっきの X の話ですが
(Let me get back to the topic / X that we were talking about a while ago.)
- c. 先ほど申し上げたことですが [very formal, polite]
先ほどの件ですけど [formal, polite]
(Regarding what I told you a while ago)

E. Avoidance of Decisive Expressions

To a far greater degree Japanese language uses indecisive expressions especially when the speaker/writer expresses his own opinions. The strategy that Japanese native speakers use to make their statements less forceful and more humble is the use of an indirect expression at the end of the sentence. Suppose that the speaker/writer wants to state “Japanese people avoid using decisive expressions,” he could say or write very straightforwardly as in (18) or indirectly as in (19) and (20).

- (18) 日本人は断定を避ける(よ)。
(Japanese avoid using decisive expressions.)
- (19) a. 日本人は断定を避けるの {では / じゃ} ありませんか。
(Isn't it the case that Japanese avoid using decisive expressions?)
- b. 日本人は断定を避けるの {では / じゃ} ないでしょうか。
(I wonder if Japanese wouldn't avoid using decisive expressions.)
- c. 日本人は断定を避けるの {では / じゃ} ないだろうか。
(I wonder if Japanese wouldn't avoid using decisive expressions.)
- d. 日本人は断定を避けるの {では / じゃ} なだろうか。
(I wonder if Japanese wouldn't avoid using decisive expressions.)

sions.)

- (20) a. 日本人は断定を避けると思います。
(I think that Japanese avoid using decisive expressions.)
- b. 日本人は断定を避けると思います {が / けど}。
(I think that Japanese avoid using decisive expressions, but . . .)
- c. 日本人は断定を避けるの {では / じゃ} ないかと思います。
(I wonder if Japanese wouldn't avoid using decisive expressions.)
- d. 日本人は断定を避けるの {では / じゃ} ないかと思います {が / けど}。
(I wonder if Japanese wouldn't avoid using decisive expressions, but . . .)
- e. 日本人は断定を避けるのではないかと思います {が / けど}。
(It seems to me that Japanese will avoid using decisive expressions, but . . .)
- f. 私には日本人は断定を避けるのではないかと思われるのですが、
いかがなものでしょうか。
(It seems to me that Japanese will avoid using decisive expressions, but what would you say?)

In (19) and (20), in which the same core statement is made, the longer the sentence is, the less decisive the expression is / tends to be. When a Japanese speaker opposes what his superior has said his expression definitely has to avoid straightforward expressions. There are some set phrases that can be prefixed to the speaker's statement of an opposing view, as shown in (21).

- (21) a. そうかなあ。[informal]
(Well, I doubt it. (lit. I wonder if that is so.))
- b. それでもいい(です)けど。
(That's fine, too, but . . .)
- c. それはそう {です / だ} けど。
(That's true, but . . .)

- d. もちろんそうなん {です / だ} けどね。
(Of course it is true, but . . .)
- e. 言っていることは分かるん {です / だ} けどね。
(I understand what you are saying, but . . .)
- f. 反対<sup>はんたい</sup>している {のでは / んじゃ} ないんですが。
(I'm not disagreeing with you, but . . .)
- g. 別に<sup>べつ</sup>反対するつもりはないんですが。
(I don't have any particular intention to disagree with you, but . . .)
- h. お言葉<sup>ことば</sup>を返<sup>かえ</sup>すようで何ですが… [highly formal and polite]
(lit. Sorry to return words to you, but . . .)
- i. 確<sup>たしか</sup>におっしゃる通<sup>とお</sup>りだとは思いますが, しかし… [formal, polite]
(What you have said is indeed correct, but . . .)

(3) Sentence-initial element	Pre-verbal element	Verbal

As (3) illustrates, a verbal is either a verb, an adjective, or a noun with a copula (e.g., sensei da) and sometimes involves other elements such as auxiliaries (e.g., (Vte iru)) and/or sentence particles (e.g., ka, yo). A pre-verbal element is either an NP (i.e., noun or noun equivalent) with a particle(s) or an adverbial (i.e., adverb or adverb equivalent). Verbals indicate either an action or state while pre-verbal elements indicate such things as subject, direct object, time, location, and manner. Simple sentences sometimes contain sentence-initial elements such as sentence-initial conjunctions (e.g., shikashi 'but') and/or sentential adverbials (e.g., omoshiroi koto ni 'interestingly'). As seen later, more complex sentences, such as compound sentences and complex sentences, are composed of two or more simple sentences which have the basic structures shown in (3).

B. Key Elements

The key elements of sentences are verbals, NPs, pre-verbal adverbials, and sentence-initials.

1. Verbals

In sentence-final position various forms of verbs, adjectives, and NPs with a copula appear. They are sometimes followed by auxiliaries and/or sentence particles. (4) provides some examples.

*In terms of position, NP-(Prt.)-wa normally appears before other pre-verbal elements and sometimes even before a sentence-initial element. However, when NP-(Prt.)-wa is the sentence subject, direct object, etc., we consider this element to be pre-verbal rather than sentence-initial because, unlike other sentence-initial elements, NP-(Prt.)-wa modifies the verbal. (See 4.3. Sentential topic.)

- (4) a. <sup>かれ</sup>彼は<sup>な</sup>泣いた。
(He cried.)
- b. 私<sup>い</sup>も<sup>き</sup>行<sup>たい</sup>き たい。
V Aux.
(I want to go, too.)
- c. <sup>やす</sup>安い<sup>です</sup> だ<sup>か</sup>。
Adj(i) Prt.
(Is (it) cheap?)
- d. <sup>べんり</sup>便利<sup>な</sup> よう<sup>だ</sup>だ ね。
Adj(na) Aux. Prt.
(It seems convenient, doesn't it?)
- e. <sup>かのじょ</sup>彼女は<sup>せんせい</sup>先生 <sup>だった</sup> だ<sup>そう</sup>だ。*
N Cop. Aux.
(I heard that she was a teacher.)

2. NPs

As seen in (3), NPs appear as either pre-verbal elements (with a particle) or verbal elements (with a copula). There are varieties of NP structures, as seen below. Long and complex sentences often include large NPs composed of NPs with different types of structures; therefore, understanding these structural variations is essential for accurate sentence structure analysis.

2.1. Nouns / Pronouns

Single nouns, pronouns, and compound nouns are in this category.

Examples:

- (5) <sup>ほん</sup>本 (book); <sup>やまだ</sup>山田さん (Mr. Yamada); 私 (I); <sup>こ</sup>これ (this); <sup>にゅうがくしけんせいど</sup>入 学試験制度 (entrance examination system)

---

*When certain auxiliaries follow an NP with a copula, the copula drops, as in (i).

- (i) <sup>かのじょ</sup>彼女は<sup>せんせい</sup>先生 <sup>かも知れない</sup> かも<sup>し</sup>知<sup>れない</sup>。
N Aux.
(She might be a teacher.)

2.2. Pre-nominal element + Noun

There are several patterns in this category.

2.2.1. Demonstrative adjective + Noun

- (6) この本 (this book); あの学生 (that student); こんな辞書 (such a dictionary; a dictionary like this)

2.2.2. Adjective + Noun

- (7) 難しい宿題 (difficult homework); きれいなドレス (a pretty dress); 普通の家 (an ordinary house)*; 安くて便利なアパート (a cheap and convenient apartment)

2.2.3. Noun (+ Prt.) の Noun

- (8) a. 東京の地下鉄
(the subway system in Tokyo)
b. 鈴木さんのお父さんの会社
(Mr. Suzuki's father's company)
c. 先生からの手紙
(a letter from my teacher)
d. 漢字, カタカナなどの問題
(problems such as kanji and katakana)

(⇒ no<sup>1</sup> (DBJG: 312–15))

2.2.4. {Noun / Verb} + Compound particle (pre-nominal form) + Noun

- (9) a. 日本語文法に関する論文
(a paper on Japanese grammar)
b. (この仕事を)するに当たっての注意 (precautions before doing (this job))

---

*There are a handful of adjectives that have prenominal forms ending with no rather than i (i-adjectives) or na (na-adjectives). More examples:

- (i) 遠くの (distant); 近くの (nearby); 多くの (many); 一定の (constant); 最新の (the newest)

2.2.5. Relative clause + Noun*

- (10) a. (これは)<sup>ともこ</sup>友子が<sup>つく</sup>作ったケーキ(だ。)
 ((This is) a cake which Tomoko made.)
- b. 私の<sup>いちばんす</sup>一番好きな<sup>きつ きょく か</sup>作曲家(はベートーベンだ。)
 (The composer that I like the most (is Beethoven.))
 (⇒ Relative Clause (DBJG: 376–80))

2.2.6. Noun/Sentence という Noun

- (11) a. 鈴木という学生
 (a student named Suzuki)
- b. 日本語はあいまいな<sup>ことば</sup>言葉だという<sup>かんが</sup>考え(は<sup>めづら</sup>珍しくない。)**
 (The idea that Japanese is an ambiguous language (is not uncommon.))
 (⇒ ~ to iu (DBJG: 486–87))

2.2.7. Sentence + Nominalizer

- (12) a. <sup>みつこ</sup>光子がピアノを<sup>ひ</sup>弾いているの(を<sup>き</sup>聞いた。)
 ((I heard) Mitsuko playing the piano.)
 (⇒ no<sup>3</sup> (DBJG: 318–22))
- b. ジョーンズさんが<sup>きょうく</sup>今日来ること(を知らなかった。)
 ((I didn't know) that Mr. Jones was coming today.)
 (⇒ koto (DBJG: 193–96))

*In Japanese, restrictive relative clauses and non-restrictive relative clauses are not distinguished by form. For example, the noun phrase in (i) is ambiguous.

- (i) よく<sup>はたら</sup>働く日本人
 ((1) the Japanese, who work hard; (2) Japanese people who work hard)
 A proper context is necessary to make this phrase unambiguous.

**There are some variations of “S to iu N,” as in (i).

- (i) 日本語はあいまいな言葉だ {といった / というような / とかいう} 考え
 (such ideas that Japanese is an ambiguous language)

2.3. Noun と Noun

Two or more nouns are connected with noun connecting particles such as to and ya to form a larger noun equivalent. A comma can also be used to connect nouns. Examples:

- (13) a. 漢字<sup>かんじ</sup>とカタカナ(と)
(kanji and katakana)
(⇒ to<sup>1</sup> (DBJG: 473–76))
- b. 皿<sup>さら</sup>やナイフやフォーク(や)
(plates, knives, and forks (among others))
(⇒ ya (DBJG: 536–38))
- c. 天ぷら<sup>てんぷら</sup>とかさしみとか (tempura, sashimi, and so on)
- d. アメリカ, ドイツ, フランスなど
(America, Germany, France, etc.)
- e. ペン<sup>ペン</sup>か鉛筆<sup>えんぴつ</sup>(か)
(a pen or a pencil)
- f. 日本語<sup>にほんご</sup>, 韓国語<sup>かんこくご</sup>, または中国語<sup>ちゅうごくご</sup>
(Japanese, Korean, or Chinese)

2.4. Embedded interrogative sentences

An interrogative sentence embedded in another sentence is a noun equivalent, as in (14).

- (14) a. 誰<sup>だれ</sup>がそれをするか(が問題<sup>もんだい</sup>だ。)
(Who will do that (is the question.))
- b. 読書<sup>どくしょ</sup>がいかにか<sup>いかに</sup>大切<sup>たいせつ</sup>か(を教<sup>おし</sup>える必要<sup>ひつよう</sup>がある。)
((It is necessary to teach) how important reading is.)

3. Pre-verbal adverbials

There are several kinds of words and phrases which function as pre-verbal adverbials.*

3.1. Adverbs / Adverbial nouns

- (15) ゆっくり (slowly); 今日 (today)

3.2. Adverbial forms of adjectives

- (16) 早く (quickly); 静かに (quietly)

3.3. Adverbial forms of auxiliary adjectives

- (17) 分かりやすく (in an easy-to-understand fashion); 悲しそうに (sadly)

3.4. Quantifiers

- (18) a. たくさん(食べる)
((eat) a lot)
b. (ビールを)三本(飲む)
((drink) three (beers))

3.5. Phonomimes, phenomimes, and psychomimes

- (19) a. (犬が)ワンワン(鳴く)
((a dog) bowwows)
b. (日本語を)すらすら(読む)
((read Japanese) easily)
c. おどおど(する)
((be) nervous)

3.6. Quotation + と**

- (20) a. 「おはよう」と(言う)
((say) "Good morning")

---

*The contrastive wa may be affixed to pre-verbal adverbials.

**A quotation can be a complete sentence or part of a sentence.

- b. 難しいと(思う)
 ((think) that s.t. is difficult)

(⇔ to<sup>3</sup> (DBJG: 478–80))

3.7. Noun / Verb + Compound particle (pre-verbal form)

- (21) a. 日本の文化について(話す)
 ((talk) about Japanese culture)
- b. (年を)とるにつれて(記憶力が衰える。)
 (As one grows old, (one's memory fails.))

3.8. Vte

- (22) 歩いて (on foot); 急いで (hurriedly)

(⇔ -te (DBJG: 464–67))

3.9. Vmasu + に

- (23) (友達に)会いに(来た)
 ((came) to see (s.o.'s friend))

(⇔ ni<sup>5</sup> (DBJG: 297–99))

4. Sentence-initial elements

Sentence-initial elements modify the clause which follows. They include sentence-initial conjunctions, sentence adverbials, sentential topics, and sentence-initial clauses. Sentence-initial clauses are elements of complex sentences. (See E. Complex Sentences.)

4.1. Sentence-initial conjunctions

Some conjunctions appear in the sentence-initial position.

- (24) a. 確かにこれは難問だ。しかし、解決策はあるはずだ。
 (This is truly a difficult problem. But there should be a way to solve it.)
- b. 私の仕事は私一人でするには大きすぎた。そこで、何人かの友達に応援を頼んだ。
 (That job was too big for me to do by myself, so I asked for help from some of my friends.)

4.2. Sentence adverbials

Sentence adverbials are usually phrases, as seen in (25).

- (25) a. <sup>おもしろ</sup>面白いことに, <sup>じょうきゅう</sup>上級のクラスの方が出来が<sup>はう</sup>悪<sup>で</sup>かった。
(Interestingly, the advanced class did a poorer job.)
- b. うかつにも, カメラ<sup>も</sup>を持って来るのを<sup>わす</sup>れた。
(It was stupid that I forgot to bring my camera.)

4.3. Sentential topics

Unlike the pre-verbal NP-(Prt.) marked by wa, sentential topics modify the entire sentence which follows.

- (26) a. <sup>きょうこ</sup>京子は<sup>ちちおや</sup>父親が<sup>べんごし</sup>弁護士をしている。
(Speaking of Kyoko, her father practices law.)
- b. この問題<sup>かん</sup>に関しては, これ<sup>い</sup>以上<sup>じょう</sup>議論<sup>ぎろん</sup>しても<sup>むだ</sup>無駄だ。
(With regard to this problem, it is no use to discuss it further.)

4.4. Sentence-initial dependent clauses

Sentence-initial dependent clauses are internal sentences which are dependent on the clauses which follow. Sentence-initial dependent clauses represent such things as condition, time, reason, purpose, and manner. (27) provides examples.

- (27) a. <sup>こばやし</sup>小林さんが来たら<sup>し</sup>知らせて<sup>くだ</sup>下さい。 (Please let me know if Mr. Kobayashi comes in.)
- b. 私がそこ<sup>とき</sup>にいた時には<sup>い</sup>異<sup>じょう</sup>常<sup>じょう</sup>はなかった。
(There was nothing unusual when I was there.)
- c. 友達<sup>たず</sup>が訪ねて来るので<sup>あ</sup>うちを空けるわけに<sup>い</sup>い<sup>きよう</sup>かない。
(Because a friend of mine is coming to see me, I cannot leave my house.)
- d. 私は日本<sup>りゅうがく</sup>に留学<sup>べんきよう</sup>するために日本語を勉強しています。
(I'm studying Japanese in order to study in Japan.)

If a sentence-initial dependent clause and the following clause have a common element, the element usually appears only once. In (27d), for example, the sentence-initial dependent clause and the following clause (in this case, the main clause) share the same subject watashi 'I.' Thus, watashi appears only once (in this case, as the topic).

C. Verbal Connective Forms

When two verbals are connected through an "AND-relation" in a sentence, the first verbal must be in the connective form, as in (28).*

- (28) a. 私は朝六時に<sup>あさろくにじ</sup>起き、<sup>お</sup>夜十時ごろ<sup>よる</sup>寝る。
(I get up at six in the morning and go to bed around ten in the evening.)
- b. この辞書は安く<sup>やすく</sup>て便利だ。
(This dictionary is cheap and useful.)
- c. 吉田さんは三十二歳<sup>よしだ</sup>で独身<sup>どくしん</sup>です。
(Mr. Yoshida is thirty-two and single.)

The affirmative and negative connective forms of different verbals are given in (29) and (30), respectively.**

(29) Affirmative connective forms:

- a. Verb: Vte (e.g., 起きて); Vmasu (e.g., 起き)

---

*If two verbals are connected through a "BUT-relation," the connective forms are not used, as in (i).

- (i) a. 私は魚は好きですが<sup>さかな</sup>野菜は好きじゃありません。<sup>やさい</sup>
(I like fish but I don't like vegetables.)
- b. この辞書は安いけれども<sup>やす</sup>なかなか便利だ。
(This dictionary is cheap but pretty useful.)

**As seen in (29), there are two kinds of connective forms. In general, the first kind (i.e., te-forms) are used when the first verbal is strongly related to or dependent on the second verbal. In (i), for example, the first verbal yasukute '(it is) cheap' gives the reason why the speaker feels that the apartment is good (the second verbal). In this case, the te-form is used. (⇒ Vmasu)

- (i) このアパートは {安く<sup>やすく</sup>て / *安く<sup>やす</sup>} いい。
(This apartment is cheap and (therefore) good.)

- b. Adj(i): Adj(i)te (e.g., 安くて); Adj(i)stem + く (e.g., 安く)
- c. Adj(na): Adj(na)te (e.g., 便利で); Adj(na)te + あり (e.g., 便利であり)
- d. N + Cop.: N + Cop.te (e.g., 学生で); N + Cop.te + あり (e.g., 学生であり)

(30) Negative connective forms:

- a. Verb (neg.): Vneg なくて (e.g., 行かなくて); Vneg {ないで / ず} (e.g., 行かないで; 行かず)
(⇒ ~ nai de (DBJG: 271–73))
- b. Adj(i) (neg.): Adj(i)stem なく(て) (e.g., 高くなく(て))
- c. Adj(na) (neg.): Adj(na)stem で(は)なく(て) (e.g., 便利で(は)なく(て))
- d. N + Cop. (neg.): N で(は)なく(て) (e.g., 学生で(は)なく(て))

D. Compound Sentences

If a sentence involves two (or more) simple sentences (i.e., clauses) and these sentences are conjoined by means of coordinate conjunctions such as ga ‘but’ or continuative forms of verbs, adjectives or the copula such as Vte, Adj.te and Cop.te to mean ‘and,’ the whole is called a “compound sentence.” The clauses in a compound sentence are connected through the AND-relation or the BUT-relation. (31) provides examples.

- (31) a. ワンさんは<sup>ちやうごくじん</sup>中国人でキムさんは<sup>かんこくじん</sup>韓国人だ。
(Mr. Wong is Chinese and Mr. Kim is Korean.)
- b. <sup>かない</sup>家内はフランス語を話せるが私は話せない。
(My wife can speak French but I cannot.)

When the clauses in a compound sentence have an element in common (e.g., the subject, the direct object, the verbal), the element usually appears only once. For example, in (28a-c) the subjects are shared and in (31b) the direct object is shared. (32) provides an example of a shared verbal.

- (32) ジョンは機械工学を、ナンシーは電気工学を専攻している。
 (John is majoring in mechanical engineering and Nancy in electrical engineering.)

The structures of compound sentences can be generalized as in (33). ([S] represents a clause.)

- (33) a. AND-relation:
 [S<sub>1</sub>]-[S<sub>2</sub>] ([S<sub>1</sub>] ends with a verbal continuative form.)
- b. BUT-relation:
 [S<sub>1</sub>]-“BUT-conj.”-[S<sub>2</sub>] (“BUT conj.” is a non-sentence initial conjunction such as ga.)

E. Complex Sentences

If a sentence involves a clause which is dependent on another element or clause in the sentence, the sentence is called a “complex sentence.” (34) provides complex sentences which include different kinds of dependent clauses (or subordinate clauses).

- (34) a. Relative clauses (See 2.2.5. Relative clause + Noun):
 これは友子が作ったケーキだ。 (= (10a))
 (This is a cake which Tomoko made.)
- b. Internal sentences before “という Noun” (See 2.2.6. Noun/Sentence という Noun):
 日本語はあいまいな言葉だという考えは珍しくない。 (= (11b))
 (The idea that Japanese is an ambiguous language is not uncommon.)
- c. Internal sentences before Compound particles (pre-nominal form) (See 2.2.4. {Noun/Verb} + Compound particle (pre-nominal form) + Noun):
 ここにこの仕事をするに当たっての注意が書いてある。
 (Precautions for doing this job are written here.)
- d. Nominalized sentences (See 2.2.7. Sentence + Nominalizer):

ジョーンズさんが今日来ることを知らなかった。(= (12b))

(I didn't know that Mr. Jones was coming today.)

- e. Embedded interrogative sentences (See 2.4. Embedded interrogative sentences):

誰がそれをするかが問題だ。(= (14a))

(Who will do that is the question.)

- f. Clauses before adverbial forms of auxiliary adjectives*
(See 3.3. Adverbial forms of auxiliary adjectives):

みんながよく聞こえるように、マイクを使ってください。

(Please use a microphone so that everybody can hear well.)

- g. Internal sentences as indirect quotations (See 3.6. Quotation と):

ジョージは漢字は難しくないと言っている。

(George says that kanji is not difficult.)

- h. Internal sentences before compound particles (pre-verbal form)
(See 3.7. Noun/Verb + Compound particle (pre-verbal form)):

人は年をとるにつれて記憶力が衰える。

(One's memory fails as one grows old.)

- i. Sentence-initial dependent clauses (See 4.4. Sentence-initial dependent clauses):

質問されてもだまっています。

(Please remain silent even if you are asked questions.)

The structures of complex sentences can be generalized as in (35).

*The adverbial forms of auxiliary adjectives preceded by clauses are sometimes classified as conjunctions (e.g., yōni).

- (35) Sentence-initial element      Pre-verbal element      Verbal

[S]: Clause

NP[s]: NP containing [S]

Adv[s]: Adverbial containing [S]

That is, a sentence which contains at least one of the elements containing [S] in (35) is a complex sentence.

F. Missing Elements

Such sentence elements as illustrated in (35) are not always explicitly present. In fact, sentence element ellipsis is very common in Japanese. When clauses have shared elements (e.g., subjects), the shared element is usually ellipted in the second (and following) clause(s). Sentence elements are also dropped when they have been mentioned in a previous sentence, are contextually known, or situationally known, or when they indicate a generic agent such as “they” and “we.” (36) provides examples.

- (36) a. Shared by two clauses:

沢田さんがそのことを聞いても[そのことを][彼に]教えないで下さい。

(Even if Mr. Sawada asks about that, please do not tell [him] [about it].)

- b. Mentioned in a previous sentence:

昨日ステーキを食べた。[それは]とてもおいしかった。

(I had a steak yesterday. [It] was very good.)

c. Contextually known:

ジェーンが [私に] ホームメイドのクッキーをくれた。

(Jane gave [me] some home-made cookies.)

d. Situationally known:

Watching the hearer eating ice cream:

[それは]おいしいですか。

(Is [it] good?)

e. Indicating a generic agent:

[我々]は地球を守るために環境を破壊しないエネルギー源を開発しなければならない。

(In order to protect the earth, [we] must develop a new energy source which does not destroy the environment.)

(2) Guidelines

With the basics of Japanese sentence structure presented above, the reader should be able to grasp the structure of a given sentence by following the guidelines illustrated below.

Guideline 1: Identify major clause breaks.

Major clause breaks can be identified by looking for verbal connective forms (See (1) C. Verbal Connective Forms), conjunctions such as ga 'but,' ba 'if,' to 'if; when,' kara 'because,' and node 'because,' and other conjunction equivalents such as ni mo kakawarazu 'in spite of the fact that,' tame ni 'in order to; because,' and no ni taishite 'while; whereas.'

In the following examples, clause breaks are marked by “//”

- (37) 英国の天文学者グループが、太陽系以外で初めて惑星を発見したと、昨年七月の英科学誌『ネイチャー』で発表した、//これは計算ミスで、//惑星は存在しないことが分かった。

(朝日新聞 1. 6. 92 夕刊)

Vocabulary notes:

英国	Great Britain
天文学者	astronomer
太陽系	the solar system
～以外で	other than ~
惑星	planet
発見する	to discover
科学誌	science journal
発表する	to announce
計算ミス	miscalculation
存在する	to exist

- (38) …プラネットBは一年余飛行して,*//97年十月,火星周回軌道に到着し, //二年以上にわたり,観測を続ける予定だ。
(日本経済新聞12. 21. 91 朝刊)

Vocabulary notes:

プラネットB	“Planet B”
～余	a little more than ~
飛行する	to fly
火星	Mars
周回軌道	circling orbit
到着する	to arrive
～にわたり	over
観測	observation
続ける	to continue
予定	schedule

- (39) 一方, オプトエレクトロニクスのこれまでの進展を顧みると, //光ファ

*The connective form Vte with the preceding NP(s) often functions as an adverbial to represent manner or reason. In this case, Vte does not mark a clause break. In (i), for example, ~ o mochiite is better interpreted as ‘by using . . .’ than as ‘use . . . and,’ as the English equivalent shows. Compare this Vte with the Vte in (38).

- (i) 従来の情報伝送, 処理は, 電波や電子を用いて行ってきた。

(島田・土田『入門オプトエレクトロニクス』p. 19)

(The conventional information transmission and processing have been performed (lit. we have performed . . .) by using electric waves and electrons.)

イバー<sup>つうしん</sup>通信<sup>おほ</sup>が大きな推進<sup>すいしん</sup>力<sup>りよく</sup>になってきたと言<sup>い</sup>える。

(島田・土田『入門<sup>にようもん</sup>オプトエレクトロニクス』 p. 19)

Vocabulary notes:

一方 on the other hand

オプトエレクトロニクス opto-electronics

これまで up to now

進展 progress

顧みる to look back; to examine

光ファイバー通信 optic fiber communication

推進力 thrust

Guideline 2: Identify the skeleton of each clause.

For each clause, identify the skeleton, i.e., the major elements, such as the subject, the direct object, and the verbal, elements which tell “who did what,” “what is what,” etc. Note that major elements are sometimes shared with another clause or are not present explicitly (See (1) F. Missing Elements).

In the following examples, the major elements are underlined and missing elements are supplied in parentheses. (Dotted underlining indicates elements to be examined in the following step, Guideline 3. These elements include constructions such as “NP[S]-Prt. + Verbal” (e.g., [S] koto ga wakatta ‘it was understood that [S]’), “Adv[S] + Verbal” (e.g., [S] to ieru ‘it can be said that [S]’), and “NP[S] + Cop.” (e.g., [S] yotei da ‘it is scheduled that [S]’))

- (40) 英国の天文学者グループが、太陽系以外で初めて惑星を発見したと、昨年七月の英科学誌『ネイチャー』で発表した<sup>が</sup>、//これは 計算ミスで、//惑星は存在しない ことが分かった。(= (37))
- (41) …プラネットBは一年余飛行して、//(プラネットBは)97年十月、火星周回軌道に到着し、//(プラネットBは)二年以上にわたり、観測を 続ける予定だ。(= (38))
- (42) 一方、(我々が)オプトエレクトロニクスのこれまでの進展を 顧みると、//光ファイバー通信が大きな推進力になってきたと言える。(= (39))

By identifying the skeleton of each clause in a sentence, the idea of the whole sentence becomes clear. For example, (40) conveys the idea that “a British astronomy group announced something, but it was a miscalculation and a/the planet does not exist.”

It should be noted that in identifying major elements, the entire NP or verbal does not need to be examined. For example, if an NP contains a long relative clause, examining the head noun should be enough at this stage. The important thing in this step is to grasp a rough idea of each clause identified in the previous step.

Guideline 3: Identify the scope of key elements, including conjunctions, nouns, nominalizers, quotative markers, and auxiliaries.

The scope of an element X is defined as the range of a sentence part which is dependent on X. (See DBJG, Appendix 8 Improving Reading Skill by Identifying an ‘Extended Sentential Unit.’)

In the following examples, the key elements to be identified and examined are set off by boxes. “[ ]” identifies the scope of the boxed element which follows.

- (43) 英国の天文学者グループが、[太陽系以外で初めて惑星を発見した] [と]、昨年七月の英科学誌『ネイチャー』で発表した、//[これは計算ミスで、//[惑星は存在しない] [こと]*が分かった。(= (37))

(A British astronomy group announced in last July’s issue of Nature, a British science journal, that [they had for the first time discovered a planet outside the solar system,] but this was due to a miscalculation (lit. this was a miscalculation) and it turned out that [the planet does not exist.])

- (44) …プラネットBは[一年余飛行して、/(プラネットBは) 97年十月、火星周回軌道に到着し、/(プラネットBは) 二年以上にわたり、観測を続ける] [予定]だ。(= (38))

(Planet B is scheduled [to travel for a little more than a year, reach Mars’ circling orbit in October 1997, and continue its observation for over two years.])

It should be noted that in this example, the scope of yotei ‘schedule’ extends beyond the immediate clause break.

*In (43), the scope of koto can extend from “wakusei wa” or from “kore wa.”

- (45) [一方, (我々が) オプトエレクトロニクスのこれまでの進展を顧みる] と, // [光ファイバー通信が大きな推進力になってきた] と 言える。
(= (39))

(When [we examine the progress in opto-electronics up to the present, on the other hand,] we can say that [optic fiber communication has been a major thrust (in terms of progress).])

- (46) <sup>しゃちょう</sup>社長が<sup>しゅっせき</sup>出席できないから // <sup>あす</sup>明日の<sup>かいぎ</sup>会議は<sup>ちゅうし</sup>中止になり] そうだ。
(Because our president cannot attend, it looks like [tomorrow's meeting will be cancelled.])

- (47) 1992年の<sup>とうきょう</sup>東京モーターショーでは, [<sup>3</sup> <sup>ていねんひ</sup>低燃費エンジンや [<sup>2</sup> [<sup>1</sup> ガソリンに代わる] [<sup>1</sup> 新しい] エネルギー]<sup>1*</sup>を<sup>りよう</sup>利用した] エンジン<sup>2</sup>を<sup>とうさい</sup>搭載した] 車<sup>3</sup>が多数<sup>たすうしゅつてん</sup>出展された。**

Guideline 4: Identify the modifying and modified elements accurately when an NP contains an ambiguous modification relationship.

(48) provides examples of NPs which contain ambiguous modification relationships.

- (48) a. {S / Adj / N<sub>1</sub>} N<sub>2</sub> の N<sub>3</sub>

- b. {S / Adj / N<sub>1</sub>の} N<sub>2</sub> と N<sub>3</sub>

- c. N<sub>1</sub> と N<sub>2</sub> の N<sub>3</sub>

*Here, Enerugi 'energy' has a double modifier.

**When a structure is complex, using scope identification numbers may be helpful, as in (47).

(48a) is ambiguous because {S / Adj / N<sub>1</sub> no} can modify either N<sub>2</sub> or “N<sub>2</sub> no N<sub>3</sub>.” (48b) is ambiguous because {S / Adj / N<sub>1</sub> no} can modify only N<sub>2</sub> or it can modify both N<sub>2</sub> and N<sub>3</sub>. (48c) is ambiguous because N<sub>3</sub> can be modified either by “N<sub>2</sub> no” or by “N<sub>1</sub> to N<sub>2</sub> no.” In these cases, the ambiguity can be resolved either by context or by the reader’s knowledge of the world. (49) provides examples of the situation in (48a).

- (49) a.  $\frac{\text{むずかしい}}{X} \quad \frac{\text{にほんご}}{Y} \quad \frac{\text{しゅくだい}}{Z}$

((1) difficult homework in Japanese [X modifies “Y の Z,” i.e., X [Y の Z]]; (2) homework in Japanese, a language which is difficult [X modifies Y and “X Y の ” modifies Z, i.e., X [Y] の [Z]])

- b.  $\frac{\text{きょうと}}{X} \quad \frac{\text{こうこう}}{Y} \quad \frac{\text{ぶんこう}}{Z}$

((1) Y High School’s branch campus which is in Kyoto [X modifies “Y の Z,” i.e., X [Y の Z]]; (2) A branch campus of Y High School, which is in Kyoto [X modifies Y and “X Y の ” modifies Z, i.e., X [Y] の [Z]])

The interpretation of (49a) depends on the context and the interpretation of (49b) depends of the reader’s knowledge of Y High School’s location.

The ambiguity in (48b) can be illustrated by (50).

- (50)  $\frac{\text{しんざいりょう}}{X} \quad \frac{\text{かいはつ}}{Y} \quad \frac{\text{マーケティング}}{Z}$

((1) the development of new materials and the marketing of those materials [X modifies Y and Z, i.e., X [Y と Z]]; (2) the development of new materials (for something) and the marketing (of that thing) [X modifies only Y, i.e., X [Y] と Z])

Whether (50) is interpreted as (1) or (2) depends on the context in which this sentence is used.

(51) provides examples of (48c).

- (51) a.  $\frac{\text{よういち}}{X} \text{ と } \frac{\text{かよこ}}{Y} \text{ の } \frac{\text{こども}}{Z}$

((1) Yoichi's and Kayoko's child [X and Y modify Z, i.e.,  $X \text{ と } Y \text{ の } [Z]$ ]; (2) Yoichi and Kayoko's child [Only Y modifies Z, i.e.,  $X \text{ と } Y \text{ の } [Z]$ ])

- b.  $\frac{\text{しや}}{X} \text{ と } \frac{\text{Q社}}{Y} \text{ の } \frac{\text{ごうべんがいしや}}{Z}$

((1) a joint corporation consisting of P Corporation and Q Corporation [X and Y modify Z, i.e.,  $X \text{ と } Y \text{ の } [Z]$ ]; (2) P Corporation and a joint corporation including Q Corporation [Only Y modifies Z, i.e.,  $X \text{ と } Y \text{ の } [Z]$ ])

Once again, whether (51a) is interpreted as (1) or (2) depends on the context in which this phrase is used. There is little ambiguity in (51b), on the other hand. This is because a joint corporation constituting two or more companies is common knowledge; therefore, (1) is the likely interpretation.

Guideline 5: Accurately identify each element's modified constituents.

Particularly important is whether an element modifies a noun or a verbal.

As an example, an explanation of modification in (52) is shown in (53).

- (52) このソフトウェアによって文書の作成に必要な基本の操作を覚えて下さい。

(53)	A	modifies	B
	このソフトウェアによって (by means of this software)		覚えて下さい (please learn)
	文書の作成に (for the creation of documents)		必要な (necessary)
	必要な (necessary)		基本の操作 (basic operation)
	基本の操作を (basic operation [Direct Object])		覚えて下さい (please learn)

Note here that ni yotte is a form which modifies verbs; thus, in (52), it modifies oboete kudasai. (See Appendix 3 Compound Particles.)

(54) indicates the scope of sōsa and (55) provides the English equivalent of (52).

(54) このソフトウェアによって [文書の作成に必要な基本の] 操作を覚えて下さい。

(55) With this software, please learn the basic operation necessary for creating documents.

Compare (52) with (56), where sofutowea is followed by ni yoru rather than ni yotte. (57) illustrates the modification relations among the sentence elements.

(56) このソフトウェアによる文書の作成に必要な基本の操作を覚えて下さい。

(57)	A	modifies	B
	このソフトウェアによる (by means of this software)		文書の作成 (creation of documents)
	文書の作成に (for the creation of documents)		必要な (necessary)
	必要な (necessary)		基本の操作 (basic operation)
	基本の操作を (basic operation [Direct Object])		覚えて下さい (please learn)

Note here that ni yoru is a form which modifies nouns (or noun phrases); thus, in (56), it modifies bunsho no sakusei.

(58) indicates the scope of sōsa and (59) provides the English equivalent of (56).

(58) [このソフトウェアによる文書の作成に必要な基本の] 操作を覚えて下さい。

- (59) Please learn the basic operation necessary for creating documents with this software.

As shown in the above examples, misunderstanding a modified element can lead to an entirely wrong interpretation.

- (d) 今度の会合は形式を重んずるあまり内容が乏しくなってしまった。
(The last meeting ended up having little content because it focused too much on formalities.)

Notes

1. Clauses and phrases involving the conjunction amari can be rephrased using the adverb amari and the conjunction nodo or tame ni, as in (1).

- (1) a. 私はその晩あまり興奮した【ので / ために】寝られなかった。(=KS(A))
  - b. この教科書はあまり文法を重視した【ので / ために】面白くないものになってしまった。(=KS(B))
- (⇒ amari (DBJG: 72–73))

2. Adj(i) and Adj(na) cannot precede amari, as seen in (2) and (3).

- (2) 私は【悲しみの / *悲しい】あまり涙も出なかった。
(I was so sad that I couldn't even cry (lit. even tears didn't come out).)
- (3) 彼らは【心配の / *心配な】あまり食事も喉を通らない様子だった。
(It looked like they were so anxious that they couldn't even eat (lit. even foods didn't go through their throats).)

3. Vinf can be either past or nonpast when it represents a past action or event, as in (4), although the nonpast form is more common.

- (4) この教科書は文法を重視したあまり面白くないものになってしまった。(=KS(B))

[Related Expression]

The auxiliary verb sugiru expresses a similar idea. For example, KS(A) and (B) can be rephrased using sugiru, as in [1].

- [1] a. 私はその晩興奮 {のあまり / しすぎて} 寝られなかった。 (=KS(A))
 b. この教科書は文法を重視 {するあまり / しすぎて} 面白くないものになってしまった。 (=KS(B))

However, there are some differences between amari and sugiru. First, amari is always a part of an adverbial clause or phrase which expresses a cause. Sugiru, however, does not always express cause and can be in the predicate of a main clause. Second, amari is used only when the verb or noun represents a psychological action or state. Thus, the following sentences are unacceptable.

- [2] *昨日ビールを飲むあまり今日頭が痛い。
 (Yesterday I drank too much beer and I have a headache today.)
 cf. 昨日あまりビールを飲んだ {ので / ために} 今日頭が痛い。
 [3] *疲れのあまり食欲がない。
 (I am so tired that I have no appetite.)

Third, sugiru is used in both spoken and written Japanese while amari is limited in use to formal written Japanese.

(⇒ sugiru (DBJG: 423–25))

~ba ~ hodo ~ば～ほど str.

(The harder you study Japanese, the more interesting it will become.)

(B)

Topic	Sentence <sub>1</sub>	Sentence <sub>2</sub>

(A machine is harder to break, the simpler it is.)

Formation

(i)  $V_1\text{cond } V_2\text{inf}\cdot\text{nonpast}$  ほど (where  $V_1=V_2$ )

はな
話せば話すほど (the more s.o. talks, the more ~)

(ii)  $\text{Adj}(i)_1\text{cond } \text{Adj}(i)_2\text{inf}\cdot\text{nonpast}$  ほど (where  $\text{Adj}(i)_1=\text{Adj}(i)_2$ )

(where Adj(na)<sub>1</sub>=Adj(na)<sub>2</sub>)

- (d) 普段元気なら元気なほど体に気を付けた方がいいですよ。
(The healthier you are, the more careful you should be about your health.)

Notes

- The construction of ~ba ~ hodo is very close in meaning to the more ~, the more ~ construction in English.
- Other conditionals tara and to cannot be used in this construction. Thus, the following use of to and tara are ungrammatical.
  - 授業料は {安ければ / *安いと} 安いほどいい。
(As for the tuition, the cheaper the better.)
  - 玄米は {かめば / *かんだら} かむほど味が出る。
(As for brown rice, the more you chew it, the tastier it becomes.)
- When the verb is a suru-verb as in KS(A), it takes the form of either N-sureba N-suru hodo or N-sureba suru hodo as in KS(A). If the verb is not a suru-verb as in Ex.(a), it always takes the form of Vcond Vinf·nonpast hodo.

4. The conditional form nara is used only with Adj(na). So, the following sentences are ungrammatical.

(3) *この酒は飲むなら飲むほどおいしくなる。(cf. Ex.(a))

(4) *アパートは駅に近いなら近いほど(家賃が)高い。(cf. Ex.(c))

(B)

Topic	Sentence <sub>1</sub>		Sentence <sub>2</sub>
あの人は	絵を見て楽しむ	ばかりか、	自分でも絵を描く。
(He not only enjoys looking at pictures; he also draws them.)

 {高い / 高かった} ばかりか (not only {is / was} s.t. high)
- (ii) Adj(na)stem {な / だった} ばかりか

 (In America not only college students but even junior and senior high school students are studying Japanese.)

 (It's not just kanji that Tom cannot read; he cannot read even hiragana.)
- (d) 父は食べるのが好きなばかりか、料理をするのも大好きです。
 (My father not only loves to eat, he also loves to cook.)

Notes

- Before bakari ka comes s.t. / s.o. normally expected and after bakari ka comes s.t. / s.o. normally unexpected. If the order of the two is reversed an unacceptable sentence like the following results.
 (1) *トムは平仮名が読めないばかりか、漢字さえ読めない。
 (cf. Ex.(c))
- The particle sae can be replaced by the particle mo esp. in spoken Japanese.

(2) 僕の寮の部屋は狭いばかりか、窓もないんです。(cf. Ex.(b))

(3) トムは漢字が読めないばかりか、平仮名も読めない。

(cf. Ex.(c))

【Related Expressions】

- I. The phrases bakari de (wa) naku ~ (mo) and dake de (wa) naku ~ (mo) are very similar to bakari ka ~ (sae). Among those three constructions bakari ka ~ (sae) expresses the highest degree of unexpectedness between the content of  $S_1$  and  $S_2$ . If such unexpectedness is missing, the bakari ka ~ (sae) construction sounds awkward. Examples follow.

[1] a. あの人は勉強 {だけ / ばかり} で(は)なくスポーツもよく出来る。

(He is not only good scholastically; he is also good at sports.)

b. ??あの人は勉強ばかりか、スポーツさえ出来る。

[2] a. この本は面白<sup>ほん おもしろ</sup>い {だけ / ばかり} で(は)なく、とてもためになる。

(This book is not only interesting but also educational.)

b. ??この本は面白いばかりかためにさえなる。

- II.  $S_1$  dokoroka  $S_2$ , a construction indicating that s.o. / s.t. is very far from a/n (un)desirable state, is quite different from  $S_1$  bakari ka  $S_2$ , when  $S_1$  is affirmative and  $S_2$  is negative or when  $S_1$  is negative and  $S_2$  is affirmative. Examples follow.

[3] 私は日本語が話せる {どころか / *ばかりか}, 一度も勉強したことがありません。

(I am far from being able to speak Japanese; I haven't studied it at all.)

[4] スミスさんは日本語が書<sup>か</sup>けない {どころか / *ばかりか}, 日本語で小説<sup>しょうせつ</sup>さえ書ける。

(Mr. Smith is far from being unable to write Japanese; he can even write a novel in Japanese.)

(Mr. Clark is not only able to speak Japanese; he can even speak Korean.)

- [6] ジムは日本語で会話が出来ない {どころか / ばかりか}, 簡単な挨拶も出来ない。

(There's no description where there should be one.)

Notes

1. Tense and negation are expressed by conjugating bekida. (See KS (A) – (D) and Exs.(a) – (d).)

2. The prenominal form of bekida (i.e., the form which modifies a noun) is beki. (See KS(E) and Exs.(g) – (i).)
3. Bekida usually expresses the idea that s.o. / s.t. should do s.t. or be in some state because it is his / her responsibility or duty, because it is the right thing or a good thing to do, or because it is the right state or a good state to be in. (See KS(A) – (E), Exs.(a) – (f) and (i).)
4. Bekida also expresses the idea that s.o. is expected to do s.t. (See Exs. (g) and (h).)
5. Adj(i)stem + ku aru bekida, as in (1), is a possible form but this form is not commonly used.

- (1) <sup>からだ</sup>体は<sup>とし</sup>年をとっても<sup>こころ</sup>心は<sup>わか</sup>若くあるべきだ。

(Even if one's body gets old, one's mind should be young.)

6. Bekida is not used when the speaker is younger than the hearer or lower than the hearer in status. For example, (2) is not appropriate in the given situation.

- (2) [From a student to his / her professor]

??<sup>せんせい</sup>先生, それは<sup>わす</sup>お忘れになるべきです。

(Professor, you should forget it.)

[Related Expressions]

- I. Mono da also expresses the idea that one should do s.t. as one's duty, as in [1].

- [1] <sup>がくせい</sup>学生は<sup>べんきょう</sup>勉強するものだ。

(Students should study.)

However, mono da is used only in a generic statement to express a social norm. Thus, in a specific situation, as in [2], it cannot be used.

- [2] 君は勉強する {べき / *もの} だ。

(You should study.)

(⇒ mono (da) (DBJG: 257–61))

- II. In terms of forcefulness, bekida is weaker than -nakereba naranai and stronger than ta hō ga ii, as in [3].

- [3] a. 君はもっと勉強しなければならない。 stronger
(You must study harder.)
- b. 君はもっと勉強すべきだ。
(You should study harder.)
- c. 君はもっと勉強した方が<sup>ほう</sup>いい。 weaker

Note

Either a number + counter or a noun precedes -bun. When a number + counter precedes, it means s.t. worth that amount (e.g., KS(A)) or equivalent to that amount (e.g., KS(B)). When a noun precedes -bun, it means the amount or portion of something represented by the noun (e.g., KS(C)).

[Related Expression]

[Related Expression]

The first difference between daga and ga / keredo(mo) / noni / shikashi / dakedo / demo is the way they combine two sentences. Daga, dakedo, shikashi and demo are always used as a sentence-initial conjunction, but ga and noni are normally used as a non-sentence-initial conjunction, and keredo(mo) is used either as a sentence-initial conjunction or a non-sentence-initial conjunction.

Sentence-initial conjunctions:

- |    |                               |                           |

Notes

1. Dakara to itte is a conjunction which indicates that while the speaker / writer accepts an assertion / fact in the preceding sentence, he argues that what is normally expected from the assertion / fact is not (necessarily) applicable. Thus, for example,  $S_1$  and  $S_2$  of KS(A) may lead to an assertion that Mr. Cheng is not smart. But the speaker denies that extrapolation in  $S_3$ . To paraphrase it, it is something like: 'Mr. Cheng is poor at Japanese and he can't even get half way through tests. So you probably think he is not smart, but I don't think that's true.'
2. Dakara to itte often occurs with wake de wa nai or to wa kagiranai, as shown in all the examples except Ex.(d).

Note

The choice of the tense of the verb before dake depends on (1) whether or not the action expressed by the verb (Action 1) was taken in the past, and (2) whether or not the action/event expressed by the verb (Action 1) precedes the action/event expressed by the main verbal (Action 2). If A1 precedes A2 and A1 is a past action, the verb must be in the past tense (e.g., KS(B) and Ex.(e)). If A1 precedes A2 and A1 is not a past action, the verb is commonly in the nonpast tense, although the past tense is also acceptable (e.g., Exs.(f) – (h)). If A1 does not precede A2 and A1 is a past action, the verb is commonly in the nonpast, although the past tense is also acceptable (e.g., Ex.(d)). If A1 does not precede A2 and A1 is not a past action, the verb must be in the nonpast (e.g., KS(A) and Exs.(a) – (c)).

[Related Expression]

The difference between -darake and -mamire is that the latter means 'totally covered / mixed with dirty liquid / powder such as blood, sweat, mud or dust,' excluding intangible objects, whereas the former can be used not only with liquid / powder but also to cover holes / pimples, and intangible objects, as in KS(B) and Ex.(d). More examples to show the difference follow:

- [1] 私の作文は訂正 {だらけ / *まみれ} だった。

- (d) このりんごは一<sup>ひと</sup>山<sup>やま</sup>で二<sup>に</sup>百<sup>ひゃく</sup>円です。

Note

De can be omitted if the relation between the basic amount and the associated amount is more or less fixed as in KS, Exs.(a) and (d). In Ex.(b) five hundred pages for one day is not fixed, so it is impossible to say ichi-nichi gohyaku pēji. The same is true of Ex.(c) in which the cost of 70,000 yen for five people is not fixed.

【Related Expression】

In the sense of 'per,' the particle de can be replaced by ni tsuki, if the relation between the basic amount and the associated amount is fixed as in KS, Exs.(a) and (d). There is also a stylistic difference: ni tsuki is more formal than de.

【Related Expressions】

Polite Form

3. In writing, the formality level of the copula is as follows:

4. The polite forms of de aru (i.e., de arimasu, de arimashita, etc.) are sometimes used in formal speech, for example, in public speaking. In speech, the formality level of the copula is as follows:

[Related Expression]

Although da and de aru mean the same thing, there are some syntactic differences between them. First, N da cannot be used as the pronominal form while N de aru can, as in [1].

- [1] a. 漱石の代表作 {である / の / *だ} 『坊っちゃん』は明治三十九年に書かれた。

- [2] a. これは漱石の書いたもの {である / ø / *だ} {らしい / かもしれない}。

Notes

1. Dōmo is an adverb that indicates the speaker / writer cannot make a definite statement about s.t., because s/he cannot identify / pinpoint the reason. For example, in KS(A) the speaker has made an effort to comprehend the meaning of the sentence but s/he cannot pinpoint the meaning; in KS(B) the speaker has no solid evidence about Suzuki's entrance to Kyoto University. In KS(C), the instructor's class is boring but the speaker / writer cannot identify the reason.

2. The final predicate is overtly negative, as in KS(A), (C), Exs.(a) – (c) and (e), or covertly negative as in Exs.(d) and (j). When the final predicate is not negative, it normally ends with an auxiliary adjective -rashii or -yōda, as in KS(B) and Exs.(f) – (i).
3. Dōmo is used with arigatō (gozaimasu) to mean 'Thank you very much,' or with sumimasen to mean 'I'm very sorry.' Dōmo alone can mean a very casual 'Thank you' or 'Sorry' without the following arigatō (gozaimasu) or sumimasen. Examples follow:

- (1) <sup>せんじつ</sup> 先日はどうも (ありがとうございました)。

Notes

1. In the exclamatory structure of donna ni ~ koto ka, Adj(i / na) or psychological / physiological verb is used before koto ka. The psychological verbs include, among others, aisuru 'love,' nikumu 'hate,' konomu 'like' and the physiological verbs include, among others, tsukareru 'get tired,' ase o kaku 'sweat,' furueru 'shiver.'
2. When the structure is used as an embedded question, koto is omitted, as in KS(C) and Ex.(f).

[Related Expression]

Ikani ~ (koto) ka and dorehodo ~ (koto) ka can be used exactly the same way as donnani ~ (koto) ka. The only difference is that the former is a more formal written style.

Notes

1. The adverbial phrase fū ni includes the noun fū 'wind' which has extended meanings of 'appearance,' 'style,' 'manner' or 'tone.' That is why the adverbial phrase {N / konna / sonna / anna / donna} fū ni indicates appearance / style / manner in which s.t. is done.
2. S to iu fū ni (as in KS(C) and Ex.(f)) is used when one wants to quote s.t., as if to evoke in the mind of the listener the manner in which the original communication was made. The meaning is 'the content to the effect that ~.'
3. S to iu fū ni (as in Exs.(e) and (g)) has a meaning of 'in such a way that ~,' in contrast to a quotation case of Note 2.
4. N<sub>1</sub> fū no N<sub>2</sub> as in Exs.(c) and (d) means N<sub>2</sub> with a style of N<sub>1</sub>. More examples follow:

- b. バッハ風の音楽<sup>おんがく</sup>

- c. モンロー風の女<sup>おんな</sup>

【Related Expression】

The adverbial phrase fū ni can be replaced by yōni, if the construction is S to iu fū ni. If the construction is {konna / sonna / anna / donna} fū ni, it has to be replaced by {kono / sono / ano / dono} yōni. N fū ni has to be replaced by N no yōni.

- gachi is often used with such adverbs as yayamosuruto, tomosuruto, and tokaku for emphasis (e.g., Exs.(a), (c), and (d)).

[Related Expression]

The suffix -gimi can also express the idea of "tend to" in some contexts. The major difference between -gachi and -gimi is that -gachi usually describes a general tendency in someone or something while -gimi describes a visible indication of a tendency. For example, in [1a], Taeko has a general tendency to gain weight but she is not necessarily overweight at the moment of speech. In [1b], on the other hand, Taeko is showing signs of being overweight.

- [1] a. <sup>たえこ</sup> 妙子は最近<sup>あと</sup>太りがちだ。

(Taeko tends to gain weight these days.)

- b. 妙子は最近太り<sup>ぎみ</sup>だ。

(Taeko is showing a tendency to gain weight these days.)

In addition, -gimi also expresses the idea of “touch of” or “a little,” as in [2]. -gachi does not have this meaning.

- [2] 私は今日<sup>きょう</sup>ちょっと風邪<sup>かぜ</sup>ぎみです。

(I have a slight cold today.)

- (g) 私は過去に彼から耐えがたい屈辱を受けた。
(I was intolerably humiliated by him in the past. (lit. received an intolerable humiliation from him.))

Note

-gatai is used when it is virtually impossible for s.o. to do s.t. Thus, KS(A), for example, is equivalent to (1).

- (1) 彼のしたことは許せない。
(I / We cannot forgive his conduct.)

[Related Expressions]

-gatai, -nikui, and -zurai express a similar idea, i.e., “difficulty in doing s.t.” However, their usage is significantly different. First, -gatai is usually used only in written language or formal speech, but -nikui and -zurai can be used both in spoken and written language. Second, unlike -gatai, -nikui and -zurai do not imply virtual impossibility. For example, in [1], where Mr. Yamada’s handwriting is hard, but not impossible, to read, -nikui and -zurai can be used but -gatai cannot.

- [1] 山田さんの字は読み {にくい / づらい / *がたい}。
(Yamada’s handwriting (lit. characters) is hard to read.)

Third, while -gatai and -zurai can be used only with verbs which require an agent, -nikui can be used with verbs which do not require an agent, as in [2].

- [2] a. この戸は開き {にくい / *づらい / *がたい}。
(This door doesn’t open easily.)
b. この木は燃え {にくい / *づらい / *がたい}。
(This wood doesn’t burn easily.)

(⇨ -nikui (DBJG: 307–08))

Fourth, -zurai is used when doing s.t. is physically (sometimes psychologically) hard on the agent. Thus, -zurai always describes undesirable situations, as in [3].

- [3] a. このコピーは字が薄くて読み {づらい / にくい / *がたい}。
(The letters in this copy are weak and hard to read.)
b. 歯が悪いので堅いステーキは食べ {づらい / にくい / *がたい}。
(Because I have bad teeth, tough steaks are hard to eat.)

If the situation is desirable, -zurai cannot be used, as in [4].

- [4] 単語は例文と一緒に覚えれば忘れにくい / *づらい / *がたい。
(You will not forget vocabulary items easily if you remember them in sentences.)

In the sentences in [3] and [4], -nikui can also be used. However, -gatai cannot be used in these sentences because they do not convey the idea of (virtual) impossibility.

Notes

1. The basic meaning of gyaku ni is “conversely.” However, it is often used when something takes place contrary to one's expectation or intention.
2. When gyaku ni is preceded by a clause, the clause often involves tara, to, or noni, as in KS(A), (B), and Exs.(a) – (f).

[Related Expression]

When gyaku ni expresses the idea of “contrary to one's expectation / intention,” it can be paraphrased as kaette, as in [1].

[1] a. 薬を飲んだら、{逆に / かえって} 熱が出た。(=KS(A))

b. 叱られると思ったのに、{逆に / かえって} ほめられた。

(=KS(B))

However, if gyaku ni simply means “conversely” without the sense of “contrary to one’s expectation / intention,” kaette cannot be used, as in [2].

- [2] 会話を強調すると文法が不正確になる。{逆に / *かえって} 文法を強調すると話せなくなる。(=KS(C))

- d. 原因は {これ以外 / このほか} に考えられない。(=Ex.(d))

Note that N igai can be followed by no N, as in [1a], but N no hoka cannot.

The difference between hoka and igai is that hoka can be used as an independent noun while igai is always used as a dependent noun. Thus, hoka can appear in sentence initial position but igai cannot, as in [2].

- [2] a. {ほか / *以外} の日は空<sup>ひ</sup>いていませんか。
(Are you available on other days?)
- b. {ほか / *以外} (のものは)問<sup>もん</sup>題<sup>だい</sup>ありません。
(There's no problem with the others [other things].)
- c. {ほか / *以外} に何か質<sup>しつもん</sup>問<sup>もん</sup>はありませんか。
(Do you have any other questions?)

Another difference between hoka and igai is that igai can be followed by copula conditional forms such as nara, dattara, and deareba but hoka cannot, as in [3].

- [3] a. お金<sup>かね</sup> {以外 / *のほか} {なら / だったら / であれば} 何<sup>なん</sup>でも貸<sup>か</sup>してあげるよ。
(I will lend you anything except money. (lit. I will lend you anything if it is something other than money.))
- b. 麻雀<sup>まーじゃん</sup> {以外 / *のほか} {なら / だったら / であれば} 何<sup>なん</sup>でもやります。
(I play everything except mahjong. (lit. I play anything if it is not mahjong.))

Finally, igai can be followed by case markers such as de and to but hoka cannot, as in [4].

- [4] a. 金<sup>かね</sup>持<sup>も</sup>ち {以外 / *のほか} とは付<sup>つ</sup>き合<sup>あ</sup>わないことにしている。
(I make it a practice to socialize only with rich people. (lit. I make it a practice not to socialize with people other than rich people.))
- b. この部<sup>へや</sup>屋<sup>や</sup> {以外 / *のほか} で物を食<sup>た</sup>べないで下<sup>くだ</sup>さい。
(Please do not eat in rooms other than this one.)

- $S_1$  of this construction always ends in a verb or dearu; it never ends in an adjective.

Note

The adverb ikanimo is used when the speaker / writer wants to express his emotive conviction. The adverb often occurs with such conjectural expressions as ~ sōda (as in KS(B), Exs.(c) and (d)), rashii (as in KS(C), Exs.(e) and (f)) and yōda / yōsuda (as in KS(D), Exs.(g) and (h)). Also it occurs with the conjunction ga (as in KS(E), Exs.(j) and (k)).

[Related Expressions]

- I. Every use of ikanimo in KS and Exs. can be replaced by another adverb hontō ni 'truly' without changing the meaning. The only difference between the two is that the former is slightly more formal than the latter.

- [1] a. アメリカ人の目から見ると、日本の社会は {いかにも / 本<sup>ほん</sup>当<sup>とう</sup>に} 閉鎖<sup>へいさ</sup>的だ。(=KS(A))

Notes

1. Imperatives without sentence particles are rarely used in daily conversation. In spoken Japanese they are usually used when the speaker is angry with or threatening the hearer or when the speaker shouts slogans in demonstrations, as in Exs.(a) – (c).
2. Imperatives with the sentence particle yo are used by male speakers in very casual situations (e.g., between close friends, between a father and his child), as in KS(A).
3. Imperatives without sentence particles are frequently used in directions in written examinations and mottos, as in Exs.(d) – (f).
4. Imperatives without sentence particles are used in indirect speech, as in KS(B), Exs.(g) and (h). In this case, the corresponding direct quotations are not necessarily imperative. For example, the direct quotations of KS(B) and Ex.(h) may be:

- (1) 十二月三十一日までに払って下さい。
(Please pay by December 31.)
- (2) あまりタクシーは使わないでくれないか。
(Would you mind not using a taxi often?)

[Related Expressions]

[2] 遅刻<sup>ちこく</sup>をしてはいけない / いけません。

Note

The adverb kaette is used when one describes a situation / event that occurs contrary to one's expectation.

[Related Expression]

The adverb mushiro 'rather' can replace all the uses of kaette in KS and Exs.

- [1] a. 薬を飲んだら、{かえて / むしろ} 病気がひどくなった。(=KS)
b. 日本へ行ったら日本語が上手になるかと思って、日本へ行ったんですが、日本人と英語でばかり話していたので、{かえて / むしろ}、下手になって帰って来ました。(=Ex.(b))
c. いわゆる一流大学で勉強するより小さな私立大学で勉強する方が、{かえて / むしろ}、いい教育を受けることが出来る。
(=Ex.(d))

However, there are many cases in which mushiro cannot be replaced by kaette because the former is used when between the alternate choice between action / situation / characterization one is judged to be better than the other, but the latter lacks this particular meaning.

Notes

1. The ~ ka ~ ka construction is used when one is not sure about two choices or possibilities. (⇒ ka<sup>2</sup> (DBJG: 166–68))

2. Normally the construction is used to deal with two choices or possibilities, but when one lists the choices and possibilities more than two ka's can be used as in (1).

(I wonder if my teacher is in good health.)
- (g) 音楽会の切符があるんだけど、君は行けるかな。
(There is a concert ticket, but I wonder if you can go.)

Notes

- The sentence-final particle kana is used when one asks himself about s.t. In essence kana is a marker of monologue question, so this cannot be used as a straightforward question addressed to others. Compare the following:

- どこへ行きましょうか。
(Where shall we go?)
- どこへ行きますか。
(Where are you going?)
- どこへ行こうかな。
(I wonder where I should go.)

The questions of (1) and (2) are straightforward questions addressed to others, but (3) is a monologue question which does not need to be answered. However, if it is a yes-no question and if the addressee is an equal or younger one, kana can be used as a question addressed to others, as shown in KS(B) and Ex.(g).

2. If one asks himself what one should do, Vvol has to be used as in KS(A) and Ex.(b)
3. Kana is normally used by a male speaker, but it is often used by a female speaker, too, in casual spoken Japanese. The normal counterpart is kashira.
(⇒ kashira (DBJG: 181-82))

Notes

- The adverb kanarazushimo is used with a negative predicate. Typically, the final predicate is to wa kagiranai (lit. 'not limited to ~').

(⇒ to wa kagiranai)

2. Kanarazushimo ~ nai is often used in a proverbial expression in which the tense of the final predicate is usually nonpast. However, kanarazushimo can be used with the past tense as in (1) below.

- (1) a. その夏<sup>なつ</sup>日本に行った学生は必ずしも日本語が上手にはならなかった。
(The students who went to Japan that summer not always became proficient in Japanese.)
- b. ピアノの名手<sup>めいしゅ</sup>ウラジミール・ホロビッツの演奏<sup>えんそう</sup>は必ずしも完璧<sup>かんぺき</sup>ではなかった。
(The performances of the virtuoso pianist Vladimir Horowitz were not always perfect.)

[Related Expression]

Kanarazushimo ~ nai expresses a partial negative. The partial negative can also be expressed by other expressions such as minna wa ~ nai, zenbu wa ~ nai, subete wa ~ nai, itsumo wa ~ nai. Examples follow:

- [1] 光<sup>ひか</sup>る物<sup>もの</sup>が {みんな / 全部<sup>ぜんぶ</sup> / すべて} 金<sup>きん</sup>ではない。
(All that glitters is not gold.)
- [2] 私はいつも元気<sup>げんき</sup>だというわけじゃない。
(It is not the case that I am always healthy.)
- [3] あの先生<sup>はなし</sup>の話は {みんな / 全部<sup>ぜんぶ</sup> / すべて} は分らない。
(It is not the case that I understand everything that the professor has to say.)

Among these partial negative expressions, kanarazushimo and subete is much less colloquial than the rest. Note also that minna 'all,' zenbu 'all,' subete 'all,' and itsumo 'always' do not always require a negative ending; whereas kanarazushimo always requires a negative ending. Examples follow:

- [4] a. 友達<sup>ともだち</sup>は {みんな / *必ずしも} 結婚している。
(My friends are all married.)
- b. 宿題<sup>しゅくだい</sup>は {全部<sup>ぜんぶ</sup> / *必ずしも} やってしまった。

- (k) 暴動すら起こりかねないような緊迫した状況だった。

Notes

1. Vmasu kaneru (Gr. 2) is often used in formal spoken or written Japanese to express politely that the speaker / writer cannot do s.t. owing to some circumstance, as shown in KS(A) and Exs. (a) – (d).
2. The negative version, i.e., Vmasu kanenai is actually a double negative, so it literally means ‘can do s.t.,’ but it actually means ‘it is very possible’ or ‘might.’
3. The verb that can take -kaneru is a verb that takes a first person human subject. So verbs such as kowareru ‘break,’ aru ‘exist,’ kawaku ‘dry up,’ hareru ‘clear up,’ kumoru ‘become cloudy,’ etc., cannot take -kaneru. In contrast, the verb that can take -kanenai can take either the third person human subject (as in Exs.(h) and (i)) or the third person non-human subject (as in Exs.(j) and (k)).
4. None of the regular potential forms can take -kaneru either, because it creates double potential meaning.

(1) a. *そのご依頼には、応じられかねます。

(I cannot comply with your request.)

→ そのご依頼には、応じかねます。

b. *この仕事は引き受けられかねます。

(I cannot accept this job.)

→ この仕事は引き受けかねます。

However, there are two exceptions: wakaru ‘can figure out’ and dekiru ‘can’ (used with a Sino-Japanese compound) can take -kaneru, as shown in KS(A) and Ex.(b), respectively.

5. Ex.(g) is an idiomatic case which comes from Vmasu of machi-kaneru ‘cannot wait’ and is exceptional in that it takes a third person subject unlike other cases of the Vmasu kaneru. No other new combination like o-machi-kane is possible.
6. As explained in Note 3, -kaneru takes the first person, but when the main predicate is in the progressive form, -kaneru can take the third person, as in Ex.(e) and (f).

[Related Expressions]

There are two auxiliaries similar to -kaneru. They are Vmasu nikui and Vmasu gatai. The crucial difference is that -kaneru conveys the meaning of 'cannot,' but the other two don't; rather, they convey the meaning of 'hard to do s.t.' The auxiliary -gatai is used in written Japanese, so it sounds very awkward in [1b] but is acceptable in [1a].

[1] a. そのような条件<sup>じょうけん</sup>には応じ {かねる / にくい / がたい}。
(It is hard for me to accept such a condition.)

b. そいつはちょっと賛成<sup>さんせい</sup>し {かねる / にくい / ??がたい} な。
(It's hard to agree to that, you know.)

Note

The construction ~ kara ~ ni itaru made is used to express a wide range of coverage. The construction is primarily used in written Japanese.

[Related Expression]

~ kara ~ ni itaru made is replaced by ~ kara ~ made in spoken Japanese. Thus, for example, KS, Exs.(a) and (b) change to, [1], [2], and [3], respectively.
(⇒ kara<sup>1</sup> (DBJG: 176); made (DBJG: 225–28))

- [1] スミスさんは週刊誌から学術書まで、幅広い日本語が読める。

(cf. Ex.(a))

- [3] 私が日本へ行った時、友人の山田さんは空港への出迎えからホテルの予約まで、実に親切にしてくれた。(cf. Ex.(b))

Note

The kakete of ~ kara ~ ni kakete is Vte of the verb “kakeru” whose basic meaning is ‘to hang s.t. over s.t. else.’ This basic meaning is reflected in the meaning of the structure, that is, ‘extended span of time / space across time / spatial boundaries.’

【Related Expression】

~ kara ~ made is similar to ~ kara ~ ni kakete, but not exactly. The former indicates a spatial / temporal / quantitative beginning, and the end point is clear, but the latter indicates a spatial / temporal beginning and the end point is not clear. So, as shown in [1], ~ kara ~ ni kakete is ungrammatical or marginal, because the end point is clear.

(It's not right for you to be indifferent just because it's not your problem.)
- (g) 女だからと言って侮ってはいけない。
(Don't take her lightly just because she is a woman.)

Notes

1. Kara to itte occurs with a main clause in the negative form. “S<sub>1</sub> kara to itte S<sub>2</sub> {wake ni wa ikanai / koto wa nai / etc.}” is used in the following situations:

- (1) When the speaker expects the hearer (or someone else) to think  $S_2$  because of  $S_1$  but disagrees with it (e.g., KS(A) and Exs.(a) – (d)) or denies it (e.g., KS(B) and Ex.(e)).
- (2) When the hearer (or someone else) does something because of  $S_1$ , but the speaker disagrees with that action (e.g., KS(C), Exs.(f) and (g)).

2. Kara to itte can be contracted to karatte in conversation, as in (3).

- (3) ちょっと出来る<sup>で</sup>からって、そんなに威張<sup>いば</sup>らなくてもいいでしょう。
(You shouldn't boast that much just because you are better than others.)

[Related Expressions]

I. Kara cannot be used in place of kara to itte. Compare [1] and KS(A).

- [1] 子供だから許すわけにはいかない。
(I can't forgive him just because he is a child.)

The difference is that the scope of wake ni wa ikanai in [1] is yurusu '(I) forgive him' while that of wake ni wa ikanai in KS(A) is kodomo da kara yurusu '(I) forgive him because he is a child.'

II. Te mo and tatte are similar to kara to itte. However, unlike sentences with kara to itte, sentences with te mo or tatte do not convey the speaker's disapproval of using  $S_1$  as a justification for  $S_2$ . (See Note 1.) Compare [2a] with KS(C), and [2b] with Ex.(a).

- [2] a. 試験に受から {なくても / なくたって} そんなに悲観することはない。
(You don't have to be so pessimistic even though you didn't pass the exam.)
- b. 弁償 {しても / したって} 済む問題ではない。
(The problem will not be solved even though you have paid compensation / even if you pay compensation.)

Notes

- The conjunctural auxiliary karō is the contracted form of the no longer used Adj(i) ku arō, and arō is the conjunctural form of aru. (⇒ yō)
- The auxiliary karō is connected only with an Adj(i). When Adj(na) and N are connected with karō, they have to be negative, because the negative nai is an Adj(i).
- V cannot be connected with karō, as shown in (1).

- (1) *私<sup>わたし</sup>達<sup>たち</sup>は来年<sup>らいねん</sup>もこの共<sup>き</sup>同<sup>どう</sup>研究<sup>けんきゆう</sup>を続<sup>つづ</sup>ける<sup>つづ</sup>かろう。

(We will probably continue this joint research next year.)

→ 私達は来年もこの共同研究を続けるだろう。

[Related Expression]

Another auxiliary darō can replace karō without any change of meaning, as in [1]. Note that the connections for the two auxiliaries are different: the ones for darō are {V / Adj(i)inf} darō and {Adj(na)stem / N} { $\emptyset$  / datta} darō, whereas the ones for karō is Adj(i)stem karō. (See Formation.)

- [1] a. 十年後の自分を予想するのは難しいだろう。(cf. KS(A))
 b. この研究を一年で完成するのは極めて難しいだろう。(cf. Ex.(a))
 c. 日本人の中にも創造性のない教育に反対する人は多いだろう。
 (cf. Ex(b))

Also to be noted is the fact that karō cannot be connected with the past tense, but darō can, as shown in [2].

- [2] a. ジョンには日本滞在は興味深<sup>たいがい きょうみ ぶか</sup>かった {(だ)ろう / *かろう}。
 (For John the stay in Japan was probably intriguing.)
 b. 北海道<sup>ほっかいどう</sup>の冬<sup>ふゆ</sup>は寒<sup>さむ</sup>かった {(だ)ろう / *かろう}。
 (The winter in Hokkaido was probably cold.)

The most basic difference between darō and karō is that darō can be used in both spoken and written Japanese, but karō can be used only in written Japanese.
 (⇒ darō (DBJG: 100–02))

- (g) 田村はその大臣をよく知っているような話し方をする。
 ((1) Tamura's talk sounds like he knows the minister well. (2) Tamura talks as if he knew that minister well.)

Notes

1. -kata o suru is used to indicate a manner in which someone does something. When this phrase is used in a main clause, the manner is under focus.
2. When a suru-verb is involved in Vmasu-kata, the noun part of the verb is followed by no, as in (1).

- (1) a. 運転 {の / *ø} し方
 (the way s.o. drives; how to drive)
- b. ノック {の / *ø} し方
 (the way s.o. knocks (on the door); how to knock (on the door))

(⇒ -kata (DBJG: 183–87))

3. The direct object of the verb in Vmasu-kata is marked by no, not by o, as in (2). Thus, when the verb is a suru-verb, no occurs twice in the phrase, as in (2b).

- (2) a. フットボール {の / *を} 投げ方
 (the way s.o. throws a football; how to throw a football)
- b. クレーン {の / *を} 運転のし方
 (the way s.o. operates a crane; how to operate a crane)

4. The expressions like yōna hanashi-kata o suru or yōna mono no ii-kata o suru can be interpreted in two ways in some contexts, as in Ex.(g).

[Related Expressions]

1. In some cases, the manner in which someone does something is expressed by the adverbial form of an adjective, as in [1].

- [1] 米田<sup>よねだ</sup>先生<sup>せんせい</sup>は文法<sup>ぶんぽう</sup>を{うまく / 上手<sup>じょうず</sup>に}教える。
(Mr. Yoneda is good at teaching grammar (lit. teaches grammar skillfully).)

(⇒ Appendix 1 (DBJG: 581))

However, “Adj(i / na) Vmasu-kata o suru” and “Adverbial form of Adj(i / na) V” are not always interchangeable. First, the adverbial forms of some adjectives cannot be used as manner adverbs (i.e., an adverb to mean “in such and such a manner”), as in [2].

- [2] a. *あのピッチャーは面白<sup>おもしろ</sup>く投げる。(Acceptable form: ……面白い投げ方をする。)
(That pitcher throws (a ball) in an interesting way.)
- b. *和男<sup>かずお</sup>は変<sup>へん</sup>に笑<sup>わら</sup>った。(Acceptable form: ……変な笑い方をした。)
(Kazuo smiled strangely (lit. smiled in a strange manner).)

Second, “Adj(i / na) Vmasu-kata o suru” cannot be used when the manner can be described objectively without involving any personal impression, as in [3].

- [3] a. *まっすぐな歩<sup>ある</sup>き方<sup>かた</sup>をして下さい。(Acceptable form: まっすぐに歩いて下さい。)
(Please walk straight.)
- b. *私<sup>わたし</sup>達<sup>たち</sup>は丸<sup>まる</sup>い座<sup>すわ</sup>り方<sup>かた</sup>をした。(Acceptable form: ……丸く座った。)
(We sat in a circle.)

Third, “Adj(i / na) Vmasu-kata o suru” cannot be used to describe how a person feels, as in [4].

- [4] a. *私はうれ<sup>うれ</sup>しい思<sup>おも</sup>い方<sup>かた</sup>をした。(Acceptable form: ……うれしく思った。)
(I was pleased.)
- b. *紀子<sup>のりこ</sup>は悲<sup>かな</sup>しい感<sup>かん</sup>じ方<sup>かた</sup>をした。(Acceptable form: ……悲しく感じた。)
(Noriko felt sad.)

- II. “X yōni V” and “X yōna Vmasu-kata o suru” both indicate a manner in which someone does something. However, “X yōni V” is used when expressing an exact likeness. Compare [5a] and [5b].

- [5] a. 私が言うように書いて下さい。
(1) Please write it down just like I tell you. (2) Please write it in the way I tell you.)
- b. 私が言うような書き方をして下さい。
(Please write it in a way similar to the way I tell you.)

Similarly, [6a] implies that Mr. Green’s command of Japanese is like that of a native Japanese. [6b], on the other hand, implies that some aspects of Mr. Green’s way of speaking Japanese are like native Japanese speakers.

- [6] a. グリーンさんは日本人のように日本語を話す。
(Mr. Green speaks Japanese like a native Japanese.)
- b. グリーンさんは日本人のような日本語の話し方をする。
(Mr. Green speaks Japanese in a way similar to the way Japanese people speak.)

Because of the “exactness” that “X yōni V” implies, this expression is unnatural if it is unreasonable to expect that someone does something exactly in the way indicated in X, as in [7].

- [7] a. ??ブラウンさんはハリスさんのようにものを見る。
(Mr. Brown views things just like Mr. Harris.)
- b. ブラウンさんはハリスさんのようなものの見方をする。
(Mr. Brown views things similarly to the way that Mr. Harris does.)

(⇒ yōni<sup>1,2</sup> (DBJG: 553-56))

Note

The conjunction can be used when one makes an assertion that a popular belief or what the listener / reader may believe is not always true. In  $S_1$  ka to iu to  $S_2$ , what the listener / reader is expected to believe is expressed in  $S_1$ .  $S_2$  is often sō de wa nai or its variations as shown in KS and Exs. However, the  $S_2$  part is sometimes omitted as in the following examples.

- (1) 日本人はみんなすしが好きかと言うと、全然すしを食べない日本人も時々いる。
(You would think that all Japanese liked sushi, but you sometimes encounter Japanese who don't like sushi.)

- (2) 漫画はくだらないかと言うと、中にはとてもいい漫画もある。
 (You would think that comic books are trash, but some of them are really good.)

Notes

1. The conjunction / particle kawari ni indicates s.t. being compensated by s.t. else. If the idea of balancing is missing kawari ni cannot be used.

(⇒ Related Expressions)

- (1) *図書館に行った代わりに閉まっていた。
→ 図書館に行ったが、閉まっていた。
- (2) *この本はつまらない代わりに読んでしまいました。
→ この本はつまらないけれど、読んでしまいました。

2. Vnonpast before kawari ni indicates an action that has not taken place; whereas Vpast kawari ni indicates an action that has already taken place. Consider the difference in meaning among the sentences (3) below:

- (3) a. 昼間遊ぶ代わりに夜遊ぶつもりだ。
(I intend to play at night instead of having fun in the daytime.)
- b. 昼間遊んだ代わりに夜勉強した。
(I played in the daytime, but (to make up for it) I studied at night.)
- c. 昼間遊んだ代わりに夜勉強するつもりだ。
(I played in the daytime, so (to make up for it) I intend to study at night.)
- d. 昼間遊ぶ代わりに夜遊んだ。
(I played at night instead of playing in the daytime.)

In (3a) and (3d), the speaker doesn't or didn't play in the daytime, respectively but in (3b) and (3c), the speaker played.

In the case of adjectives before kawari ni, whatever is expressed by the adjective holds true, but Adj<sub>1</sub> inf·past kawari ni Adj<sub>2</sub> inf·nonpast is unacceptable, as shown in (4).

- (4) a. アパートは高い代わりに便利だ。
(The apartment is expensive but it is convenient.)

- b. アパートは高い代わりに便利だった。
(The apartment was expensive but it was convenient.)
- c. *アパートは高かった代わりに便利だ。
(The apartment was expensive but it is convenient.)
- d. アパートは高かった代わりに便利だった。
(The apartment was expensive but it was convenient.)

【Related Expressions】

If an action / state expressed in S kawari ni does not actually occur as in Exs.(a) and (c), the entire sentence can be rewritten by using -nai de or -zu ni, as shown in [1a]. If an action / state expressed in the subordinate clause actually occurs and the subordinate clause is connected with the main clause with the meaning of 'so' or 'but,' the entire sentence can be rewritten by kara / node or ga / keredo(mo) / shikashi, as shown in [1b] and [1c]. However, the choice of kawari ni will make the meaning of compensation much clearer.

- [1] a. 今日は図書館で勉強 {しないで / せずに} 寮の部屋で勉強した。
(cf. Ex.(a))
- b. 山田さんにはちょっと余分に働いてもらった {から / ので / が / けれど / 。しかし}, 特別手当を出した。(cf. KS(B))
- c. 前のアパートは設備は悪かった {から / ので / 。しかし / が / けれど / のに}, 家賃は安かった。(cf. KS(C))

The crucial difference between -nai de, -zu ni, ga, keredo(mo), shikashi on one hand, and kawari ni (as a subordinate conjunction) on the other hand is that the former can be used even when no meaning of balancing is intended, but the latter cannot be used if balancing is not implied. That is why all the following sentences would become unacceptable if -nai de, -zu ni, ga, keredo(mo), and shikashi were replaced by kawari ni.

- [2] 今朝は朝ごはんを {食べないで / 食べずに / *食べる代わりに} 会社に行った。
(I went to the company without eating my breakfast.)

- [3] 友達に電話した {が / けれど / *代わりに}, あいにく, 家にいなかった。
(I called my friend, but to my regret, he wasn't at home.)
- [4] スミスさんは日本に行ったことがない {。しかし / *代わりに}, 日本語が上手だ。
(Mr. Smith has never been to Japan. Yet he is good at Japanese.)

- (h) カラオケは初めてだったが、結構楽しかった。
(It was my first karaoke, but it was rather enjoyable.)

Notes

- The adverb kekkō is used in colloquial speech when something exceeds the speaker's and / or hearer's expectation to a considerable degree. In the sentences that end in ne the adverb indicates that s.t. exceeds both the speaker's and the hearer's expectation (as in KS and Exs.(c) – (f)). The adverb kekkō indicates that s.t. exceeds the hearer's expectation (as in Exs.(a) and (b)) or the speaker's expectation (as in Exs.(g) and (h)).
- The adverb can be used with a verb that expresses an undesirable state as in Exs.(e) – (g) but it cannot be used easily with an adjective that expresses an undesirable state as shown below:

- (1) a. ??この雑誌は結構つまらないです。
(This magazine is quite boring.)
→ この雑誌は思ったよりつまらないです。
- b. ??このケーキは結構まずいです。
(This cake is rather tasteless.)
→ このケーキは思ったよりまずいです。

For that matter kekkō cannot be used with any negative predicate.

- (2) a. *この雑誌は結構面白くないです。
(This magazine is quite uninteresting.)
→ この雑誌は思ったより面白くないです。
- b. *このケーキは結構おいしくないです。
(This cake is quite tasteless.)
→ このケーキは思ったよりおいしくないです。

3. The verb predicate that is modified by kekkō is subject to degree interpretation. For example, yoku hashiru 'run well' (in Ex.(a)), i ni motareru 'heavy on the stomach' (in Ex.(e)), komu 'get crowded' (in Ex.(f)) and nayamu 'suffer' (Ex.(g)).

[Related Expressions]

- I. Another adverb angai is used to express unexpectedness about an action or a state. Since kekkō also expresses unexpectedness about s.t., there are cases where kekkō can be replaced by angai, as shown in [1].

- [1] a. ここのすしは、<sup>あんがい</sup>案外おいしいね。(cf. KS)
 b. あの人は間抜けに見えるでしょう。でも、案外頭がいいんです。(cf. Ex.(b))
 c. 今日は日曜日なのに高速が案外混んでいるね。(cf. Ex.(f))
 d. 父は楽天的な人でしたが、失職した時には案外悩んだようです。(cf. Ex.(g))

However, when the modified verb does not indicate s.t. that is subject to degree interpretation such as kekkon-suru 'get married,' kuru 'come,' tsuku 'arrive,' etc., kekkō is out of the question as shown in [2].

- [2] a. {案外 / *結構} あの二人は<sup>あたり</sup>結婚<sup>けっこん</sup>するかもしれないよ。
 (The two might get married contrary to our expectation.)
 b. あいつはパーティーにはたいてい来ないけど、今日は<sup>なつやすみ</sup>夏休みの前だし、{案外 / *結構} 来るかもしれないぞ。
 (That guy usually doesn't show up at a party, but today is right before the summer break so he might come contrary to our expectation.)
 c. {案外 / *結構}, <sup>かれ</sup>彼<sup>ほう</sup>の方が<sup>さき</sup>先に<sup>つ</sup>着いているかもしれませんよ。
 (He may have arrived there earlier than us, contrary to our expectation, you know.)

When degree interpretation is possible, both kekko and angai are both acceptable, as already shown in [1]. In other words, kekko has to be used with a predicate that is subject to degree interpretation, but the degree interpretation is irrelevant to angai.

- II. There is another adverb igai to ‘unexpectedly,’ ‘to one’s surprise’ which is very similar to kekko. Igai to means that s.t. totally beyond one’s expectation occurs. Since both kekko and igai to express unexpectedness they are interchangeable when the predicate is subject to degree interpretation.

- [3] a. このすしは、<sup>いがい</sup>意外とおいしいね。(cf. KS)
 b. あの人は聞抜けに見えるでしょう。でも、意外と頭がいいんです。(cf. Ex.(b))
 c. 今日は日曜日なのに高速が意外と混んでいるね。(cf. Ex.(f))
 d. 父は楽天的な人でしたが、失職した時には意外と悩んだようです。(Ex.(g))

Just like angai, igai to cannot be replaced by kekko when the predicate is not subject to degree interpretation.

- [4] a. {意外と / *結構} あの二人は結婚するかもしれないよ。
 (The two might get married contrary to our expectation.)
 b. あいつはパーティーにはたいてい来ないけど、今日は夏休みの前だし、{意外と / *結構} 来るかもしれないぞ。
 (That guy usually doesn’t show up at a party, but today is right before the summer break so he might come contrary to our expectation.)
 c. {意外と / *結構}, 彼の方が先に着いているかもしれませんよ。
 (He may have arrived there earlier than us, contrary to our expectation, you know.)

- III. Another adverb wari(ai) to / ni or wariai ‘a little more than one has expected’ expresses a slight gap between expectation and reality. In other words, the speaker has some expectation about something, and believes that reality is relatively higher or lower than his expectation. Kekkō in the KS and Exs. can be all replaced by wari(ai) to / ni or by wariai.

- [5] a. このすしは、<sup>わり あい</sup>割(合)とおいしいね。(cf. KS)
(The sushi served here is rather good.)
- b. あの人は間抜けに見えるでしょう。でも、割と頭がいいんです。(cf. Ex.(b))
(He looks dumb, but he is rather smart.)
- c. 今日は日曜日なのに高速が割合混んでいるね。(cf. Ex.(f))
(Today is Sunday, but the highway is rather crowded, isn't it?)

The replaced versions express the speaker's comparison between the expectation and the reality. So, for example, in [5a], the speaker expected that sushi served at the restaurant would not be delicious because the store did not look good or the price was cheap. But he is pleasantly surprised that sushi served there is pretty good. If such comparison between the expectation and the reality is difficult the replacement becomes impossible as shown in [6] below.

- [6] *父は楽天的な人でしたが、失職した時には割に悩んだようです。
(cf. Ex.(g))

[Related Expressions]

- I. Kono yōna and konna (the contracted form of kono yōna) mean the same as kō shita. However, kō shita and kono yōna are more formal than konna and, therefore, mostly used in written Japanese. The adverbial form of kono yōna is kono yōni. Konna has no adverbial form.
- II. The demonstratives kō iu and kō itta also express the idea “such; like this.” However, these expressions do not have corresponding adverbial forms like kō shite. (See Note.)
- III. Sō shita ‘like that’ and ā shita ‘like that’ are similar to kō shita in meaning. However, sō shita and ā shita cannot be used to refer to s.o. or s.t. from previous discourse.

Note

When koto de represents a means, the preceding element must be a nonpast verb regardless of the tense of the main clause. When koto de represents a cause, the preceding element can be a verb, an adjective, or a copula in either the past or nonpast tense.

[Related Expressions]

I. Koto ni yori / yotte expresses the same idea as koto de.

- [1] 私は週末にゴルフをすること {で / によって / により} 気分転換を図っています。(=KS(A))
- [2] 彼が仲裁の場に出ていったこと {で / によって / により} 事態は余計にこじれた。(=KS(B))

II. Tame ni, node, and kara can also indicate a cause. One difference between these conjunctions and koto de is that “ $S_1$  koto de  $S_2$ ” can be used only when the events, actions, or situations in  $S_1$  and  $S_2$  take place at the same time, as in [3a]. Tame ni, node, and kara, on the other hand, do not have this restriction, as in [3b].

- [3] a. 私は<sup>がくせい</sup>学生の時<sup>とき</sup>あまり勉強<sup>べんきょう</sup>しなかったことで {よく親<sup>おや</sup>に叱<sup>しか</sup>られた / *今<sup>いま</sup>とても苦勞<sup>くろう</sup>している}。

(Because I didn't study very hard when I was a student, {my parents often told me off / I am in trouble now}.)

It should also be noted that tame ni indicates a cause, a reason, and a purpose and that node and kara indicate a cause and a reason, while koto de indicates a cause and a means, but not a reason.

(⇒ tame (ni) (DBJG: 447–51); node (DBJG: 328–31); kara<sup>3</sup> (DBJG: 179–81))

Notes

1. X koto ni naru is usually preceded by a topic clause (e.g., KS(A), (D), and (E)) or a conditional clause (e.g., KS(B) and (C)). This clause represents an action or an event which leads to a certain situation or logical conclusion represented by X.
2. A conditional clause before X koto ni naru can be either a tara-conditional (KS(B) and Ex.(b)), a ba-conditional (KS(C), Exs.(c) and (d)), or a to-conditional (Ex.(a)).
3. In another context, S koto ni naru means 'it will be decided that.'

Note

S koto ni yoru is usually preceded by a topic phrase or clause. S represents the cause of the result represented by the topic phrase or clause.

[Related Expression]

Tame da or kara da are also used to present a cause. Thus, KS(B), for example, can be paraphrased as [1].

- [1] 進が非行に走ったのは両親の愛情が不足していた {ことによる / ためだ / からだ}。(=KS(B))

It should be noted that “X wa S tame da” and “X wa S kara da” can be used for “X wa S koto ni yoru” only when X is a clause. When X is a noun phrase, tame da and kara da are unnatural, as in [2].

- [2] 今回の失敗は事前の話し合いが不十分だった {ことによる / ?ためだ / ?からだ}。(=KS(A))

Compare [2] with [3], where X is a clause.

- [3] <sup>われわれ</sup>我々が今回失敗したのは事前の話し合いが不十分だった {ことによる / ためだ / からだ}。

(It was because we didn't have enough discussion beforehand that we failed this time.)

It should also be noted that koto ni yoru represents only a cause. Kara da, on the other hand, represents a reason as well as a cause and tame da represents a reason, a purpose, or a cause, as in [4] and [5].

- [4] 彼がパーティーに<sup>いそが</sup>来なかったのは忙しかった {ためだ / からだ / *ことによる}。[Reason]

(The reason that he didn't come to the party was that he was busy.)

- [5] 彼がパーティーへ<sup>はるこ</sup>来るのは春子に<sup>あ</sup>会う {ためだ / *からだ / *ことによる}。[Purpose]

(It is to see Haruko that he is coming to the party.)

Notes

1. Vinf·nonpast + koto wa nai is used as an expression equivalent to Vinf·nonpast + hitsuyō wa nai 'there is no need to V' or Vinf·nonpast + kanōsei wa nai 'there is no possibility that ~.'
2. In some cases koto wa nai can be interpreted as either 'no need' or 'no possibility' (e.g., Exs.(c) and (d)). The interpretation depends on the context or situation.
3. Vinf·nonpast + koto ga/wa aru does not mean 'there is a need to' or 'there is a possibility that ~.' (⇒ koto ga aru<sup>2</sup> (DBJG: 198–99))
4. In Vinf·nonpast + koto wa nai, V must be affirmative.
 (⇒ nai koto mo/wa nai)

【Related Expression】

Notes

- Adj(i)stem ku is used in written Japanese to function as a continuative form. When the ku-form connects two predicates, the relationship between the two is either a cumulative relationship as in KS(A) and Exs.(a) – (f) or a cause / reason relationship as in KS(B) and Exs.(g) – (i).
- As the following examples show it appears that the compound adjective Vmasu tai cannot be used to express a cause / reason relationship as shown in (1), although other compound adjectives can be used that way as shown in (2).

- (1) a. ??私は自分の研究を出版したく、いくつかの出版社に連絡してみた。

(I want to publish my own research so I contacted several publishers.)

→ 私は自分の研究を出版したくて、いくつかの出版社に連絡してみた。

- b. ??僕は若い頃から、小説が書きたく、うずうずしていた。
(I was restless, wanting to write a novel since my younger days.)

(Professor Kobayashi's grammar explanation is easy to understand, and it is a great help to me.)

- c. 少女は恋をしているらしく、はつらつとしていた。
(The girl appears to be in love with someone, and looks animated.)

3. Adj(i) ku cannot carry its own tense. Its tense is determined by the tense of the main predicate.

【Related Expression】

Adj(i)stem -kute can replace all the uses of Adj(i)stem -ku. The difference between the two are the following. First, -kute can be used in both spoken and written Japanese, but -ku is restricted to written Japanese. Secondly, -ku can be used as an adverb as in [1], but -kute cannot be used that way.

- [1] a. 字をもっと大き {く / *くて} 書いて下さい。
(Please write characters larger.)
b. 日本語が面白 {く / *くて} なってきた。
(Japanese has become interesting.)

Thirdly, as shown in (2) in Notes, -kute can be used where -ku is not acceptable.

Notes

1. Kurai can be replaced by gurai without a change in meaning.

(⇒ kurai (DBJG: 212–13))

(1) 山田さんは一番<sup>いちばん</sup>よく物を忘れる。
(Mr. Yamada is the most forgetful.)

4. Kurai expresses the idea of ‘at least,’ as in KS(D) and Ex.(g). X kurai in this use implies that the degree of a state is such that one cannot expect much more than X from that state.
5. S no wa X kurai no mono da expresses the idea that the speaker cannot think of anyone or anything else but X that meets the description in S. In other words, X meets the description in S to the highest degree among those the speaker can think of. (See KS(E) and Ex.(h).)
6. V<sub>1</sub> kurai nara V<sub>2</sub> hō ga mashi da expresses the idea that one would rather V<sub>2</sub> than V<sub>1</sub>. (This structure literally means that if the speaker’s situation is such that he might V<sub>1</sub>, it would be better for him to V<sub>2</sub>.) (See KS(F) and Ex.(i).)

[Related Expressions]

- I. Noni is similar to kuse ni. In fact, noni can replace kuse ni in KS(A), (B) and Exs.(a) – (f). Noni, however, does not express the speaker's emotion as strongly as kuse ni. Thus, noni is not suitable in contexts as Ex.(g), (3), and (4), where the speaker swears at the hearer. In addition, the restrictions in Notes 1 and 2 do not apply to noni.

(⇒ noni<sup>1</sup> (DBJG: 331–35))

- II. Ni mo kakawarazu expresses an idea similar to noni and kuse ni. However, ni mo kakawarazu is a highly formal and bookish expression and it expresses no emotion. Therefore, it cannot be used in highly emotive situations as in Ex.(g), (3), and (4). Note that the formation rules are different from those of kuse ni, as in [1].

- (2) 彼女はそんなことはすまい。
(She probably won't do such a thing.)

- (3) こんな機会は二度と来まい。
(Such an opportunity probably won't recur (lit. come again).)

3. Vinf·nonpast mai expresses the speaker's negative volition. Like V<sub>vol</sub>, mai does not have a past form. The past tense is expressed by other verbs, as in (4) – (5).

- (4) 清のパーティーにはもう行くまいと思った。(cf. Ex.(a))
(I decided (lit. thought) that I would not go to Kiyoshi's parties any more.)

- (5) もう橋本には何も頼むまいと心に決めた。(cf. KS(A))
(I am determined not to ask any more favors of Hashimoto.)
(⇒ ~ yō to omou (DBJG: 569–71))

4. The volition of someone other than the speaker can be expressed by mai, as in (6).

- (6) 恵子は清のパーティーにはもう行くまいと思った。
(Keiko decided (lit. thought) that she would not go to Kiyoshi's parties any more.)

Note that to omou 'think that' is used to express the volition of someone other than the speaker. Thus, (7) expresses the speaker's conjecture rather than Keiko's volition.

- (7) 恵子は清のパーティーにはもう行くまい。
(Keiko probably won't go to Kiyoshi's parties any more.)

5. Vinf·nonpast mai to suru expresses the idea of "try not to V."

- (8) 彼は私のハンドバッグを取ろうとしたが、私は取られ(る)まいとして脇の下に強くはさんだ。
(He tried to take my bag, but I held it tightly under my arm, trying to keep it from being taken.)

(⇒ miru (DBJG: 246–47))

When this structure is used in a subordinate clause, suru is often omitted, as in (9).

(9) 私は負け(る)まいと頑張った。

(I hung in there, trying not to lose (the game).)

6. Vvol ka Vinf·nonpast mai ka expresses the idea “whether (I) will V or not,” as in Ex.(b).
7. When mai expresses the speaker’s conjecture, its meaning is similar to nai darō. Mai, however, is more formal.
8. Because mai is seldom used in conversational Japanese, ja (the contracted form of de wa) aru mai rarely occurs.

an adverb that indicates the speaker’s strong belief that s.t. is not expected to (have) become a reality incredible; never thought;

never dreamed; surely not; im-

(Smith has studied Japanese for only one year, but he is fluent, you know.)
- B: まさか。(Impossible!)

Notes

1. The adverb masaka is used to express the speaker's strong belief that an action or a state is not expected to become or to have become a reality. The action or the state is usually s.t. that is not desirable for the speaker, but not always. Take Ex.(b), for example: no doubt it was a very desirable thing for the speaker to have passed the bar examination on his first attempt. The adverb masaka simply emphasizes that he did not expect to pass it.
2. The final predicate is either a thinking verb, a conjecture expression darō, or an expectation expression hazu, (wake ni wa iku) mai, and all take a negative form, as shown in Formation.
3. As shown in KS(E) and Ex.(j), masaka can be used by itself as an exclamation meaning 'incredible!' or 'impossible!'
4. There is a set phrase masaka no toki, meaning 'the time of need.'
(1) まさかの時に備えて貯金をしておいた方がいいよ。
(You'd better provide against the time of need.)

【Related Expression】

The adverb yomoya can express the same idea as masaka. The difference between the two is that yomoya cannot be used as an exclamation.

[1] A: 七十のおじさんが高校に入ったんだって。

B: {まさか / *よもや}。

[2] A: スミスさんは日本語を一年しか勉強していないのに、ペラペラですよ。

B: {まさか / *よもや}。

Except for the two examples above, all the uses of masaka in KS and Exs. can be rephrased with yomoya.

mashida ました adj. (na)

Note

Mashi is an Adj(na) which is used to indicate that s.t. / s.o. or a situation is better than s.t. / s.o. else or another situation even though it / he / she is not satisfactory. As for the use of mashida, it is exactly like any other Adj(na).

[Related Expression]

Mashida in all KS and Exs. can be replaced by ii, but the former always implies that s.o. or s.t. is not satisfactory but better, whereas the latter simply means that s.o. or s.t. is better.

- [1] a. こんな給料をもらう(くらい)なら辞めた方がいい。(cf. KS(A))

Note

When mata wa connects two noun phrases, ka after the first noun phrase is optional, as in KS(A), (B), Exs.(a) and (b).

[Related Expressions]

- Men* can also be used as an independent noun and has the same meaning as the suffix -men, as in (1).

- (e) 一男は百メートルを十一秒で走ってみせた。
(Kazuo managed to run 100 meters in 11 seconds.)

Notes

1. Vte miseru expresses primarily the speaker's strong determination to demonstrate his / her ability to accomplish s.t.
2. When miseru retains the literal meaning of 'show' a particular action, the tense of miseru can be either nonpast or past as shown in (1) and (2) below, but if miseru does not retain the original meaning, the tense of the verb cannot be past, as shown in (3) and (4) below.
  - (1) 私はその酒を一息で飲みほしてみせた。
(I drank up the sake in one breath for others to see.)
  - (2) 一男は百メートルを十一秒で走ってみせた。(=Ex.(e))
  - (3) *僕はこの会社の社長になってみせました。(cf. Ex.(a))
  - (4) *私はあのハンサムな男の子と結婚してみせました。(cf. Ex.(b))
3. Since Vte miseru expresses the speaker's own determination to do something, the subject can be neither the second person nor the third person.

- (5) *この会社の社長になってみせますか。
(Are you determined to become the president of this company?)
- (5') *<sup>やまだ</sup>山田さんはこの会社の社長になってみせます。
(Mr. Yamada is determined to become the president of the company.)

(Are you determined to run 100 meters in 11 seconds?)
- (6') ??スミスさんは百メートルを十一秒で走ってみせます。
(Smith is determined to run 100 meters in 11 seconds.)

The reason why (6) and (6') are better than (5) and (5') is that in the former miseru partially retains the original meaning of 'show' as a volitional verb. In fact, (7) is a good sentence.

- (7) 百メートルを十一秒で走ってみせてくれませんか。
(Won't you show us that you can run 100 meters in 11 seconds?)

Notes

1. Verbals with mo embedded in them (i.e., Vmasu mo suru/shinai,

Adj(f)stem ku mo aru nai, {Adj(na)stem / N} de mo aru nai are used in the following situations.

- (1) A is X and A is Y, too, or A is not X and A is not Y, either. (Here, X and Y are different adjectives or nouns.) (e.g., KS(B), (C), Exs.(c) and (d))
- (2) A does X and A does Y, too, or A does not do X and A does not do Y, either. (Here, X and Y are different verbs and Y is not accompanied by a noun with the particle ga, o, e, or ni.) (e.g., KS(A), Exs.(a) and (b))

When the second verb is accompanied by a noun marked by the particle ga, o, e, or ni, mo marks the noun instead of the verb, as in (3).

- (3) a. 吉岡さんは今年七十歳だが、十キロ走れる。<sup>じゅうきょ</sup>柔道<sup>で</sup>も出来る。
(Ga is replaced by mo.)
(Although Mr. Yoshioka is seventy this year, he can run ten kilometers. He can also do judo.)
- b. 吉岡さんは今年七十歳だが、毎日一キロ走る。時々エアロビクス<sup>も</sup>する。(O is replaced by mo.)
(Although Mr. Yoshioka is seventy this year, he runs one kilometer every day. He occasionally does aerobics, too.)
- c. 吉岡さんは今年七十歳だが、毎日一キロ走る。時々ジム【に / へ】<sup>も</sup>来る。
(Although Mr. Yoshioka is seventy this year, he runs one kilometer every day. He occasionally comes to the gym, too.)

Compare the above examples with (4).

- (4) 吉岡さんは今年七十歳だが、毎日一キロ走る。時々 {ディスコで / 夫人と} 踊り<sup>も</sup>する。
(Although Mr. Yoshioka is seventy this year, he runs one kilometer every day. He occasionally dances {at discos / with his wife}, too.)

Here, the verb is accompanied by a noun marked by de or to. In this case, mo must mark the verb rather than the noun. If mo marks the noun, the discourse becomes unacceptable, as in (5).

- (5) 吉岡さんは今年七十歳だが、毎日一キロ走る。時々 { *ディスコでも / *夫人とも } 踊る。

(Although Mr. Yoshioka is seventy this year, he runs one kilometer every day. He occasionally dances { at discos, too (as well as other places) / with his wife, too (as well as other women)}.)

2. Mo sometimes appears with no specific reference, as in (6), a typical opening in written correspondence.

- (6) 桜の便りも聞かれる今日このごろですが、いかがお過ごしですか。

(How are you during cherry blossom season? (lit. Cherry blossom information is also heard these days. How are you?))

In this situation, the mo indicates that other things which herald the arrival of spring are implied while the cherry blossom news is being reported.

3. Mo is often used in double negative sentences, which can be paraphrased as nai koto mo nai, as in (7).

- (7) a. 行きたくなくもない。(=行きたくないこともない。)
(It's not that I do not want to go.)
b. 彼の言うことは分からなくもないが、賛成は出来ない。
(=...分からないこともないが、...)
(It's not that I don't understand what he says; I just can't agree with it.)

Notes

1. Mono (da) is used to change the structure “X wa VP,” which describes an action taken by or received by X, to the structure “X wa NP da,” which is used to present a characteristic of X. Compare the two sentences in (1).

- (1) a. 現在のコンピュータのほとんどはフォン・ノイマン型と呼ばれている。

(Most of the present computers are called the von Neuman model.)

- b. 現在のコンピュータのほとんどはフォン・ノイマン型と呼ばれているものである。(=KS(A))

Here, (1a) describes what happens to the referent of the topic (i.e., most of the present computers) while (1b) provides a characteristic of the referent.

2. Mono (da) as in KS(B), Exs.(c) and (d) frequently appears in newspaper articles. It is used when a sentence provides such information as a purpose, a reason, a cause, or specific information about something introduced in the previous sentence. The copula (e.g., da) after mono is frequently dropped in this usage.
3. Mono followed by the quotative to, as in KS(C), Exs.(e) and (f), is used in general statements or opinion. This mono could be dropped without a change in meaning. Note that the copula da does not follow mono in this use.

Notes

1. The particle nado to is used to single out an approximate quote of s.o.'s speech or internal monologue.
2. Usually nado to occurs with an explicitly negative predicate as in Exs.

(b) and (d), or with a negative implication, as shown in KS and the rest of the Exs. For example, Ex.(f) sounds positive on the surface, but the speaker is saying the sentence with some sarcasm. The only case where a negative meaning is missing is when nado is with a noun.

- (1) a. 田中さんや小川さんなどが来ました。
(People like Mr. Tanaka and Mr. Ogawa showed up.)

- b. すしやてんぷらなどを食べました。
(I ate stuff like sushi and tempura.)

(⇒ nado (DBJG: 267-68))

Notes

1. The disjunctive conjunction nagara(mo) is a subordinate conjunction that is used to express the meaning of ‘although’ by combining two sentences.

2. The conjunction is normally used in written or formal, spoken Japanese.
3. When nagara is used as a disjunctive conjunction, the disjunctive meaning is emphasized if mo is used. There are cases where nagara and nagaramo are used as a temporal ‘while’ and the disjunctive ‘although,’ respectively, as shown in (1a) and (1b).

- (1) a. 彼は倒れ<sup>たお</sup>ながらピストルの引き金<sup>ひき</sup>を引<sup>が</sup>こうとした。
(As he fell down, he tried to pull the pistol trigger.)
- b. 彼は倒れ<sup>たお</sup>ながらもピストルの引き金<sup>ひき</sup>を引<sup>が</sup>こうとした。
(Although he fell down, he tried to pull the pistol trigger.)
(⇒ nagara (DBJG: 269–70))

4. Probably because zannen nagara ‘to one’s regret’ in Ex.(e) is an idiomatic phrase, mo cannot be attached to it.

[Related Expression]

The crucial differences between nagara(mo), on one hand and ga, keredo (mo), noni, on the other hand, are: first, the latter can be used in both spoken and written Japanese, whereas the former is normally used only in written or formal spoken Japanese, and secondly, the latter has no restriction on the choice of the subject, but the former normally takes the third person as the subject, apparently because it is usually employed to give the speaker’s observation of, or opinion about, a third person. Thus, Ex.(1) cannot take the first nor the second person pronouns.

- [1] a. {彼 / *あなた / *僕<sup>ぼく</sup>} は何度も日本へ行っていながら(も), 日本語が少しも話せない。
- b. {彼 / あなた / 僕} は日本へ何度も行っている {が / けれど / のに}, 日本語が少しも話せない。
- (⇒ ga (DBJG: 120–23); keredo(mo) (DBJG: 187–88); noni (DBJG: 331–35))

However, there are cases in which the first person is used as in Exs.(e) and (j).

(Japanese are said to like group behavior. Certainly, they do behave as a group, but there are quite a few Japanese who behave individually.)

Notes

1. The phrase -nai koto mo/wa nai is used when the speaker wants to mildly acknowledge / confirm with a proviso that s.o. has just said or written. The phrase is often followed by n(o) desu ga.
2. The phrase expresses a double negative structure that is virtually an affirmative statement.
3. The phrase is an expression of repetition that repeats the same verb, adjective or N + Copula which has just been used in the interlocutor's question. So, the phrase cannot be used as a discourse-initial sentence. In other words, one cannot start conversation with this phrase. So, for example, in a drinking party situation one cannot utter (1) out of the blue.

- (1) 酒は飲まないこと {も / は} ないんですが、せいぜいおちょこに
さけ の に、さんぱい
 二，三杯ですね。
 (It isn't that I don't drink sake, but I drink two or three sake cups at most.)

Someone must say something like (2) right before (1).

- (2) 酒は飲まないそうじゃありませんか。
 (I heard that you don't drink sake.)

4. The difference between -nai koto mo nai and -nai koto wa nai is that the former is weaker in assertion than the latter. In KS, yomanai koto wa nai asserts "I do read it" much more strongly than yomanai koto mo nai.

【Related Expression】

The predicate phrase -nai koto mo nai and koto wa share the same characteristics of not giving an unconditional statement. But the former is used in response to a negative question, whereas the latter is used in response to an affirmative question. Compare [1A] and [2A] with KS(A) and Ex.(a), respectively.

- [1] A: 日本語の新聞は読みますか。
 (Do you read Japanese newspapers?)
 B: そうですね、{読むことは読みます / *読まないことはないんです} が、時々だけです。
 (Yes, I do read newspapers, but very rarely.)
- [2] A: この辺は夏涼しいんですか。
 (Is it cool around here during the summer?)
 B: そうですね、{涼しいことは涼しいです / *涼しくないこともないんです} が、時々ひどく暑くなります。
 (It is cool, but sometimes it gets terribly hot.)
 (⇒ koto wa (DBJG: 206-08))

Notes

1. Nakanaka modifies only adjectives with positive meanings. Thus, nakana in the following examples is unacceptable.

(1) この本は {そんなに / それほど / あまり / *なかなか} 面白くない。

(This book is not that interesting.)

(2) この映画は {全く / 大変 / *なかなか} つまらない。

(This movie is very boring.)

(3) 君のテニスは {とても / *なかなか} 下手だね。

(Your tennis is quite bad, isn't it?)

(4) 十二月になつたら, {とても / *なかなか} 寒くなった。

(In December it became very cold.)

2. When nakana occurs with the negative form of a verb it indicates the difficulty or slowness with which s.t. desirable reaches its realization, as shown in KS(C) and Exs.(f) – (j).

3. There are cases in which the affirmative form of a verb can be used as shown in KS(D) and Ex.(k). Notice that in these cases one could say that the adverb yoku is understood. The deletion of yoku appears to be allowed when it is followed by a verb that already includes the meaning of 'well' like dekiru of KS(D) or hanaseru of Ex.(k). So, if a verb doesn't include the meaning of 'well', yoku cannot be omitted.

(5) この絵はなかなか {よく / *ゆ} 描けている。

4. It is not the case that any N can follow nakana; only those nouns that include the idea of an adjective or adverb can be used with nakana. For example, bijin in KS(E) and benkyō-ka in Ex.(l) come from utsukushii hito 'a beautiful woman' and yoku benkyōsuru hito 'a person who studies well.' Even the loan word purei-bōi can be used with nakana, because it means yoku onna-no-ko to asobu hito 'a person who habitually plays with girls.'

- (6) <sup>かれ</sup>彼はなかなかのプレーボーイだ。
(He is quite a playboy.)

【Related Expression】

Nakanaka can be used with adjectives that have of positive meaning and with the negative verb when it implies slowness or difficulty. Observe the following examples which contain six adverbs of degree: nanakana, totemo, hijō ni, taihen, kanari, and kekko.

- [1] a. ブラウンさんは日本語が {なかなか / とても / <sup>ひじょう</sup>非常に / 大変 / かなり / けっこう} 上手ですね。 (=KS(A))
 b. この生け花は {なかなか / とても / 非常に / 大変 / かなり / けっこう} 見事に生けてある。 (=KS(B))
 c. 今年は桜の花が {なかなか / *とても / *非常に / *大変 / *かなり / *けっこう} 咲きません。 (=KS(C))
 d. あの男は仕事は {なかなか / とても / 非常に / かなり / けっこう / *大変} 出来るねえ。 (=KS(D))
 e. 山田部長の奥さんは {なかなか (の) / とても / 非常に / かなり / 大変な / けっこう} 美人だ。 (=KS(E))

When nanakana is used with an affirmative predicate, it can be replaced by the five adverbs: totemo, hijō ni, kanari, taihen, and kekko. But when nanakana is used with a negative verb as in [1c], it cannot be replaced by either of the five adverbs. The crucial differences among the five adverbs are shown in [2].

- [2] a. こんなちいさいかいしゃ会社なのに, {けっこう / かなり / ?とても / ??大変} 質のいい製品を出しているね。
(This is such a small company, but they are turning out a very high quality product, aren't they?)
 b. あの人は見かけによらず, {けっこう / かなり / ??とても / *大変} 飲みますね。
(Despite his appearance, he drinks quite a lot.)

- c. 東京は日中三十七度もあり、{とても / 大変 / *けっこう / *かなり} 暑かった。

(In Tokyo it was 37 degrees in the daytime, and it was very hot.)

The sentences in [2] show that kekkō and kanari indicate a relatively high degree, whereas, totemo and taihen indicate an absolutely high degree. Kekkō and totemo are more colloquial than kanari and taihen, respectively.

-naku なく inflectional ending <w>

- (f) 僕が好きなのは日本料理ではなくタイ料理だ。

Notes

1. Adj(i)stem ku naku and Adj(na) de wa naku are used to express a reason / cause for what follows, as shown in KS(A) and Exs.(a) – (d). But the reason / cause there is not stated as precisely as in kara / node-clauses, just like the English conjunction “and”.

(⇒ kara<sup>3</sup> (DBJG: 179–81); node (DBJG: 328–31))

2. The -naku form is used in written Japanese, whereas -nakute can be used in both spoken and written Japanese. However, note that the negative continuative form -naku cannot be used with a verb except when naru follows the naku form, as shown in (1) and (2).

(1) a. うちの子は本を{読まなくて / *読まなく} 困るんです。
(Our child doesn't read books and we don't know what to do.)

b. 主人は酒をあまり{飲まなくて / *飲まなく} 助かっています。
(My husband doesn't drink much, and it's a relief.)

(⇒ nakute (DBJG: 279–80))

(2) a. うちの子は本を読まなくなりました。
(Our child doesn't read books any more.)

b. 主人は酒を飲まなくなりました。
(My husband doesn't drink any more.)

3. If nai is attached to N + Copula, it indicates contrast. But, if a noun is a Sino-Japanese compound with an adjectival nature, such as akusei (悪性) 'malignant,' kōhyō (好評) 'popularity,' it indicates a reason / cause for what follows.

(3) a. 腫瘍が悪性でなく、ほっとした。
(The tumor wasn't malignant, and I felt relieved.)

b. 書いた本が好評でなく、がっかりした。
(The book I wrote was not popular, and I felt disappointed.)

4. The following chart summarizes the negative and affirmative continuative forms.

	Affirmative		Negative
		<w>		<w>
Verb	話して 食べて	話し 食べ	話さなくて 食べなくて	話さず 食べず
Adj ( i )	高くて	高く	高くなくて	高くなく
Adj ( na )	静かで	静かで	静かでなくて	静かでなく
N + Cop	がくせい 学生で	学生で	学生でなくて	学生でなく

(⇒ te (DBJG: 464–67); Vmasu)

【Related Expression】

The -naku form is connected with an Adj(i / na) or a noun, but it cannot be connected with a verb except when naru follows the -naku form, as stated in Note 2. However, Vneg zu can be used in written Japanese. Vneg usually takes a potential negative form, except when Vneg means ‘without doing s.t.’

(⇒ naide (DBJG: 271–73))

- [1] a. 日本語の新聞が読めず、困った。
(I was not able to read Japanese newspapers, so I had a difficult time.)
- b. 住所も電話番号も分からず、連絡が出来なかった。
(I didn't know the address or the telephone number, so I was not able to contact him.)

(I don't know for sure, but there's some talk that they are developing an airplane that flies between Japan and the west coast of the States in about five hours.)

Notes

1. The phrase nandemo indicates the speaker's uncertainty about something. It is used at the beginning of the sentence and the final predicate has to be either a hearsay expression (as in KS, Exs.(a) and (d)) or conjectural expression (as in Exs.(b) and (c)).

- The sentence remains grammatical without nandemo, but it cannot express the idea of uncertainty.
- Among the conjectural expressions, darō / deshō cannot be used with nandemo, because the speaker is sure about s.t. more than 50% but less than 100% when he uses nandemo, whereas he is at most 50% sure about s.t. when he uses darō / deshō.

- (1) *何でもあの二人は結婚するでしょうね。

(I don't know for sure, but the two will probably get married.)

→ 何でもあの二人は結婚する {らしい / よう / そう} ですね。

- (e) 何しろ、忙しいんだ。寝る時間もないんだよ。
(I'm unbelievably busy. I don't have any sleeping time, you know.)

Notes

- Originally the adverb comes from nani o shiro meaning 'do what you may.'
- Nanishiro* indicates the speaker's emotive reaction about some extreme state of affairs, so if an unusual situation does not exist the adverb cannot be used.

- (1) 今日は休ませて下さい。何しろ {頭が割れそうに痛い / *ちよつと頭が痛い} ので。

(Please let me take a day off today, because {I have a severe headache / I have a slight headache}.)

- (2) 心配しなくてもいいよ。何しろ {警官が二十人も見張っている / *僕がここで見張っている} から。

(Don't worry, because {there are as many as 20 policemen watching / I am watching you}.)

[Related Expression]

Nanishiro in all the KS and Exs. above can be replaced by tonikaku. However, tonikaku has a meaning of 'any way/at any rate' but unlike nanishiro it does not indicate the speaker's emotive feeling. In other words, nanishiro is a speaker-oriented expression, but tonikaku isn't. So, the latter can be used in highly hearer-oriented request or question sentences but the former cannot.

- [1] a. {とにかく / *何しろ} 会いに来て下さい。

(I got really mad because the TV set which I just bought got broken right away.)
- (i) 仕事がうまく行っていないので、気が滅入ってならない。
(I feel helplessly depressed because my business isn't going well.)

Notes

1. Naranai is used to express insurmountable psychological or physical feeling. The form is connected with Adj(i/na) of psychological or physical feeling as shown in KS(A), (B), and Exs.(a) – (g), or with V of psychological feeling as in Exs.(h) and (i). If Adj(i/na) is neither a psychological nor physical feeling, naranai cannot be used.

- (1) ??私の家は狭くてならない。→ 私の家は狭すぎる。
(My house is unbearably small.)
- (2) *日本の物価は高くてならない。→ 日本の物価は高すぎる。
(Prices in Japan are unbearably expensive.)

However, there are some psychological and physiological adjectives that cannot be used with naranai.

- (3) a. ??久しぶりにジョギングしたら、足が痛くてならなかった。
(I jogged after a long while and my legs hurt unbearably.)
- b. *あの先生は厳しいから、嫌いでならない。
(That teacher is strict, so I hate him badly.)
- c. *あの人はとても気が優しいから、好きでならない。
(He is very considerate, so I like him a lot.)

When V is connected with naranai it is usually an idiomatic verb phrase of psychological feeling, and not of physiological feeling. Thus, for example, (4) is unacceptable, unless naranai is replaced by tamaranai.

- (4) *<sup>あさめし</sup>朝飯を<sup>た</sup>食べて<sup>こ</sup>来なかった<sup>ので</sup>、<sup>はら</sup>腹が<sup>へ</sup>減って<sup>ならない</sup>。
(I came here without eating my breakfast, so I am awfully hungry.)

2. The subject of the naranai construction is normally the speaker / writer or whoever the speaker / writer is empathetic with as in (5).

- (5) <sup>ま</sup>真<sup>ち</sup>知<sup>こ</sup>子はひと<sup>み</sup>の<sup>び</sup>美貌<sup>が</sup>う<sup>ら</sup>や<sup>ま</sup>しく<sup>て</sup>な<sup>ら</sup>ない。
(Machiko cannot help feeling envious of Hitomi's beauty.)

If the subject is other than the speaker / writer and the speaker / writer is not empathetic with the referent of the subject, it is necessary to use expressions such as yōda, rashii, yōsu da, etc, as in Ex.(b).

【Related Expression】

Tamaranai and shikata ga nai can be used with any Adj or V of psychological or physical feeling to express its unbearableness, whereas naranai is much more restricted in that it has to indicate psychological feeling when used with V, as shown in Note 1 above.

- [1] a. 暑いので、<sup>かわ</sup>のどが<sup>かわ</sup>渴いて {たまらない / <sup>しかた</sup>仕方がない / *ならない}。
(It's hot and I'm awfully thirsty.)
- b. アレルギーのためか、しょっちゅうくしゃ<sup>で</sup>みが<sup>で</sup>出て {たまらない / 仕方がない / *ならない}。
(Probably because of my allergy, I sneeze awfully a lot.)
- c. 駅まで<sup>はし</sup>走ったので足が<sup>はし</sup>痛くて {たまらない / 仕方がない / *ならない}。

The difference between tamaranai and shikata ga nai is that the former expresses the speaker's feeling of intolerability more strongly than the latter.

(If you want to play tennis, why don't you play with Tom or Charles?)
- (f) アパートを探しているんなら、不動産屋に行くなり、新聞の広告を見るなりしたらどうですか。
(If you are looking for an apartment, you should go to a realtor or look at the newspaper ads.)
- (g) 散歩するなり、泳ぐなり、何か運動をした方がいいですよ。
(You'd better do some exercise, like taking a walk or swimming.)

Notes

1. ~ nari ~ nari is used to present two choices as examples. The speaker makes a subjective judgment that his / her choice is a reasonable and proper one. That is why it is frequently used in sentences expressing a command / request as in KS(A), (B), and Exs.(b), or a suggestion / advice as in Exs.(e) – (g), or an intention / desire as in Exs.(a), (c) and (d).

2. Usually nari is repeated twice, but it may appear only once in Vinf·nonpast nari Vinf·nonpast nari.

(1) 床屋<sup>とこや</sup>に行くなりして、もっと髪<sup>かみ</sup>をきちんとしたらどうですか。
(Why don't you go to the barber's and make your hairstyle neat?)

(2) *文法が分からなかったら私なりに質問しなさい。(cf. KS(A))

3. The main predicate of the structure in question is more often than not in the nonpast tense, because it expresses the speaker's current will, determination, desire or habits as shown in Exs.(a), (c) and (d). But the main predicate can be in the past, if the predicate expresses a habitual determination as shown in (3) below.

(3) 私は漢字の読み方<sup>かた</sup>が分からない時<sup>とき</sup>は、先生なり日本人なりに聞くようにした。
(I've made it a rule to ask my teacher or a Japanese when I don't know how to read kanji.)

【Related Expressions】

- I. The structure ~ nari ~ nari can be replaced by the conjunction ~ ka ~ ka, because both can express choice. So, KS(A) and Ex.(a), for example, can be rewritten as [1] and [2], respectively.

[1] 文法が分からなかったら、私か鈴木先生(か)に聞いて下さい。
(cf. KS(A))

[2] 私か山田(か)が空港に迎えにまいります。(cf. Ex.(a))

The crucial difference between ~ nari ~ nari and ~ ka ~ (ka) is that the latter is an exhaustive listing of choices (i.e., 'either ~ or'), but the former is a listing of representatives out of more possible choices.

(⇒ ~ ka ~ ka; ka<sup>1</sup> (DBJG: 164–66))

- II. The expression ~ -tari ~ -tari can replace ~ nari ~ nari. For example,

KS(B) and Ex.(f) can be rewritten as [3] and [4].

(⇒ ~ tari ~ tari suru (DBJG: 458–61))

[3] 読めない漢字は辞書を引いたり, 日本人に聞いたりしなさい。
(cf. KS(B))

[4] アパートを探しているんなら, 不動産屋に行ったり, 新聞の広告を見たりした方がいいでしょう。(cf. Ex.(f))

Both ~ nari ~ nari and ~ -tari ~ -tari list representative examples, but the former sounds more assertive than the latter. (i.e., the speaker feels that his choice is the proper one). So in a situation where the speaker's assertion is due, ~ -tari ~ -tari is not used.

(If you cannot figure it out, do research at the library or ask your professor.)

In [6a] and [6b] nari is ungrammatical, because Vinf·nonpast nari Vinf·nonpast nari cannot be used with the past tense predicate.

[6] a. 昨日はテニスを {し<sup>きのう</sup>たり / *するなり} CDを {聞<sup>き</sup>いたり / *聞くなり} した。

(Yesterday I did things like playing tennis and listening to CDs.)

b. 酒を {飲<sup>の</sup>んだり / *飲むなり}, 歌を {歌<sup>うた</sup>ったり / *歌うなり}, とても楽しかった。

(Doing things like drinking sake and singing songs, we enjoyed very much (lit. was very enjoyable).)

Tari in [7] is ungrammatical, simply because it cannot be connected with a noun.

[7] 文法が分からなかったら, 私 {なり / *たり} 鈴木先生 {なり / *たり} に質問しなさい。(=KS(A))

In [8] tari is ungrammatical, because tari expresses X and Y (and others), whereas nari expresses X or Y (or s.t.).

- [8] 散歩 {するなり / *したり}, {泳ぐなり / *泳いだり}, 何か運動をした方がいいですよ。(=Ex.(g))

III. ~ toka ~ toka is also used to list representative examples. ~ nari ~ nari can be replaced by ~ toka ~ toka: the former conveys the speaker's subjective judgment that the choice is the proper one but the latter doesn't. ~ nari ~ nari in [9d] is unacceptable because it cannot take a verb right after it.

- [9] a. 文法が分からなかったら、私 {なり / とか} 鈴木先生 {なり / とか} に質問しなさい。(=KS(A))
- b. 読めない漢字は辞書を引く {なり / とか}, 日本人に聞く {なり / とか} しなさい。(=KS(B))
- c. 私はビール {とか / なり} ワイン {とか / なり}, 何か飲み物がほしいです。
(I'd like something to drink like beer or wine.)
- d. 私は政治 {とか / *なり} 宗教 {とか / *なり} いうものは嫌いです。
(I don't like things like politics or religion.)

Notes

1. The particle nari ni is used to express a way or a style that is proper to s.o. or s.t. The phrase N wa N nari ni is used when the speaker wants to assert s.t. about N. For example, in KS(A), the speaker wants to assert that he thinks hard in his own way.
2. Along with the adverbial phrase N nari ni, there is N nari no N as in KS(B) and Exs.(g) – (i).
3. In both N<sub>1</sub> wa N<sub>2</sub> nari ni and N<sub>1</sub> wa N<sub>2</sub> nari no N<sub>3</sub>, N<sub>2</sub> can be replaced by the pronoun sore if N is an inanimate object, as in (1) below.

- (1) a. 小さい大学はそれなりによさがある。(cf. Ex.(a)) (Small colleges have their own merits.)
- b. ジャズ音楽はそれなりの魅力がある。(cf. Ex.(h))

Notes

1. The compound particle nashi de wa is used to express a conditional “if s.t. / s.o. is missing.”
2. The particle nashi de wa usually appears with a negative predicate. The predicate can be implicitly negative as in Ex.(c).

- (1) a. *あなたなしでは生きていける。(cf. Ex.(a))

 (Without you I can live a life.)
- b. *実力なしでは世の中を渡れる。(cf. KS)

 (One can get along in society even without real talents.)

【Related Expressions】

- I. Nashi de wa can be replaced by nashi ni wa in KS and Exs.(a), (b), (d), and (e), but not in the other Exs. It seems that N nashi de wa is preferred in a context where N is used as a means of achieving something; whereas N nashi ni wa is preferred in a context where the meaning of a means of achieving something is weak. That is why in Exs.(c) and (f) the original nashi de wa can hardly be replaced by nashi ni wa; the free time is regarded as a means of enriching one's life in Ex.(c) and a car is regarded definitely as a means of transportation in Ex.(f). In [1] below, the same N “wāpuro” is regarded as a means in [1a] and not as such in [1b].

- [1] a. ワープロ {なしでは / ?なしには} いい論文<sup>ろんぶん</sup>が書<sup>か</sup>けない。

- b. ワープロ {なしには / ?なしでは} 文筆作業<sup>ぶんぴつ さぎょう</sup>は考<sup>かんが</sup>えられない。
 (One cannot think of writing activities without a word processor.)

- II. The adverbial phrase ~ nashi de wa can be rephrased by ~ ga nakereba or by ~ ga i-nakereba. Thus, for example, KS and Ex.(a) can be rewritten into [2] and [3], respectively, without changing their basic meaning.

The only difference between the two versions is that ~ nashi de wa version sounds slightly more formal probably due to the archaic form nashi.

[2] 実力がなければ、世の中を渡れない。(cf. KS)

[3] あなたがいなければ生きていけない。(cf. Ex.(a))

However, ~ ga (i)-nakereba cannot be rephrased by ~ nashi de wa when the sentence is a question, request, command, suggestion, or volitional sentence. Examples follow.

[4] {仕事<sup>さか</sup>がなければ / *仕事なしでは} {探<sup>さが</sup>しなさい / 探してください / 探したらどうですか / 探しましょう}。

Notes

1. Vinf-neg neba naranai is used in written Japanese or in formal public speech to express obligation, duty, or necessity.
2. The neba naranai form for the irregular verb suru is se-neba naranai.

【Related Expression】

The only crucial difference between Vinf-neg -neba naranai and Vinf-neg -nakereba naranai is that the former is used normally in written Japanese, but the latter, in spoken and written Japanese. ### Notes

1. If the structure is “Scnd, ~ {V / Adj}inf·nonpast {deshō / darō} ni,” the entire sentence expresses the subjunctive past (i.e., supposition that is counter to the current situation) as in Exs.(a), (b), (d), (e) and (f). “Scnd, ~ {V / Adj}inf·past {deshō / darō} ni” expresses the subjunctive past perfect (i.e., supposition that is counter to the past situation) as in KS(A) and Ex.(c). In both the subjunctive past and the past perfect, the entire sentence expresses the speaker’s regret. But if the subject of the Scnd is the second or third person, it expresses the speaker’s sympathy for the second or third person. If Scnd is not there, as in KS(B), Exs.(g) and (h), the entire sentence expresses sympathy.
2. The sentence-final particle ni always follows deshō / darō.

[Related Expression]

“Scnd, ~ {V / Adj}inf {deshō / darō}” can be rephrased as “Scnd, ~ {V / Adj} inf noni,” as shown in [1] and [2]. (⇒ noni (DBJG: 331–35))

[1] 昨日来れば夏子に会えたのに。(cf. KS(A))

[2] お金がたくさんあればこんな家でも買えるのに。(cf. Ex.(b))

The deshō/darō ni version indicates uncertainty, whereas the noni version does not. Comparison of [3a] and [3b] below will clarify the point.

[3] a. 僕にいい仕事があったら美智子さんと結婚出来ただろうに。
(=Ex.(c))

b. 僕にいい仕事があったら美智子さんと結婚出来たのに。
(If I had had a good job, it is very likely that I could have married her.)

[3a] expresses uncertainty, meaning 'I guess I could have married Michiko,' whereas [3b] doesn't express uncertainty.

- (b) にほん けいざい けんきゅう 日本の経済を研究するに当たって, こっかいとしょかん しりょうあつ 国会図書館で資料集めをした。

- (d) しやうせつか じだい 小説家は時代小説を書くに当たり, じだい れきし くわ しら その時代の歴史を詳しく調べた。
(Before writing a historical novel, the novelist did an in-depth survey of the history of the period he dealt with.)

Notes

1. ni atatte/atari is used to indicate time when one faces s.t. formal. The formality of the compound particle can be shown by (1).

- (1) a. 私は就寝に当たって少量の洋酒を喫することを習慣にしている。

(It is my custom to drink a small amount of foreign liquor prior to going to bed.)

- b. *私は寝るに当たってウイスキーを一杯ひっかける。

(I drink a glass of whisky before going to bed.)

Both (1a) and (1b) express a similar situation, but (1a) is expressed in a more formal way than (1b). Thus, ni atatte is acceptable in the formal sentence (1a) but not in the informal sentence (1b).

- The compound particle is primarily used in written Japanese. When a verb precedes it, the verb is often a Sino-Japanese suru-verb as in KS(B) and Ex.(b), because the Sino-Japanese verb is also suitable for written Japanese.
- The tense of the verb before ni atatte/atari is always nonpast regardless of the tense of the final predicate. The nonpast tense expresses an incomplete aspect of an action indicated by the verb. Thus, for example, in KS(B), when Kazuya went to see his academic adviser, he had not yet graduated from college. That is why the phrase can be translated into English as ‘before’ or ‘prior to.’
- The difference between ni atari and ni atatte is a matter of style; the former is more formal than the latter.
- There is a prenominal form ~ ni atatte no N used as in (2) below.

- (2) 新入社員の入社に {当たって / *当たり} のパーティーに社長も出席した。

(The president attended the party held on the occasion of new employees’ joining the company.) (cf. KS(A))

[Related Expressions]

- Toki* is a basic noun which indicates the time when s.o. / s.t will do / does / did s.t. or the time when s.o. / s.t. will be / is / was in some state. It is clear from Note 3 that toki cannot be replaced by ni atari / atatte when the preceding verb is past. (⇒ toki (DBJG: 490–94))

- [1] 私は日本にいた {時 / *に当たって / *に当たり} 日本語を勉強した。
(When I was in Japan, I studied Japanese.)
- [2] 田中さんは大学を卒業した {時 / *に当たって / *に当たり} すぐ会社に入った。
(Mr. Tanaka joined a company soon after graduating from college.)

Toki can be used to express any time, be it formal or informal, whereas ni atatte/atari is used only in formal style. This contextual difference is shown in [3].

- [3] a. 日本人はご飯を食べる {時 / *に当たって / *に当たり} 「いただきます」と言う。 (Japanese people say “Itadakimasu” when they eat their meal.)
- b. 寝る {時 / *に当たって / *に当たり} シャワーを浴びる。
(Before going to bed I take shower.)

- II. The conjunction mae ni and the compound particle in question are semantically very close. Both of them allow only Vinf-nonpast because an action indicated by the verb is incomplete. Yet there is one crucial difference between them. Ni atatte/atari means ‘before s.t. significant takes place,’ but mae ni means ‘before s.t. takes place.’ The difference can be shown by the following examples. (⇒ mae ni (DBJG: 231–33))

- [4] 伸子は寝る {前に / *に当たって} テレビを見る。
(Nobuko watches TV before she goes to sleep.)
- [5] 伸子は入院する {前に / *に当たって} 家族といろいろ相談した。
(Nobuko talked about various matters before she entered the hospital.)

- III. There is another time expression ~ (no) sai (ni) / ~ ni saishite which is used to indicate a special occasion on which s.o. does s.t. The crucial difference between this time expression and ~ ni atatte/atari is that the latter indicates an occasion in formal sentence, but the former indicates a special occasion. Thus, in the following formal yet non-special sentence the time expression in question cannot be used.

- [6] 就寝 {に当たって / に当たり / ??に際して / ??の<sup>さい</sup>際に} 少量の
洋酒を喫することを習慣にしている。(=(1a) in Note 1)

Practically all the uses of ~ (no) sai (ni) / ~ ni saishite can be rephrased by ~ ni atatte/atari, as long as the sentence is formal.

- [7] a. <sup>おおさか</sup>大阪に<sup>てんきん</sup>転勤する {に際して / 際に / に当たって / に当たり},

3. Ni hansuru modifies the word which follows, as in KS(D) and Ex.(f).

[Related Expressions]

1. When ni hanshite connects two propositions in opposition, it can be paraphrased as ni hikikae or to gyaku ni, as in [1] and [2].

Thus, in [5], where the two propositions are contrastive but not in opposition, only ni taishite is acceptable.

Notes

- The phrase ni hokanaranai is used to express that X is nothing but Y, where Y is either N as in KS(A) and Exs.(a), (b), (c), (f) or kara-clause as in KS(B) and Exs.(d), (e), (g) or koto-nominalized clause as in KS(C) and Ex.(h).

2. The phrase in question is used in written or very formal spoken Japanese. The final negative -nai can be replaced by the archaic negative marker -nu in formal written Japanese, as in (1) below:

(1) 結婚は人生の墓場にほかならぬ。(cf. Ex.(b))

【Related Expression】

The phrase ni suginai which means ‘nothing but’ sounds very close to ni hokanaranai but they are quite different. The former means ‘s.t. / s.o. is nothing more than what is stated, in terms of amount, degree, status, significance, etc.’ whereas the latter means ‘s.t. / s.o. is nothing other than X.’ The former often has downgrading nuance, but the latter lacks this nuance.

- [1] a. それは噂に <sup>うわさ</sup> <sup>す</sup> {過ぎない / ??ほかならない}。
(That is nothing but a rumor.)
- b. 吉田は平凡な会社員に <sup>よしだ</sup> <sup>へいぽん</sup> <sup>かいしゃいん</sup> {過ぎない / *ほかならない}。
(Yoshida is nothing but an average white-collar worker.)

Another crucial difference between the two is that ni suginai can be used with a quantity expression but ni hokanaranai cannot, as shown in [2] and [3] below:

- [2] 僕のアルバイト料は <sup>りょう</sup> <sup>ごひゃくえん</sup> 五百円に {過ぎない / *ほかならない}。
(The hourly pay for my part-time job is merely 500 yen. (lit. The hourly pay for my part-time job doesn't exceed 500 yen.))
- [3] 私の睡眠時間は <sup>いみんじかん</sup> 四, <sup>ご</sup> 五時間に {過ぎない / *ほかならない}。
(I usually don't get more than four to five hours' sleep. (lit. My sleeping hours are only 4 to 5 hours.))

Connection-wise, ni hokanaranai is attached only to a noun / noun phrase or a kara-clause, but ni suginai is attached to a noun, a quantity expression and Vinf.

Notes

1. X ni mo kakawarazu expresses an idea of 'in spite of X,' where X is an action / state.
2. The verb (i.e. Vinf) and Adj(i)inf can be connected directly with ni mo kakawarazu, but Adj(na) has to be nominalized before it is connected with the conjunction, as shown by KS(D) and Ex.(h). However, if the Adj(na) is followed by de aru, use of the nominalizer no is optional.

(1) {健康<sup>けんこう</sup>なの/健康である(の)/*健康な}にもかかわらず、働<sup>はたら</sup>かない。

【Related Expression】

The conjunctions noni and keredo(mo) can replace ni mo kakawarazu with proper adjustments of connections.

- [1] a. 激しい雨だった {のに / けれど}, サッカーの試合は続いた。
(cf. Ex.(a))
- b. あの人はよく運動をする {のに / けれど} 太っている。

- c. 試験が難しかった {のに / けれど}, よく出来た。(cf. KS(C))
- d. 冬山は危険 {なのに / だけれど}, 一郎は山へ出かけた。
(cf. KS(D))

The basic difference between noni / keredo(mo) and ni mo kakawarazu is that the latter is used in written or formal spoken Japanese. The choice of ni mo kakawarazu over keredo(mo) / noni implies the stronger disjunctiveness, that is, the former means 'totally contrary to everybody's expectation,' whereas the latter means 'contrary to everybody's expectation.'

Notes

1. Regardless of whether the noun before ni naru to is a time noun or not, the N ni naru to as a whole is used to express the time when an uncontrollable state occurs as in KS(A), (B) and Exs.(a) – (c), (f) – (h) or a habitual action occurs as in Exs.(d) and (e).

(⇒ to<sup>4</sup> (DBJG: 480–82))

2. The phrase in question is a subjectless construction because the sentence simply does not have a subject. When the noun / noun phrase that precedes ni naru to is a non-time expression, ni naru to is used either as a subjectless construction as in KS(B) and Exs.(f) – (h), or as a non-subjectless construction as shown in (1) and (2) below in which joyū ‘actress’ and haru ‘spring’ are not time nouns. Note that the subject of naru is watashi for (1) and kisetsu for (2).

Notes

1. Ni oite/okeru can be used with “non-physical” locations, such as fields of study, as in Exs.(c) and (e).
2. Ni okeru modifies the noun which follows, as in KS(C) and Exs. (d) – (g).
3. Ni okeru cannot be used to specify existence, as in (1).

- (1) *フロリダ {の / にある / *における} ディズニーワールドはとても人気がある。

4. Ni oite/okeru is a highly formal expression. Therefore, it is rarely used for personal activities or trivial events, as in (2) and (3).

This restriction, however, does not apply to ni okeru, the prenominal form of ni oite, as in (5).

- (5) この表は1991年におけるアジア諸国の GNP を示している。
(This table indicates the GNPs of Asian countries in 1991.)

【Related Expressions】

- I. De also indicates the place of an action, an event, or a state. Thus, KS(A) and (C), for example, can be paraphrased as [1] and [2], respectively, using de.

[1] 来年の総会はシカゴのヒルトン・ホテルで行われる。(=KS(A))

[2] 先月の東京での環境保護国際会議には全世界から大勢の学者が参加した。(=KS(C))

Note in [2] that with ni okeru, the prenominal form of ni oite, no must follow de.

De cannot be used when ni oite/okeru is used to indicate a “nonphysical” location, as in [3] and [4].

[3] この作文は文法 {において / ???で} はあまり問題はない。

(=Ex.(c))

[4] 木村博士は遺伝学 {における / ???での} 権威者として知られている。(=Ex.(e))

Unlike ni oite/okeru, de can be used for personal activities and trivial events. (See Note 4.)

(⇒ de (DBJG: 105))

II. Ni also indicates time. Thus, ni oite in KS(B), for example, can be paraphrased as [5] using ni.

[5] コンピュータは近い将来にほとんどの家庭に行き渡るだろう。

(=KS(B))

Because ni is replaced by no when N ni modifies a noun, ni okeru in Ex.(g) is paraphrased as [6] using no.

[6] 十月十二日 {の / *にの} 彼のアリバイは成立していない。

Unlike ni oite, ni can be used for specific times. (See Note 5.)

Formation

(ii) N に {従って / 従い}

- (g) 社長の命令に従って、彼はただちにマニラに飛んだ。
(In accordance with the president's order, he flew to Manila immediately.)

Notes

1. Vinf-nonpast ni shitagatte/shitagai is used to express that s.t. beyond human control takes place simultaneously with s.t. else that goes on. The verbs in both main and subordinate clauses do not express a momentary action, but a continuous process. The following sentences are all ungrammatical, because they use momentary verbs and the two events do not occur simultaneously but consecutively.

- (1) *窓を開けるに従って、涼しい風が入ってきた。
→ 窓を開けたら、涼しい風が入ってきた。
(As I opened the window, a cool breeze came in.)
- (2) *たばこを吸うのをやめるに従って、体の調子がよくなった。
→ たばこをやめたら、体の調子がよくなった。
(As I quit smoking, my physical condition improved.)

In the case of N ni shitagatte/shitagai, Note 1 is not applicable. In other words, in this construction what occurs can occur momentarily or non-spontaneously. So in KS(B), Exs.(f) and (g), what is expressed there is nothing spontaneous and gradual.

2. Shitagatte and shitagai are originally Vte and Vmasu forms of the verb shitagau, respectively, which means 'obey,' 'comply,' or 'follow.'
3. ni shitagatte/shitagai cannot be preceded by an Adj(i/na) or Cop.

(= da / desu). And V before ni shitagatte/shitagai must be Vinf·nonpast.

4. The difference between shitagatte and shitagai is stylistical. The latter is usually used in written Japanese whereas the former can be used in both spoken and written style.

[Related Expression]

Vinf·nonpast ni tsurete/tsure is an expression very similar to Vinf·nonpast ni shitagatte/shitagai. KS and Exs. can all be rephrased by the former without changing the essential meaning except KS(B), Exs.(f) and (g), because the pattern is N ni shitagatte/shitagai. The difference seems to be that Vinf·nonpast ni shitagatte/shitagai is more of a written style; whereas Vinf·nonpast ni tsurete/tsure is more of a spoken style.

2. N<sub>1</sub> ni {taishite / taishite no} N<sub>2</sub> means ‘N<sub>2</sub> in regard to N<sub>1</sub>,’ as exemplified by KS(C) and Ex.(k) or ‘against’ as exemplified by Ex.(m).
3. Taishite can be replaced by taishi in written Japanese or formal speech.

4. N ni taishite and N {na / dearu / datta / deatta} no ni taishite are different in meaning; the latter means 'whereas,' but the former does not, as shown below:

- [2] 太郎 {にとつての / *にはの} 問題は、彼が全然英語が分からないことだ。

The sentence with ni totte does not have this implication.

(May I ask you about your daily life?)
- (d) 日本に<sup>く</sup>来る<sup>まえ</sup>前に、日本についてどんなイメージを<sup>も</sup>持っていたらいいましたか。
(What kind of images did you have of Japan before you came to Japan?)

Note

$N_1$  ni tsuite no  $N_2$  means ' $N_2$  concerning  $N_1$ ,' as shown in Ex.(g).

[Related Expression]

The difference between  $N$  ni tsuite and  $N$  no koto is that the former means 'about / concerning  $N$ ,' but the latter, 'things about  $N$ .' Compare the following three sentences.

- [1] A: 田中さんを知っていますか。
(Do you know Mr. Tanaka?)
B: ええ、昔から。
(Yes, I've known him for many years.)
- [2] A: 田中さんについて知っていますか。
(Do you know about Mr. Tanaka?)
B: ええ、本で読んで、知っています。
(Yes, I know of him through books.)
- [3] A: 田中さんのことを知っていますか。
(Do you know (things) about Mr. Tanaka?)
B: 何かあったんですか。
(Did something happen to him?)

[1A] is a straightforward sentence of 'to know s.t.' In other words, [1A] expresses direct knowledge. [2A] has 'N ni tsuite' and expresses more indirect knowledge; [3A] concerns knowledge about circumstances surrounding N (i.e., Tanaka). So, the following combinations are all very awkward: *[1A]-[2B], *[1A]-[3B], *[2A]-[1B], *[2A]-[3B], *[3A]-[1A], *[3A]-[2B].

(⇒ koto<sup>1</sup> (DBJG: 191-93))

ni tsuki につき comp. prt.

a compound particle which expresses a rate or ratio

a; per; for; on; to 【REL. atari】

◆Key Sentence

	Number + Counter		Number + Counter
この仕事は	いちじかん 一時間	につき	ろく 六ドル	もらえる。
(This job will pay you six dollars an hour. (lit. You can get six dollars an hour doing this job.))

Formation

Number + Counter につき

一時間につき (per hour)

Examples

- (a) いっさつ ひゃくごじゅうえん そうりょう い
一冊につき 百五十円の送料が要ります。

(A hundred and fifty yen is necessary per copy for postage. (lit. Postage of one hundred and fifty yen is necessary per copy.))

- (b) 五千円につき四十円の手数料をいただきます。
(We place a forty-yen service charge on five thousand yen.)
- (c) 米一カップにつき、しょう油大さじ二杯の割合にします。
(The ratio should be two tablespoons of soy sauce to a cup of rice.)
- (d) 切符は一人につき三枚までにして下さい。
(Please limit it to three tickets per person.)
- (e) 間違え一つにつき一点減点します。
(I'll take one point off for each mistake.)

Notes

- Although in most cases the number which precedes ni tsuki is one, any number can precede ni tsuki, as seen in Ex.(b).
- When the number before ni tsuki is one and a noun does not immediately precede that number, ni tsuki may be dropped, as in (1).

- (1) a. この仕事は一時間 (につき ) 六ドルもらえる。 (=KS)
 b. 一冊 (につき) 百五十円の送料が要ります。 (=Ex.(a))
 c. 切符は一人 (につき) 三枚までにして下さい。 (=Ex.(d))

If the number before ni tsuki is not one or if a noun immediately precedes that number, ni tsuki must appear, as in (2).

- (2) a. 五千円 { につき / *ø } 四十円の手数料をいただきます。
 (=Ex.(b))
 (We place a forty-yen service charge on five thousand yen.)
 b. この仕事は三時間 { につき / *ø } 十ドルもらえる。
 (This job will pay you ten dollars for three hours.)
 c. 米一カップ { につき / *ø } しょう油大さじ二杯の割合にします。
 (=Ex.(c))

- Ni tsuite* can be used instead of ni tsuki, although ni tsuite is less common.

- (3) この仕事は一時間について六ドルもらえる。 (=KS)

[Related Expression]

Atari also means ‘per.’ The difference between atari and ni tsuki is that while atari can be used with a counter only (i.e., without a number), as in [1], ni tsuki requires both a number and a counter. When atari appears with a counter only, however, it appears only with certain counters.

- [1] a. 時間<sup>あ</sup>当たり五ドル (five dollars per hour)
 b. キロ<sup>に</sup>当たり<sup>に</sup>二千円 (two thousand yen a kilo)

Atari is also used in the structure ~ atari no N, as in [2].

- [2] a. 時間<sup>ちんきん</sup>当たりの賃金 (wage per hour (i.e., hourly wage))
 b. キロ<sup>おろし</sup>当たりの卸<sup>ね</sup>値 (wholesale price per kilo)
 c. 国民<sup>こくみん</sup>一人<sup>ひとり</sup>当たりの年間<sup>ねんかん</sup>米消費<sup>こめしょうひりょう</sup>量 (annual per capita rice consumption (lit. annual rice consumption per citizen))

- (h) 産業<sup>さんぎょう</sup>の発展<sup>はってん</sup>につれて、公害<sup>こうがい</sup>も増えていく。
(With industrial development, pollution also increases.)

Notes

1. Vinf-nonpast ni tsurete (or its more formal version Vinf-nonpast ni tsure) is used to express two simultaneously growing changes.
2. Since the conj./comp. prt. expresses change, the verbs used in the tsurete/tsure clause and the main clause have to be a verb of change / process such as jōtatsusuru 'become proficient' and fueru 'increase' (in KS(A)), toshi o toru 'become old' and naru 'become' (in Ex.(b)), seichōsuru 'grow' and hanarete iku 'become independent' (in Ex.(f)). Unless both of the verbs indicate change / process, the sentence is not acceptable, as shown below.

- (1) *日本語<sup>おし</sup>を教えるにつれて、教えることの難<sup>むずか</sup>しさが分かった。
(As I have taught Japanese, I have come to realize the difficulty of the Japanese language.)
- (2) *その小説<sup>しょうせつ</sup>は読むにつれて、味<sup>あじ</sup>があった。
(As I keep reading the novel, it has become more interesting.)

In (1) and (2) both verbs in the tsurete clause and in the main clause are verbs that do not indicate change, resulting in unacceptable sentences. Even if the main verbs are replaced by verbs of change / process, still the sentences are unacceptable, as shown in (3) and (4).

- (3) *日本語を教えるにつれて、教えることの難しさが分かってきた。
- (4) ??その小説は読むにつれて、味が出てきた。

To make the sentences grammatical the verbs in the tsurete clause have to be replaced by the verbs of change / process like the following:

- (5) 日本語を教えていくにつれて、教えることの難しさが分かってきた。

- (6) その小説は読み進むにつれて、味が出てきた。

【Related Expression】

All the cases of Vinf·nonpast ni tsurete/tsure can be rephrased with ~ ba ~ hodo which indicates that in proportion to the increase of extent / degree of action or state, s.t. happens, as in [1] and [2]. However, ~ ba ~ hodo can be paraphrased by ni tsurete/tsure only when the former expresses some change or process.

- [1] 日本語が上達すればするほど、日本人の友達が増えた。(cf. KS(A))
(The more proficient I become in Japanese, the more Japanese friends I made.)
- [2] 年を取れば取るほど、体力がなくなる。(cf. Ex.(b))
(The older you get, the weaker you will become.)
- [3] 日本語を教えれば教えるほど、教えることの難しさが分かった。
(The more I have taught Japanese, the better I have come to understand the difficulty of teaching it.)
→ *日本語を教えるにつれて、教えることの難しさが分かった。
(=1)
→ 日本語を教えていくにつれて、教えることの難しさが分かってきた。
(=5)
- [4] その小説は読めば読むほど味があった。
(The more I read the novel the more interesting it became.)
→ *その小説は読むにつれて、味があった。(=2)
→ その小説は読み進むにつれて、味が出てきた。(=6))

There is another fundamental difference between the two structures under comparison. In front of ni tsurete/tsure comes only a verb or noun, but in front of ~ ba ~ hodo comes not only a verb but also an Adj(i / na).

(⇒ ~ ba ~ hodo)

Notes

1. Vinf-nonpast ni wa is used to indicate a purpose for doing s.t. The predicate often expresses the necessity for or importance of using a specific means.

2. Vinf·nonpast may be nominalized by no, as in (1) and (2) below.

(1) 豊かな生活を送るのには健康が第一だ。(cf. KS(A))

(2) 人の性格を見抜くのには深い洞察力が必要だ。(cf. Ex.(c))

There is no difference in meaning between ni wa and no ni wa.

3. Ni wa can take not only a Vinf·nonpast but a noun as shown in KS(B), Exs.(i) and (j). A noun here is a noun of action which can take the verb suru. There are two types of such nouns: one is the stem of the so-called suru-verb, such as kenkyū of kenkyū-suru (of Ex.(j)) or the direct object of suru, such as nagatabi (of Ex.(i)). If a noun is not a noun of action, the sentence does not express a purpose, as shown in (3).

(3) a. 週末には家でテレビを見ています。

(On weekends I watch TV at home.)

(⇒ ni<sup>1</sup> (DBJG: 289–91))

b. 母には時々電話をします。

(I sometimes call my mother.)

e. 東京には一人で行きました。

(To Tokyo I went alone.)

(⇒ ni<sup>7</sup> (DBJG: 302))

[Related Expression]

There are at least four similar purpose expressions in Japanese.

[1] a. 私は韓国語の勉強に韓国へ行った。

(I went to Korea for the study of Korean.)

- b. 私は韓国語を勉強しに韓国へ行った。
(I went to Korea to study Korean.)
- c. 私は韓国語を勉強するために韓国へ行った。
(I went to Korea in order to study Korean.)
- d. 私は韓国語を勉強する {のに / *に} 韓国へ行った。
(I went to Korea for the purpose of studying Korean.)

[1a] means practically the same as [1b]. However, the latter construction has a restriction on the main verb; that is, only the verb of motion can be used. The difference between [1a] and [1c] is that the latter has the stronger meaning of purpose. [1a] sounds more casual than [1c]. [1a] is different from [1d] in that the latter puts more weight on the way the speaker learned Korean. In other words, [1d] implies seriousness of the purpose.

(⇒ ni<sup>5</sup> (DBJG: 297–99)); noni<sup>2</sup> (DBJG: 335–37))

Notes

1. The particle ni yotte indicates the means for doing s.t. (e.g. KS(A), (G), Exs.(a) – (c) and (o)), dependency on a situation / s.t. / s.o. (e.g. KS(B), (E), (F), Exs.(d) – (f) and (k) – (n)), cause for s.t. (e.g. KS(C), Exs.(g) and (h)), and an agent of a passive sentence (e.g. KS(D), Exs.(i) and (j)).
2. When ni yotte means dependency on a situation, the preceding element can be an embedded Yes-No question (e.g. KS(E), Exs.(k) and (l)) or a WH-question (as in KS(F), Exs.(m) and (n)).
3. When ni yotte means a means for doing s.t., it can be preceded by a clause nominalized by koto as in KS(G) and Ex.(o).
4. ~ ni yotte can be unconditionally replaced by ~ ni yori when it means dependency on a situation / s.t. / s.o., as in KS(B), (E), (F), Exs.(d) – (f) and (k) – (n). The difference between the two is that ~ ni yori is used in written Japanese.

- (1) a. 日本語の先生の教え方は先生に【よって / ??より】違いますよ。
(The teaching methods of Japanese teachers differ depending on the teacher.)
- b. 日本語の教授法は教師に【よって / より】異なる。
(The Japanese language pedagogy differs depending on the instructor.)

In (1a) ni yori is unacceptable, because it is used in spoken Japanese, whereas the same comp. prt. can be used in (1b) which belongs to written Japanese. The replacement is also possible when ~ ni yotte means an instrument with which to do s.t.

- (2) a. このごろは宇宙中継により世界のニュースをテレビで見ることが出来る。(cf. Ex.(a))
- b. その問題は話し合いにより解決出来るはずだ。(cf. Ex.(c))
- c. アメリカでは麻薬を厳しく取り締まることにより、犯罪を減らすことが出来るのではないだろうか。(cf. Ex.(o))

However, when the instrument is a concrete, tangible object ni yori cannot be used as in (3).

- (3) a. *漢和辞典により知らない漢字を調べる。(cf. KS(A))
- b. *その老人達はわずかの貯金により生活している。
(cf. Ex.(a))

When the particle means a cause or a passive agent, ~ ni yori is not used. Thus, the following sentences are all marginal.

- (4) a. ??戦争により父を亡くした。(cf. KS(C))
- b. ??この研究所は文部省により設立された。(cf. KS(D))

5. In the prenominal use of  $N_1$  ni yori  $N_2$ , the comp. prt. expresses cause as in Ex.(p) and (q), or a means as in (5a) or a passive agent as in (5b).

- (5) a. 人文科学の領域でもコンピュータによる研究が盛んだ。
(Even in the humanities field research using computers is popular.)
- b. ニューヨークでは麻薬常 用者による殺人事件が多発している。
(In New York City murders by habitual drug users occur frequently.)

In all of these ni yotte cannot be used.

【Related Expressions】

- I. The particle de of means can always replace ni yotte of means, as shown below: (⇒ de<sup>2</sup> (DBJG: 106-07))

- [1] a. 漢和辞典で知らない漢字を調べる (cf. KS(A))
- b. このごろは宇宙中継で世界のニュースをテレビで見ることが出来る。(cf. Ex.(a))
- c. その老人達はわずかの貯金で生活している。(cf. Ex.(b))
- d. 我々は本を読むことで視野を広げることが出来る。
(cf. KS(G))

However, ni yotte/ yori cannot always replace de of means. Examples follow:

- [2] a. 僕はバス {で / *によって} 会社に行っています。
(I am commuting to my company by bus.)
- b. 都会のサラリーマンは公共の交通機関 {で / によって} 通勤している。
(The urban white-collar workers are commuting by public transportation.)
- [3] a. 私はワープロ {で / *によって} 手紙を書いています。
(I am writing a letter with a word processor.)
- b. 書類作成 業務はワープロ {で / によって} 処理している。
(Document preparation is handled by a word processor.)

- [4] a. すみませんが、<sup>げんこう</sup>原稿をファックス {で / *によって} <sup>おく</sup>送って
<sup>くだ</sup>下さいませんか。

(Could you kindly send the manuscripts by fax?)

- b. <sup>さいきん</sup>最近<sup>は</sup>はファックス {で / によって} <sup>つうしんれんらく</sup>通信連絡するの<sup>が</sup>常<sup>じょう</sup>識<sup>しき</sup>
化<sup>か</sup>されている。

(These days, it is common practice to communicate by fax.)

In [2]–[4], ni yotte is totally unacceptable in the (a) sentences and acceptable in the (b) sentences. The crucial difference between (a) and (b) sentences is that the former belongs to spoken Japanese, whereas the latter belongs to more impersonal and formal Japanese. The impersonal and formal aspects of the latter are accented by the use of Sino-Japanese words. In short, the basic difference between de and ni yotte is a stylistical difference; the former can be used in both spoken and written Japanese, but the latter is usually used only in written Japanese or very formal speech.

- II. The difference between the agent marker ni and ni yotte is grammatical and stylistical. The sentences in [5] show that when the subject of the passive sentence is inanimate (such as ‘research institute,’ ‘painting,’ ‘American Continent’) the agent has to be marked not by ni, but by ni yotte.

- [5] a. この研究所は文部省 {によって / *に} 設立された。
(=KS(D))
- b. この絵はピカソ {によって / *に} 描かれた。(=Ex.(i))
- c. アメリカ大陸はコロンブス {によって / *に} 発見された。
(=Ex.(j))

[6a] and [7a] show examples where ni is chosen over ni yotte.

- [6] a. アリスはジョン {に / *によって} だまされた。
(Alice was deceived by John.)
- b. デモ隊は機動隊 {に / によって} <sup>いっそう</sup>一掃された。
(The demonstrators were dispelled by riot police.)

- [7] a. 僕は手紙を両親<sup>りょうしん</sup> {に / *によって} 読<sup>よ</sup>まれた。
(I got my letter read by my parents.)
- b. 我々は研究所の機密書類<sup>きみつしよるい</sup>を外部<sup>がいぶ</sup>の者<sup>もの</sup> {に / によって} 読まれた。
(We got our secret document of the research institute read by unknown outsiders.)
- [8] a. 私は日本語の先生 {に / *によって} 発音<sup>はつおん</sup>を直<sup>なお</sup>された。
(My Japanese teacher corrected my pronunciation (lit. I am annoyed by the fact that my professor corrected my pronunciation).)
- b. 学生<sup>がくせい</sup>達は厳<sup>きび</sup>しい日本語教師 {に / によって} 発音<sup>きょうせい</sup>矯正をされた。
(The students had their pronunciation corrected by their strict Japanese instructors.)

Sentences [6] – [8] show that ni yotte/yori can be used in (b) type sentences which have impersonal and formal written style, but not in (a) type sentences which have personal style.

- III. The particle ni yotte/yori of cause has the related expressions de and no tame ni. KS(C), Exs.(g) and (h) can be rewritten using de and no tame ni as shown below.

(⇒ de<sup>3</sup> (DBJG: 107–09); tame (ni) (DBJG: 447–51))

- [9] a. 戦争 {で / のために} 父を亡くした。(cf. KS(C))
- b. その青年は麻薬 {で / のために} 青春時代を失ってしまった。(cf. Ex.(g))
- c. 彼は難病 {で / のために} 再起不能になった。(cf. Ex. (h))

As shown in [10], there are cases in which ni yotte is unacceptable for some unknown reason.

- [10] a. 仕事<sup>とく</sup> {で / のために / *によって} とても疲<sup>つか</sup>れた。
(Because of my work I got very tired.)

- b. 病気 {で / のために / *によって} 会社を休んだ。
(Because of illness, I took a day off from the company.)
- c. 停電 {で / のために / *によって} 大変困った。
(Because of the power failure we had a difficult time.)

The crucial differences among de, no tame ni, and ni yotte are: first, ni yotte and no tame ni are more formal than de. That is why abstract Sino-Japanese words go more harmoniously with the former as shown in [11a] below:

- [11] a. 日本の経済発展 {ののために / によって / ??で} 日本語学習者が増えた。
(Because of Japan's economic progress, Japanese language learners have increased.)
- b. 日本の経済の発展 {ののために / によって / で} 日本語学習者が増えた。

In [11b] de becomes acceptable, because the inserted no makes the entire sentence less formal. Secondly, de can be used to mean 'cause' rather loosely, but ni yotte can be used only when the focus is sharply placed on a 'cause,' as shown in [12].

- [12] a. 金の問題 {で / ??のために / *によって} 友達とけんかした。
(Because of money problems I quarrelled with my friend.)
- b. つまらないこと {で / *のために / *によって} 悩んでいるね。
(You are suffering because of a trivial matter, aren't you?)

- (g) 予算の関係で、そのプロジェクトは中止になった。
(Because of the budgetary situation, the project has been cancelled.)

Notes

N no kankei de is used to refer to causal relationship in a very indirect way. In fact, the noun kankei means 'relationship' and the particle de indicates a causal relationship. (⇒ de<sup>3</sup> (DBJG: 107-09))

[Related Expression]

The following sentences are saying virtually the same thing, but they are slightly different from each other.

- [1] a. 予算 {の関係で / のため(に) / *で}, そのプロジェクトは中止になった。(=Ex.(g))
- b. 予算不足 {のため(に) / *で / ??の関係で}, そのプロジェクトは中止になった。
- c. 予算が不足した {から / ので}, そのプロジェクトは中止になった。

Among the five choices, N no kankei de is the most indirect reference to causal relationship, because it does not need to be specific about the cause (i.e., (lack of) budget funds in [1a] and [1b]). N no tame (ni) is next most indirect about specification of the cause. Exs.[1b] and [1c] show that the preceding N can be a neutral yosan 'budget' or a negative yosan-busoku 'lack of budget.' N de, kara and node all requires a specific cause. In this sense they are markers of direct reference to causal relationship. Among de, kara and node, the latter two are markers of more direct reference to causal relationship.

2. There is no past tense form for -nu. See [1a] below.

b. *おし<sup>し</sup>だ / *お来<sup>き</sup>だ

(The teacher is cleaning the room by himself.)

b. ??先生は今<sup>がくせい</sup>学生にお電話<sup>でんわ</sup>です。(Acceptable form: 先生は今学生に電話して {おられる / いらっしゃる}。)

【Related Expression】

Notes

1. N o hajime to shite literally means 'by making N the beginning (of s.t.),' an idea very similar to the English phrase 'starting with.'
2. N o hajime is an abbreviative version of N o hajime to shite.
3. In conversational Japanese N o hajime (to shite) is not used; instead, dake de (wa) naku ~ (mo) is used.
(⇒ dake de (wa) naku ~ (mo) (DBJG: 97-100))

【Related Expression】

All the examples can be rephrased by dake de (wa) nakute ~ (mo). In fact, as noted in Note 3, in conversational Japanese dake de (wa) naku ~ (mo) is used instead of N o hajime (to shite).

o ~ kudasai お～下さい phr.

Notes

1. O ~ kudasai cannot be used with two-syllable Gr. 2 verbs (e.g., miru 'look at,' iru 'stay,' kiru 'wear,' neru 'sleep') and irregular verbs (i.e., suru 'do' and kuru 'come').

(1) a. *お見下さい。/ *お寝下さい。
(Please look at it. / Please go to bed.)

b. *おし下さい。/ *お来下さい。
(Please do it. / Please come.)

2. The suru-verbs which require the polite prefix o-, such as denwasuru 'make a call,' ryōrisuru 'cook,' sōjisuru 'clean,' and sentakusuru 'wash' are not commonly used in this pattern. In fact, the examples in (2) are awkward.

(2) a. ??ご自分でお掃除下さい。(Acceptable form: ご自分で掃除
{して / なさって} 下さい。)

(Please clean up by yourself.)

b. ??ぬるま湯でお洗濯下さい。(Acceptable form: ぬるま湯で 洗濯 {して / なさって} 下さい。)

(Please wash in lukewarm water.)

The sentence in (3), however, is acceptable. This sentence is derived from the sentence in (4); in (3) the direct object marker o has been deleted.

- (3) <sup>こんばん</sup> 今晚お電話下さい。
(Please give me a call tonight.)

- (4) 今晚お電話を下さい。

3. O ~ kudasai cannot be used in negative requests.

- (5) *このペンはお使わないで下さい。
(Please do not use this pen.)

【Related Expression】

O ~ kudasai is politer than ~ kudasai. While there are some verbs which cannot be used in the o ~ kudasai pattern as mentioned in Notes 1 and 2, any verb can be used in the ~ kudasai pattern.

- [1] a. 見て下さい / *お見下さい。
(Please look at it.)
- b. して下さい / *おして下さい。
(Please do it.)
- c. ご自分で {掃除して下さい / 掃除なさって下さい / ??お掃除下さい}。
(Please clean up by yourself.)

Note also that ~ kudasai can be used to make negative requests, but o ~ kudasai cannot, as in [2].

- [2] この部屋は {使わないで下さい / *お使わない下さい}。
(Please do not use this room.)

In addition, ~ kudasai can be used with auxiliary verbs which require verb te-forms while o ~ kudasai cannot.

- [3] a. 見て行って下さい / *お見ていき下さい。
(Please look at it before you go.)

- b. 食べてしまってください / *お食べてしまい下さい。
(Please finish eating.)

(To look after your health, it is apparently effective to exercise for about 30 minutes every day.)

Notes

1. omowareru is the passive form of omou 'to feel; to think,' but omowareru in the present entry does not have the meaning of passivity; rather it has the meaning of autogenesis, i.e., what the speaker / writer feels / thinks spontaneously. The fact that omowareru is different from the real passive use should become clear by the fact that the former does not have the true agent, but the latter does. The true passive by definition involves an agent (= actor) and the agent is marked by ni in passive sentences. Thus genuine passive sentences should be grammatical with a ni-marked agent. That is why the addition of a ni-marked agent to KS(A) and (B) as in (1a) and (2a), respectively, will produce ungrammatical sentences. (1b) and (2b) are grammatical, because here ni indicates not an agent 'by' but an experiencer 'to.' Compare (1) and (2) with genuine passives of (3) and (4).

- (1) a. *来年の景気は今年よりもいいように {私に / 経済学者に} 思われる。(cf. KS(A))
 b. 私には来年の景気は今年よりもいいように思われる。
 (To me it seems that the business conditions of the coming year are better than those of this year.)
- (2) a. *この病気の治療は約一か月かかると {私に / 医者に} 思われる。(cf. KS(B))
 b. 私にはこの病気の治療は約一か月かかると思われる。
 (To me it appears that the treatment of this disease takes approximately one month.)
- (3) そんなことをしたら、人にばかだと思われそうですよ。
 (If you do such a thing, you will be regarded as a fool.)
- cf. そんなことをしたら、人はあなたのことをばかだと思いますよ。

(If you do such a thing, people will regard you as a fool.)
 (= Active version of (3))

- (4) 日本は外国人に不思議な国だと思われている。
 (Japan is thought to be an enigmatic country by foreigners.)

cf. 外国人は日本のことを不思議な国だと思っている。
 (Foreigners consider Japan to be an enigmatic country.)
 (= Active version of (4))

2. The difference between (5a) which is identical with KS(A) and (5b) cannot be captured by the translation, because both sentences come out the same in the translation.

- (5) a. 来年の景気は今年よりもいいように思われる。(=KS(A))
 b. 来年の景気は今年よりもいいようだ。

Since yōda is a conjecture based on the speaker's reasoning process, if it is used with omowareru, a marker of autogenesis, the combination sounds more indirect and even humble.

3. The experiencer of the spontaneous feeling of ~ omowareru is usually the speaker / writer, but can be a third person, if the tense is past.

- (6) 山田には会社の仕事<sup>かいしや しごと</sup>が単調<sup>たんちやう</sup>に思われた。<sup>やまだ</sup>
 (To Yamada the company work seemed monotonous.)
 (7) 加代子<sup>かよこ</sup>には結婚<sup>けっこん</sup>はまだ夢<sup>ゆめ</sup>のように思われた。
 (For Kayoko marriage still seemed like a dream.)

Suppose (6) and (7) were sentences in a novel in which the reader can empathize with Yamada or Kayoko: then, the nonpast tense is acceptable.

Notes

1. Vte ori is the written version of Vte ite. Although ori is the masu-form of the humble auxiliary verb oru, when Vte ori is used in the writing of documents, articles, papers, etc., it does not express the writer's politeness.

2. Vte ori is more formal than Vte ite or Vte i.
3. Vte oru, the informal sentence-final form of Vte ori, is not used in writing in place of Vte iru.

【Related Expression】

Notes

1. -ppanashi is derived from hanashi, the masu stem of the verb hanasu 'leave.'
2. The meaning of -ppanashi differs depending on the kind of verb which precedes it. When the verb is intransitive, -ppanashi means that s.o. or s.t. keeps doing something (e.g., KS(A) and Ex.(a)). When the verb is transitive, -ppanashi means that s.o. does s.t. to X and leaves X as it is without putting it back to its original state, which is not the proper way (e.g., KS(B) and (C)).
3. -ppanashi behaves like a noun; therefore it is followed by the copula da

(e.g., KS(A) and (B)) or particles such as de, ni, and no (e.g., KS(C), Exs.(f) and (g)).

[Related Expressions]

- I. Mama expresses an idea similar to -ppanashi. In fact; -ppanashi can be rephrased as mama in most cases when the preceding verb is transitive, as in [1].

- [1] a. 友達にまだお金を {借りっぱなし / 借りましたまま} だ。
(=KS(B))
b. 和彦はラジオを {かけっぱなし / かけたまま} でどこかへ
行ってしまった。(=KS(C))

However, because -ppanashi with a transitive verb implies an improper state, -ppanashi cannot be used in contexts such as [2].

- [2] <sup>かれ</sup>彼はまだたばこを {やめたまま / *やめっぱなし} だ。
(He still isn't smoking. (He used to smoke but gave it up.))

Notice also that in [3] mama has no negative implication while -ppanashi indicates that the speaker disagrees with Haruko's manner.

- [3] <sup>はるこ</sup>春子は<sup>ぼうし</sup>帽子を {かぶったまま / かぶりっぱなし} <sup>あたま</sup>で頭を下<sup>さ</sup>げた。

When the preceding verb is intransitive, mama cannot always replace -ppanashi. For example, mama can be used instead of -ppanashi in [4], but not in [5].

- [4] 新幹線が満員で東京から京都までずっと {立ちっぱなし / 立ったまま} だった。(=KS(A))
[5] 朝から {しゃべりっぱなし / *しゃべったまま} で喉が痛い。
(=Ex.(c))

This is because mama focuses on the state after a single action (i.e., an action described by a punctual verb) while -ppanashi focuses on a continuous action.

Note also that if the preceding verb is intransitive, -ppanashi cannot be used in an adverbial phrase, as in [6].

- [6] {座ったまま / *座りっぱなし} で話して<sup>くだ</sup>下さい。
(Please remain seated while talking. (lit. Please talk remaining seated.))

-ppanashi in [7] is acceptable because it is not in an adverbial phrase.

- [7] 長い間<sup>ながあいだ</sup> {座ったまま / 座りっぱなし} でお尻<sup>しり</sup>が痛い。
(I've been sitting for a long time, so my bottom hurts.)
(⇒ mama (DBJG: 236–40))

II. Vmasu tsuzuke da also expresses the idea “to keep doing s.t.” and can be used in place of Vmasu ppanashi (with intransitive verbs), as in [8].

- [8] a. 新幹線が満員で東京から京都までずっと {立ちっぱなし / 立ち続け} だった。(=KS(A))
b. ブラジルのバレーボール・チームは今日まで {勝ちっぱなし / 勝ち続け} だ。(=Ex.(a))
c. 朝から {しゃべりっぱなし / しゃべり続け} で喉が痛い。
(=Ex.(c))

Vmasu tsuzuke da cannot replace -ppanashi when the preceding verb is transitive.

III. Vmasu tsuzukeru also expresses the idea of “to keep doing s.t.” and can be used in place of Vmasu ppanashi, as in [9].

- [9] a. ブラジルのバレーボール・チームは今日まで {勝ちっぱなしだ / 勝ち続けている}。(=Ex.(a))
b. 朝から {しゃべりっぱなしで / しゃべり続けて} 喉が痛い。
(=Ex.(c))

Vmasu ppanashi (with intransitive verbs), however, does not express the actor's volition while Vmasu tsuzukeru does. Thus, Vmasu ppanashi is not acceptable in [10].

- [10] 私は苦<sup>く</sup>しかったが {走り<sup>はし</sup>続けた / *走りっぱなしだった}。
(Although I was in pain, I kept running.)

Conversely, in [11] Vmasu ppanashi is more natural than Vmasu tsuzukeru because standing or sitting was beyond the speaker's control.

- [11] 新幹線が満員で東京から京都までずっと【立ちっぱなしだった / ??立ち続けた】。(=KS(A))

Notes

1. The Adj(i) suffix -ppoi is usually used in highly informal speech and writing, meaning something like English “-ish.”
2. The suffix -ppoi is an Adj(i), so it conjugates exactly like other Adj(i)'s.

(1) 黒っぽく {ありません / ない} (s.t. isn't blackish)

黒っぽい(です) (s.t. is blackish)

黒っぽければ (if s.t. is blackish)

黒っぽかった(です) (s.t. was blackish)

3. The nouns, adjectives, and verbs that can take the suffix -ppoi are not unlimited, but quite productive, especially when it is connected with a noun. The following is a list of nouns, adjectives and verbs most commonly used with the suffix.

(2) Noun + ppoi

学生っぽい (student-like), 先生っぽい (teacher-like), 日本人っぽい (Japanese-like), アメリカ人っぽい (American-like), 商人っぽい (businessman-like)

い (merchant-like), 不良<sup>ありよう</sup>っばい (delinquent-like), 大人<sup>おとな</sup>っばい (adult-like), 芸者<sup>げいしや</sup>っばい (geisha-like), 埃<sup>ほこり</sup>っばい (dusty), いたずらっばい (mischievous), 浮気<sup>うわき</sup>っばい (Don Juan-like), 理屈<sup>りくつ</sup>っばい (argumentative), 色<sup>いろ</sup>っばい (sexy), 灰色<sup>はいいろ</sup>っばい (grayish), 茶色<sup>ちやいろ</sup>っばい (brownish), 熱<sup>ねつ</sup>っばい (feverish / enthusiastic), 愚痴<sup>ぐち</sup>っばい (peevish)

All the examples except yasuppoi can be also grouped under (2).

- (4) Adj(na) + ppoi

あだっばい (coquettish), きざっばい (affected), 嫌味<sup>いやみ</sup>っばい (sarcastic), 皮肉<sup>ひにく</sup>っばい (cynical), げすっばい (vulgar), 俗<sup>ぞく</sup>っばい (vulgar)

- (5) Vmasu + ppoi

The last example shime-ppoi is actually an irregular form, because the expected form is **shimeri-ppoi*.

[Related Expressions]

- I. N + ppoi can be replaced by N + no yōna or by N + rashii, and N + fū no, as shown in [1] below. Here, the choice of -ppoi expresses that the man is manifesting the distinctive character of a yakuza. In that sense it is very close to fū no which refers to s.o.'s or s.t.'s style. The expressions no yōna and rashii are quite different from -ppoi and fū no in that the former are conjectural expressions, whereas the latter are not.

- [1] サングラスをかけたやくざ {っばい / のような / らしい / 風の<sup>ふう</sup>}
男が街角に立っていた。(= KS(A))

There are cases where the replacement is restricted as shown in [2] and [3]. Here, rashii is acceptable, because it means 's.o. or s.t. is like the ideal model of X.' But no yōda and fūda which mean 'to look like X' does not make sense in the context. In [3] the meanings of rashii and fū no do not fit in the context, but yōna 'like X' in the sense of 'taste like water' fits in the context.

- [2] あの女優は実に女 {っばい / らしい / *のようだ / *風だ} から
好きだ。(= Ex.(b))

- [3] こんな水 {っばい / のような / *らしい / *風の} 酒, 飲めない
ぞ。(= Ex.(c))

The following N + ppoi cannot be replaced either by no yōna, rashii or fū no, because the meaning is very specific and fixed.

zoku-ppoi 'vulgar,' hokori-ppoi 'dusty,' itazura-ppoi 'mischievous,' uwaki-ppoi 'Don Juan-like,' nikutsu-ppoi 'argumentative,' iro-ppoi
'sexy,' haiiro-ppoi 'grayish,' chairo-ppoi 'brownish,' nettsu-ppoi 'feverish'.

- II. Adj(i / na)stem + ppoi can be replaced neither by no yōna nor by rashii nor by fū no.

セーターを着ていたと思います。(= KS (B))

- c. 公園のベンチに座って, きざ {っばい / *なような / *らしい / *風の}
男とあだ {っばい / *なような / *らしい / *風の} 女が話している。(= Ex.(e))

- III. Vmasu + ppoi can be replaced by Vinf·nonpast + yasui as in [5], but depending on the verb with which -ppoi is connected, the -yasui version becomes marginal, as shown in [6].

- [5] a. 私は最近とても疲れ {っぼく / やすく} になった。
(These days I became tired easily.)
- b. うたぐり {っぼい / やすい} 入って、嫌ですね。(= Ex.(g))
- c. じゅうたんは汚れ {っぼい / やすい} から、私は使っていません。(= Ex.(h))
- [6] a. 父は年をとってから怒り {っぼく / ??やすく} になった。
(My father has become short tempered since he became old.)
- b. うちの息子は飽き {っぼい / *やすい} んで、次から次へと新しいことをするんですが、一つとして、ものにならないんですよ。(= Ex.(f))

Notes

1. When -rai is used to mean s.t. has continued up until the moment of speech, the final predicate takes Vte iru as in KS(A) and Ex.(a) or Vte kuru as in Ex. (b).
2. X wa N (of duration)-rai no Y da as exemplified by KS(B), Exs.(e) and (f), means that as for X, the speaker has never experienced Y in the specified duration. When Y is a person as in Ex.(d), -rai means X has continued to have the status of Y for a certain amount of time.

【Related Expressions】

- I. -rai is used with an expression of time duration. The following phrases are all ungrammatical because the nouns used here express a point of time. To make them grammatical phrases -irai has to be used.

- [1] a. *八月二十日<sup>はちがつはつか</sup>来 (cf. 八月二十日<sup>いらい</sup>以来 (since August 20))
 b. *1990 年来 (cf. 1990 年<sup>ねん</sup>以来 (since 1990))
 c. *二時半<sup>にじはん</sup>来 (cf. 二時半<sup>いこう</sup>以降 (after 2 o'clock))
 d. *去年<sup>きょねん</sup>来 (cf. 去年<sup>ねん</sup>以来 (since last year))
 e. *去年<sup>きょねん</sup>の秋<sup>あき</sup>来 (cf. 去年<sup>ねん</sup>の秋<sup>あき</sup>以来 (since last fall))

- f. *<sup>せんしゅう</sup>先週来 (cf. 先週以来 (since last week))
 g. ??<sup>まつ</sup>先週末来 (cf. 先週末以来 (since the end of last week))
 h. ??<sup>せんげつ</sup>先月来 (cf. 先月以来 (since last month))
 i. ??<sup>ねんまつ</sup>年末来 (cf. 年末以来 (since the end of the year))

However, there are exceptional cases where -rai can be used with a non-duration expression as in (2):

- [2] a. <sup>さくじつ</sup>昨日来 (since yesterday) cf. 昨日以来, *<sup>きのう</sup>昨日来
 b. <sup>さくや</sup>昨夜来 (since last night) cf. 昨夜以来, *<sup>ゆうべ</sup>昨夜来
 c. <sup>さくねん</sup>昨年来 (since last year) cf. 昨年以来
 d. <sup>いっさくねん</sup>一昨年来 (since year before last) cf. 一昨年来

II. When -rai indicates continuation of an action / state, it can be replaced by ~ mae kara, or -kan, as shown in [3a], [3b] below.

- [3] a. トムは二十年 {<sup>まえ</sup>来 / <sup>かん</sup>前から / 間} 日本語の勉強を続けている。
 (= KS(A))
 b. 父は三十年 {<sup>まえ</sup>来 / <sup>かん</sup>前から / 間}, 同じ会社勤めています。
 (= Ex.(a))

-rai can be freely replaced by ~ mae kara and -kan, but not vice versa, because the latter can be used with an expression of both relatively short and long duration; whereas the former can be used only with a relatively long duration, as shown below:

- [4] a. 彼は {<sup>じかん</sup>二時間 / <sup>じかん</sup>二時間前から / *二時間来} 日本語を勉強している。
 (He's been studying Japanese for two hours.)
 b. <sup>ふたつか</sup>二日 {<sup>かん</sup>間 / <sup>かん</sup>前から / *<sup>うき</sup>来} 雪が降っている。
 (It's been snowing for two days.)

When -rai is used in X wa N(duration)-rai no Y da construction, -rai can be replaced by -buri da which means 'after the lapse of ~,' as shown by [4a] and [4b]. Note that Y cannot be a person as in Ex.(d).

- [5] a. 今年の冬は五十年 {来 / ぶり} の寒さだ。(= KS(B))
 b. これは三十年 {来 / ぶり} の大雪です。(= Ex.(f))

◆Key Sentences

(B)

		Noun
ことし 今年の忘年会はまた	例の	ちゅう か り ょ う り や 中華料理屋	だそうだ。

Formation

例の N

Examples

- (a) 例のレポートは出来ましたか。
(Have you finished the report (I requested, you mentioned, etc.)?)
- (b) 例のコピーが出来ましたよ。
(The copy (you asked for) is ready.)
- (c) 例のダイアナ妃の本, さっそく買って読んだよ。
(I bought the book about Princess Diana (everybody is talking about, you recommended, etc.) right away and read it.)
- (d) A: 一時に学生が来るんですよ。
(A student is coming at one.)
B: ああ, 例のドイツから来た学生ですね。
(Oh, that student from Germany (you mentioned), right?)
- (e) A: 今晚, 会える?
(Can we meet this evening?)
B: ええ, いいわよ。
(Sure.)
A: じゃ, 六時に例の喫茶店で。
(Then, (let's meet) at the usual coffee house at six.)
- (f) 吉田さんがまた例の冗談を言ったが誰も笑わなかった。
(Mr. Yoshida told us that (same) joke again, but no one laughed.)

Notes

1. Rei no is used in situations where some information is shared by the speaker and the hearer. For example, when A utters KS(A) to B, B must have talked to A about a project at an earlier time. Similarly, when A utters KS(B) to B, A knows that B understands which Chinese restaurant A means, from their shared experience.
2. Because rei no is a device to remind the hearer of something experienced or mentioned earlier (although not in the same discourse), rei no X can be used without having mentioned X previously in the discourse.

Thus, rei no has the “force” to make the hearer recall the referent of the following noun phrase.

3. If there is strong situational and / or contextual support to indicate the referent of the following noun phrase, rei no can be omitted, as in (1) and (2). (See Related Expression.)

- (1) レポートは出来ましたか。
(Have you finished the report?)
- (2) コピーが出来ましたよ。
(The copy is ready.)

However, if rei no in KS(B) is omitted, for example, chūkaryōri-ya does not refer to a definite Chinese restaurant, as in (3).

- (3) 今年の忘年会はまた中華料理屋だそうだ。
(I heard that this year's year-end party is going to be at a Chinese restaurant again.)

[Related Expression]

The topic marker wa marks known information. Thus, wa and rei no have some commonality. As a matter of fact, both X wa and rei no X are used when X is definite and known to the hearer. However, wa alone does not have the force that rei no has, a force to make the hearer recall the referent of X. Therefore, [1] might be too abrupt in some situations where KS(A) is perfectly acceptable.

- [1] プロジェクトはどうになりましたか。
(What happened to the project?)

Note also that the referent of X wa can be generic while that of rei no X is always definite. Compare [2a] and [2b].

- [2] a. 本は役に立つ。
(Books are useful.)
- b. 例の本は役に立つ。
(The book (you mentioned) is useful.)

In addition, X wa is a topic phrase, while rei no X is a simple noun phrase and can appear in any position where a noun can appear.

(⇒ wa<sup>1</sup> (DBJG: 516–19))

Relative Clause

◆Key Sentence

Relative Clause	Noun
あたま 頭がよくなる	くすり 薬	はない。

(These are non-fattening cakes, so please eat as much of them as you can.)
- (g) あの先生の講義はすぐ眠くなる講義だね。
(That professor's lecture is a lecture that will make you sleepy.)

Notes

1. The example of relative clauses given in this entry are all different from those of ordinary relative clauses in that one of the two source sentences includes a topic marker wa which carries a conditional meaning. Take KS, for example: it apparently comes from (1a) and (1b).

(1) a. 薬はない。

(There isn't medicine.)

b. その薬は頭がよくなる。

(If you take the medicine, you will become smart. (lit. As for the medicine, one will become smart.))

(1b) is a grammatical sentence, meaning 'if you take the medicine you will become smart.' So (1b) is the same as (2) in which the conditional conjunction ba is overtly used.

(2) その薬を飲めば、頭がよくなる。

(If you take the medicine, you will become smart.)

Because the verb nomu is missing in KS, it looks as though medicine itself becomes smart. The same explanation is possible with the other example sentences.

(3) a. (その本を<sup>よ</sup>読めば日本語に強くなる)本がありますか。

(cf. Ex.(a))

b. バロック音楽は(その音楽を聞けば心が静まる)音楽だ。

(cf. Ex.(b))

c. これは(その本を読めば日本の経営法がよく分かる)本です。

(cf. Ex.(c))

d. (その運動をすれば体重が減る)運動を教えてください。

(cf. Ex.(d))

e. (その話を聞けば気持ち明るくなる)話が聞きたいです。

(cf. Ex.(e))

Since a Japanese relative clause can contain a conditional clause within the relative clause, sentences of (3) are grammatical even if V<sub>cond</sub> is retained. So, the following sentences are all grammatical.

- (4) a. 飲めば頭がよくなる薬はない。(cf. KS)
(There isn't medicine which, if taken, will make you smart.)
- b. 読めば日本語に強くなる本がありますか。(cf. Ex.(a))
(Is there a book which, if read, will make your Japanese strong?)
- c. バロック音楽は聞けば心が静まる音楽だ。(cf. Ex.(b))
(Baroque music is music which, if listened to, will make your mind calm.)

2. Exs.(f) and (g) come from (5a) and (5b), respectively.

- (5) a. これは(お菓子をどんなに<sup>た</sup>食べても太らない)お菓子ですから、
どうぞたくさん召し上がって下さい。(cf. Ex.(f))
(These are cakes that will not cause you to gain weight no matter how much you eat them, so please eat a lot of them.)
- b. あの先生の講義は(講義を聞くと、眠くなる)講義だね。
(cf. Ex.(g))
(That professor's lecture is a lecture that will make you sleepy if you listen to it.)

In the process of relative clause formation, the noun in the parentheses identical to the head noun (i.e. o-kashi of (5a) and kōgi of (5b)) is deleted, but the bold type parts (i.e. donna ni tabete mo of (5a) and kiku to of (5b)) can stay.

(⇒ Relative Clause (DBJG: 376–80))

- (i) ああ、ここにいたの(か)。
(Oh, you are here!)

(Walk quickly!)

Notes

1. Rhetorical questions take various forms, as seen in the Key Sentences. Typical endings include potential verbs (KS(A), Exs.(a) and (b)), mono desu ka and its variations (KS(B), Exs.(b) and (c)), darō ka and its variations (KS(C), Exs.(d) and (e)), (nai) de wa nai ka and its variations (KS(D) and Exs.(f) – (h)), no ka and its variations (KS(E) and Ex.(i)) and nai ka (KS(F) and Ex.(j)). No matter what form it takes, however, a rhetorical question always uses falling intonation. Note that in Japanese, genuine questions always use rising intonation.
2. Rhetorical questions in some forms are equivalent to their corresponding negative sentences in meaning. For example, KS(A), (B), and (C) are semantically equivalent to (1), (2), and (3), respectively.
  - (1) そんな恥ずかしいことは出来ない。
(I couldn't do such an embarrassing thing.)
  - (2) 誰もあんな人にお金なんか貸さない。
(No one would lend money to such a person.)
  - (3) 今さら何も隠すことはない。
(There is nothing to hide now.)

Note that rhetorical questions are more powerful than their corresponding sentences.

3. A simple negative question can function as a strong command, as in KS(F) and Ex.(j), and is often used for intimidation.

rokuni ~ nai ろくに～ない str.

a structure that is used to indicate that s.t. animate does not or cannot do s.t. satisfactorily / sufficiently / properly not sufficiently; not satisfactorily; not properly; not well; hardly

◆Key Sentence

		Vneg	Neg.
ひこう機 <small>なか</small> の中では	ろくに	お <small>ね</small> 寝られ	なかった。
(On the plane I couldn't sleep well.)

Formation

ろくに Vneg ない

ろくに を食べない (s.o. doesn't eat properly.)

Examples

- (a) ろくに勉強べんきょうもしないで試験しけんを受けたので、全然ぜんぜん出来できなかった。
(I took the exam without studying properly, so it was a disaster (lit. I couldn't do well at all).)
- (b) 短いパリ滞在たいざいだったので、彼女かのじょとはろくに会あえなかった。
(It was such a short stay in Paris that I hardly met her.)

- (c) 彼はフランスのことなどろくに知らないのに、よく知っているような口を利く。

- (d) セっかくデパートまで買い物に出かけたのに、買い物中気分が悪くなってろくに買い物もせずに帰って来た。

- (e) 僕の犬はろくに芸もしない。
(My dog hardly does any tricks.)

Note

Along with rokuni ~ nai there is another structure similar to it; i.e., rokuna N ~ nai which is used to indicate that s.t. animate does not or cannot do something decent / sufficient / satisfactory. Examples follow:

- (1) a. あの男はろくなあいさつもしない。
(He doesn't give us even a decent greeting.)
- b. ナンシーはろくな手紙も書けない。
(Nancy cannot write even a satisfactory letter.)
- c. あの人はろくな食事をしていないらしい。
(It appears that they are not eating decent meals.)
- d. あの犬はろくなえさを食べていない。
(That dog is not eating decent food.)
- e. あの先生はろくな先生じゃない。
(That professor is not a professor to speak of.)

If the prenominal form rokuna in all the examples except (1e) is replaced by the adverbial form rokuni the meaning will change. The rokuna version indicates that an action does occur but not in a satisfactory manner; whereas the rokuni version indicates that the action hardly takes place.

- (2) a. あの男はろくにあいさつもしない。(cf. (1a))
(He hardly gives us even a greeting.)
- b. ナンシーはろくに手紙も書けない。(cf. (1b))
(Nancy can hardly write even a letter.)
- c. あの人はろくに食事もしていないらしい。(cf. (1c))
(It appears that they are hardly eating meals.)
- d. あの犬はろくにえさを食べていない。(cf. (1d))
(That dog is hardly eating food.)

Notes

1. Sa as a sentence-final particle is used usually by male speakers in very informal speech and it expresses the speaker's encouragement as in KS(A), Exs.(a) and (b), or his assertion to negate someone's challenge as in KS(B) and Exs.(c) – (e), or his light touch comment as in KS(C), Exs.(f) and (g), or his irritation about s.o.'s words or behavior as in Ex.(h) or opposition as in KS(D) and Ex.(i). Sa is also used by both males and females to draw the hearer's attention to something. (See Related Expression III.)

2. Note that when a Wh-word is used with sa, the predicate part has to be no-nominalized. The non-nominalized version is totally unacceptable.

(1) どうして酒を飲んじゃいけない { *さ / のさ }。 (= KS(D))

(2) 何を言っている { *さ / のさ }。 (= Ex.(i)-B)

【Related Expressions】

- I. All the uses of sa in the KS and Exs. can be replaced by yo.

[1] A: 就職出来るかな。

B: 出来るよ。(cf. KS(A))

[2] A: 君は日本語, 読めないよね。

B: いや, 読めるよ。(cf. KS(B))

[3] 人生は長い旅のようなものよ。(cf. KS(C))

[4] どうして酒を飲んじゃいけないのよ。(cf. KS(D))

Note that [3] and [4] will change to strictly female speech, because yo is attached to a noun or to a nominalized clause, respectively, but other than that the crucial difference is that sa is far more informal than yo. That is why yo can be connected with both informal and formal forms but sa can be connected only with informal forms.

[5] a. A: 就職できるかな。

B: 出来ます { よ / *さ }。(cf. KS(A))

b. A: 君は日本語, 読めないよね。

B: いや, 読めます { よ / *さ }。(cf. KS(B))

c. 人生は長い旅のようなものです { よ / *さ }。(cf. KS(C))

Wh-word ~ yo/sa is always connected with informal forms, so there is no contrast between yo and sa.

- d. どうして酒を飲んじゃいけないのです { *よ / *さ }。

(cf. KS(D))

(⇒ yo (DBJG: 543-47))

- II. Another sentence-final particle tomo can replace sa when the latter expresses encouragement or assertion to negate someone's challenge.

- [6] a. A: 就職できるかな。

B: {出来る / 出来ます} とも。(cf. KS(A))

- b. A: 君は日本語, 読めないよね。

B: いや, {読める / 読めます} とも。(cf. KS(B))

- c. 人生は長い旅のようなもの {だ / です} とも。(cf. KS(C))

- d. *どうして酒を飲んじゃいけないの {だ / です} とも。

(cf. KS(D))

[6c] is an acceptable sentence, but the use of tomo presupposes s.o.'s insistence that life is not like a long journey, whereas the use of sa does not presuppose it.

- III. The sentence-final particle ne is fundamentally different from sa, because the former indicates the speaker's request for confirmation or agreement from the hearer, whereas sa indicates a male speaker's assertion. But both can be used in a non-sentence-final position to draw the hearer's attention to something as shown in [7]. Sa used this way can be used by both male and female speakers in very informal speech and sounds much more informal than ne. The excessive use of such ne and sa in a single sentence leads to vulgarity.

- [7] きのう<sup>きのう</sup>えいが<sup>えいが</sup>を見<sup>み</sup>に行<sup>い</sup>ったら {ね / さ}, 雷<sup>かみなり</sup>で急<sup>きゅう</sup>に停電<sup>ていでん</sup>しちゃって {ね / さ}, ひどい目<sup>め</sup>に遭<sup>あ</sup>ったんだ。

(Yesterday I went to see a movie, y'know, and there was power failure, y'know, and I had a bad time.)

sae さえ prt.

an emphatic particle which expresses the idea of “even” in non-conditional clauses (or sentences) or the idea of “only” in conditional clauses

Notes

- As the Formation shows, the particles ga and o do not appear with sae, the directional particles e and ni optionally precede sae, and the other case particles must precede sae.
- When sae is used in a conditional clause, the clause expresses such ideas as “if only,” “as long as,” and “the only thing someone needs is,” as in KS(D), (E), and Exs.(f) – (l). In other words, in “ $S_1$  (conditional with sae),  $S_2$ ”  $S_1$  presents the only condition that must be met in order for  $S_2$  to be true. In this structure, the ba-conditional (e.g., KS(D) and Ex.(f)) is most commonly used. The tara-conditional (e.g., KS(E) and Ex.(g)) can be used but is less common. The nara-conditional is used only in limited contexts such as (1) and (2).

- (1) 君さえ承知(してくれる)なら今すぐこのプロジェクトを始めるつもりだ。(cf. Ex.(g))
(As long as you agree (to our plan), we are planning to begin this project right away.)
- (2) 家族さえ無事なら後は何もいらぬ。
(As long as my family is all right, I ask for nothing else.)

The to-conditional is unacceptable.

3. In conditional clauses, sae can appear in various positions. The focus changes according to the position, as in (3) and (4).

- (3) when no auxiliary verb is involved:
- a. これさえ読めば (if (you) read only this)
b. これを読みさえすれば (if (you) only read this)
- (4) when an auxiliary verb is involved:
- a. これさえ読んでしまえば (if (you) finish reading only this)
b. これを読みさえしてしまえば
(if (you) finish only reading this)
c. これを読んでさえしまえば
(if (you) finish only reading this)
d. これを読んでしまいさえすれば
(if (you) only finish reading)

The pattern in (4b) is not commonly used.

【Related Expressions】

- I. Made is also used as an emphatic marker and can replace sae, as in [1].

- [1] a. 彼女は現代日本語はもちろん古典 {さえ / まで} 読める。
(=KS(A))

- b. この研究所にはアメリカから【さえ / まで】研究者が来る。
(=KS(B))

In the case of sae in KS(C), made replaces both the sae and the de.

- [2] その歌は子供【でさえ / まで / *でまで】知っている。
(=KS(C))

Made, however, cannot replace sae in negative sentences and conditional clauses, as in [3] and [4].

- [3] a. 彼はもうおかゆ【さえ / *まで】のどを通らなかった。
(=Ex.(a))

- b. 彼は私の言うことを聞こうと【さえ / *まで】しない。
(=Ex.(c))

- [4] a. ここに置いておき【さえ / *まで】すれば後はこの人が
全部やってくれます。(=KS(D))

- b. この仕事【さえ / *まで】片付いたら後は楽なんです。
(=KS(E))
(⇒ made (DBJG: 225–28))

II. The emphatic marker sura is very similar to sae but sura is more literary. Sura can replace sae except in conditional clauses.

- [5] a. ここに置いておき【さえ / *すら】すれば後はこの人が
全部やってくれます。(=KS(D))

- b. この仕事【さえ / *すら】片付いたら後は楽なんです。
(=KS(E))

III. Although it is weaker than sae, made, and sura, the particle mo also functions as an emphatic marker in some contexts. First, mo functions as an emphatic marker in negative sentences, as in [6].

- [6] a. 彼はもうおかゆ【さえ / も】のどを通らなかった。(=Ex.(a))
b. 彼は私の言うことを聞こうと【さえ / も】しない。
(=Ex.(c))

Mo can also replace sae after de, as in [7].

- [7] その歌は子供で【さえ / も】知っている。(=KS(C))

As a matter of fact, de and mo are often used together as an emphatic particle.

Mo in ordinary affirmative sentences does not function as an emphatic marker. Compare [8a] and [8b].

- [8] a. この研究所にはアメリカからさえ研究者が来る。(=KS(B))
 b. この研究所にはアメリカからも研究者が来る。
 (Researchers visit this lab from America, too.)

In addition, mo cannot replace sae in conditional clauses.

- [9] a. ここに置いておき【さえ / *も】すれば後はこの人が全部やってくれます。(=KS(D))
 b. この仕事【さえ / *も】片付いたら後は楽なんです。
 (=KS(E))
 (⇒ demo (DBJG: 111–13); mo<sup>2</sup> (DBJG: 250–53))

(This is a wrist watch which my host family father gave me when I left for home.)

Notes

1. ~ sai (ni) is used to indicate a special occasion on which s.o. does s.t. So, the phrase cannot be used on common occasions as in (1) and (2).

(1) 朝起きた {時 / *際} 熱が<sup>わづ</sup>あった。

(When I got up in the morning I had a fever.)

(2) a. 図書館に行った {時 / *際} 本を三冊<sup>ほんさんさつ</sup>借りた。

(When I went to the library I checked out 3 books.)

b. 研究費<sup>けんきゅうひ</sup>をもらって国立国会図書館へ行った {時 / 際}, 本を十二冊<sup>じゅうにだ</sup>借り出した。

(When I received research money and went to the National Diet Library I checked out a dozen books.)

Notice that the occasion of going to the library is far more special in (2b) than in (2a). That is why sai is acceptable in (2b) but not in (2a).

2. Only Vinf or N or demonstrative adjectives kono, sono, ano can be used before sai ni. Vinf·nonpast and Vinf·past indicate incompleteness and completion, respectively, in relation to the action in the main clause. Kono sai as exemplified by Ex.(h) can be used only when the occasion is special.
3. The particle ni of sai ni may be dropped. When ni is dropped as in Ex.(i), the focus shifts from the occasion to what is described in the main clause.
4. ~ sai ni is a formal expression that is often used with Sino-Japanese words, as shown in all the KS and Exs. except Ex.(f). Notice that in Ex.(f), an honorific-polite Japanese verb is used. In the following sentences in which neither a Sino-Japanese verb / noun nor a honorific-polite verb is used sai ni is unacceptable.

(3) a. 詳しいことは八月に来る {時 / *際} に、話します。

(cf. KS(A))

b. 近くに来た {時 / *際} には、ぜひ寄ってね。(cf. Ex.(f))

5. N ni saishite is more formal than N no sai ni. When the former is used, N has to express a very special occasion as in KS(C) and Ex.(g). If N expresses an occasion which is not so special as in Ex.(e), N no sai ni cannot be replaced by N ni saishite.

(4) 旅行 {の際には / ??に際して} 必ずカメラを持って行きます。

(= Ex.(e))

【Related Expressions】

- I. Sai ni indicates the time when s.t. special takes place, whereas ori ni indicates an occasion when s.t. ordinary takes place.

(When Bill got married he hadn't obtained his parents' permission.)

For the difference between toki ni and sai ni, see Note 1 above.

(⇒ toki (DBJG: 490-94))

- II. There is another expression ba'ai, 'case,' which is used in the form of Vinf ba'ai or N no ba'ai.

- [2] a. 先生<sup>せんせい</sup>がいらっしゃる {場合<sup>ばあい</sup> / 時 / 際} は私が<sup>とらいだ</sup>お供<sup>とも</sup>致します。

Notes

1. Sasuga expresses one's strong feeling that s.t. has turned out as one expected, as shown in KS(A) – (D), Exs.(a) – (f), (i) and (j), or that s.t. has turned out to be contrary to one's expectation, as in KS(E), Exs.(g) and (h) as one has not expected.
2. In the structure sasuga wa X da, wa can be omitted.
3. Sasuga ~ dake may take either atte or ni as shown in KS(C), (D) and Ex.(f).
4. In the case of sasuga no X mo, the speaker wants to say that s.t. has occurred contrary to what one can expect from the characteristics of X, as in KS(E), Exs.(g) and (h).
5. Sasuga can be used like an exclamation in conversational Japanese.
  - (1) A: <sup>やまだ</sup>山田は<sup>しほうしけん</sup>司法試験に<sup>いちど</sup>一度で<sup>う</sup>受かったそうだよ。
(I heard that Yamada passed the bar examination on his first attempt.)
  - B: さすが!
(I knew he would.)

【Related Expression】

Another adverb yahari / yappari is similar to sasuga. For examples, sasuga ni of KS(A) – (D) can be replaced by yahari / yappari. However yahari does not express the strong feeling of fulfillment of expectation that is expressed by sasuga.

- [1] ネルソンさんは日本に三年留学していたので、やはり日本語が上手です。(cf. KS(A))
(As expected, Mr. Nelson speaks Japanese well, because he has studied in Japan for three years.)
- [2] やっぱり広島のかきだ。実においしい。(cf. KS(B))
(After all, they are Hiroshima oysters. They are really good.)

Also to be noted is the fact that yahari does not have prenominal nor pre-copula use, as shown in [3].

- [3] a. 難しい質問に、{さすが / *やはり} の大先生も、困ってしまった。(=KS(E))
- b. ジョンは {さすが / *やはり} だね。ビールを十本も飲んでしまったよ。(=Ex.(j))

Notes

1. Sei is a dependent noun; therefore, it needs a modifying word, phrase, or clause.
2. Sei de is used only when the result is undesirable. Thus, (1a) is acceptable but (1b) is unnatural.

- (1) a. <sup>かのじょ</sup>彼女 が<sup>せい</sup>いる<sup>せい</sup>で仕事<sup>しごと</sup>があまり出来<sup>で</sup>ない。
(Because she is here, I cannot do a lot of work.)

- b. 彼女がいる {から / ので / ために / ???せいで} 仕事がよく出来る。
(Because she is here, I can do a lot of work.)

Sei ka, however, is used whether the result is desirable or undesirable, as in (2), KS(B), Exs.(c) and (d).

- (2) a. 彼女がいる せいか 仕事がよく出来る。
(I think it is because she is here that I can do a lot of work.)
- b. 排気ガス規制が効を奏した せいか 近頃空気が前よりきれいになった。
(Because the emission control rules have worked, I suppose, the air has become cleaner than before.)
- c. 薬を飲んだら 気のせいか 少し気分がよくなった。
(I feel a little better after taking medicine, although it might be my imagination.)

3. Sei de is used when the speaker finds the cause of an undesirable result to be beyond his / her control, as in KS(A). Thus, if the cause is within the speaker's control, sei de cannot be used, as in (3).

- (3) a. 漢字をあまり知らない {から / ので / ために / *せいで} 新聞が読めない。
(I cannot read newspapers because I don't know many kanji.)

Sei ka has no such restriction as KS(B) and Ex.(c) show.

4. Sei cannot be used to express a reason. The following sentences are ungrammatical.

- (4) a. 宿題がたくさんある {から / ので / ために / *せいで} パーティーには行けない。
(I cannot go to the party because I have a lot of homework.)
- b. 誰も手伝ってくれない {から / ので / ために / *せいで} 一人でやらなければならない。
(Because no one will help me, I have to do it by myself.)

【Related Expressions】

- I. Okage and sei are similar in that both express a cause. The difference is that okage is used when the result is desirable, as in [1]. Note also that okage implies that the person who attained the result is thankful for the cause.

- [1] a. 安全ベルトのおかげで命が助かった。
(The safety belt saved my life. (lit. My life was saved thanks to the safety belt.))
- b. 彼女が手伝ってくれたおかげで仕事が早く片付いた。

Unlike sei, tame (ni) has no such restrictions as those in Notes 2, 3, and 4.

Note

Semete indicates the speaker / writer's minimally satisfactory level; he is well aware that he cannot realize an ideal state. Each sentence ends in a direct or indirect expression of desire, such as -tai as in KS(A), (C), Exs.(c) and (h), (to ii) n desu ga as in KS(B) and Ex.(a), noni as in Exs.(e) and (f), -(sase) te kudasai as in Exs.(b) and (g) and -yō to omotte imasu in Ex.(d). Of these, noni of Ex.(e) and (f) express counter-factual desire.

[Related Expression]

Sukunakutomo is another adverb with the meaning of 'at least.' The crucial difference between sukunakutomo and semete is that the former focuses on rather objective lower limits of number / quantity; whereas the latter on the speaker's strong desire to realize a certain minimum level of satisfaction. So all the KS and Exs. of semete can be rephrased by sukunakutomo, but the following use of sukunakutomo cannot be rephrased by semete, because it does not express the speaker's desire; it merely expresses the speaker's estimation of numbers / quantity.

- [1] a. この大学の<sup>だいがく</sup>学生数<sup>がくせいすう</sup>は {少なくとも / *せめて} <sup>すく</sup>三万<sup>さんまん</sup>だろう。
(I guess that enrollment at this university is at least 30,000.)
- b. この車<sup>くるま</sup>は {少なくとも / *せめて} <sup>さんびやくまんえん</sup>三百万円<sup>さんびやくまんえん</sup>はするだろう。
(This car will cost at least 3,000,000 yen.)

(This semester I'm supposed to have memorized at least 1,000 kanji.)

Notes

1. Vmasu / VN shidai and N shidai da/de mean 'as soon as' and 'depends on / depending on,' respectively. What is common to both cases is that an action or state indicated by the preceding verb or noun is a prerequisite for another action or state expressed in the main predicate.
2. The Vmasu of Vmasu shidai can hardly be suru-verb, probably because it will create a sequence of shi-shi which is hard to pronounce.

(1) ??東大を卒業し次第、京大の大学院に入学するつもりだ。

(cf. Ex.(d))

(2) ??お尋ねの件は、判明し次第、ご連絡申し上げます。

(cf. Ex.(e))

3. As noted in Formation, as far as Vmasu shidai is concerned, the Vmasu forms of honorific, polite verbs such as irassharu, ossharu, nasaru are not irasshai-, osshai-, and nasai-, but irasshari-, osshari-, and nasari-, respectively.
4. For the shidai structure, the main clause cannot be past tense.

(3) a. ??夫は仕事が終わる次第、毎日まっすぐ帰宅しました。

(My husband came straight home every day, as soon as he finished his work.)

→ 夫は仕事が終わるとすぐ、毎日まっすぐ帰宅しました。

b. *空港から電話があり次第、迎えに行った。

(As soon as I received a call from the airport I went to pick him up.)

→ 空港から電話があつてすぐ、迎えに行った。

[Related Expressions]

1. There is another structure -tara sugu with the meaning of 'as soon as.'
The crucial difference between Vmasu / VN shidai and -tara sugu is that the former expresses a planned sequence of two actions, whereas the latter can express any kind of sequence of two actions. Examples in [1] and [2] show that both forms can be used to express a planned sequence and those in [3] show that Vmasu shidai cannot be used in a non-planned non-controllable sequence. In this case -tara sugu is much better than shidai, but slightly marginal and should be replaced by -tara mamonaku.

- [1] a. 空港から電話が {あり次第 / あったらすぐ}, お迎えに参ります。(=Ex.(b))
- b. 山岸先生が {いらっしゃり次第 / いらっしゃったらすぐ}, 会議を始めたと思います。(=Ex.(c))
- [2] a. 原稿は完成 {次第 / したらすぐ} お送り致します。
(=KS(B))
- b. 東大を卒業 {次第 / したらすぐ}, 京大の大学院に入学するつもりだ。(=Ex.(d))
- [3] a. いえに {帰ったら間もなく / 帰ったらすぐ / *帰り次第}, 地震が起きた。
(As soon as I got home there was an earthquake.)
- b. 彼は日本に {行ったら間もなく / 行ったらすぐ / *行き次第} 病気になる。
(As soon as he got to Japan he got ill.)

II. N shidai da in KS(C) and Exs.(g) – (j) can be replaced by N ni yoru, as shown in [4].

- [4] a. 世の中で成功するかしないかはあなたの努力によりますよ。
(cf. KS(C))
- b. 就職はコネによりますよ。(cf. Ex.(g))
- c. ご注文によって、どんなものでも料理致します。(cf. Ex.(i))

But not all cases of N ni yoru can be replaced by N shidai da, because the former has a wider meaning: N ni yoru indicates ‘cause’ for s.t. as in [5a], ‘means’ as in [5b], or ‘source’ as in [5c]. N ni yoru cannot be replaced by N shidai da in any of these, simply because the latter lacks these particular meanings.

- [5] a. その怪我は不注意 {による / *次第だ}。
(That injury is due to carelessness.)
- b. 彼は政治的手腕 {によって / *次第で}, 世の中で成功した。
(He succeeded in this world by means of his political skills.)
- c. ラジオに {よると / *次第で} 明日は雪だそうだ。
(According to the radio, it will snow tomorrow.)
(⇒ ni yotte/ yori)

Notes

1. Basically, shika mo has three uses. First, shika mo is used when one provides additional important characteristics of s.o. or s.t., as in KS(A) and Exs.(a) – (c). Second, shika mo is used when one adds special information to a statement about a rather uncommon action or state, as in KS(B) and Exs.(d) – (g). Third, shika mo is used when one provides information which is rather unexpected from the preceding statement, as in KS(C), Exs.(h) and (i).
2. In the second use, additional information can be provided with an independent phrase, as in Exs.(d) – (f), or with a sentence, as in Ex.(g). However, the version with an independent phrase is more common.

Notes

1. Sō ka to itte is used when one is inclined to accept what one's conversational partner has said as in KS(A) and Exs.(a) – (e), or what has been mentioned in the preceding sentence as in KS(B), Exs.(f) and (g), but this inclination is accompanied by a realization that it is impossible to accept its corollary due to some circumstance.
2. Sō ka to itte always occurs with an explicitly or an implicitly negative predicate. It often occurs with ~ wake ni {wa / mo} ikanai, but there are cases where an implicitly negative predicate is used as shown in the following:

- (1) a. この町は<sup>まち</sup>気に入らない<sup>き</sup>んだが、そうかと言って、引<sup>ひ</sup>越<sup>こ</sup>すには金<sup>かね</sup>がかかるし。
(I don't like this town, but it costs a lot of money to move, so...)
- b. 僕<sup>ぼく</sup>らは忙<sup>いそ</sup>しいけど、そうかと言って、彼<sup>かれ</sup>一人<sup>ひとり</sup>に任<sup>まか</sup>せておけるかい？
(We are busy, but how can we leave the work to him alone?)

The predicates kane ga kakaru 'it costs a lot of money' and makasete okerukai, a rhetorical question in informal male speech meaning 'we cannot leave it to him,' are cases of an implicitly negative predicate.

[Related Expression]

Sō ka to itte used in sentence-initial position as in KS(A) and Exs.(a) – (e) can be replaced by disjunctive conjunctions such as keredo(mo), shikashi, (sō) desu ga. The same phrase used in non-sentence-initial position as in KS(B), Exs.(f) and (g) cannot be replaced by such conjunctions.

- [1] アメリカの方が土地も家も安い<sup>あ</sup>いが、{?しかし / ??けれども / *だが}, 簡単に移住するわけにもいかない。(cf. KS(B))
- [2] 妻子と別れるのはつらい<sup>つ</sup>いが、{??けれども / ??しかし / *だが}, この海外出張を断るわけにもいかない。(cf. Ex.(g))

Disjunctive conjunctions such as keredo(mo), shikashi, etc. cannot be replaced by the structure in question unless sō ka to itte satisfies the condition mentioned in Note 1 above. The following example sentences all explain this point.

- [3] A: このアパートは<sup>ひろ</sup>広くていいね。
(This apartment is spacious and nice.)
- B: {しかし / けれど / *そうかと言って}, 高<sup>たか</sup>いんだよ。
(But it's expensive, you know.)

- [4] A: 酒は体によくないよ。

(Alcohol is not good for your health, you know.)

- B: {しかし / けれど / *そうかと言って}, 適当に飲めば大丈夫だよ。

(But it's OK if you drink moderately.)

- [5] 漢字は覚えるのが大変だ。{しかし / けれども / *そうかと言って}, 一度覚えると便利だ。

(It is tough to memorize kanji. But once you have memorized them they are very useful.)

Notes

1. Soko o is used to express some positive efforts in spite of some negative situation mentioned either in the first half of the sentence as in KS(A) and Exs.(a) – (c) or in the interlocutor's line as in KS(B), Exs.(d) and (e).
2. Soko o is often used to push one's request in spite of an initial negative reaction, as shown in Exs.(c) – (e). In this case, the sentence often takes the form of Soko o nantoka ~ deshō ka.
3. Soko o can be replaced by soko no tokoro o without changing the meaning when soko o is used to express the speaker's beseeching, as in KS(B) and Exs.(c) – (e).

(In the math exam, I was almost able to solve the last problem when the time was up.)

- (g) やっと日本へ行けそうになった時に、母が病氣になってしまった。
(When I was almost able to go to Japan my mother got ill.)

Notes

1. Vmasu sō ni naru expresses the idea that s.t. almost happens. As shown in Exs.(a), (b) and (f), Vmasu sō ni naru is often used with an extra adverbial phrases such as ayauku 'narrowly,' and mō sukoshi/chotto de 'a little more, then ~,' which reinforce the idea of 'almost.'
2. The verb is restricted to non-volitional verbs, that is, a verb that expresses s.t. that is beyond human control, such as (kaze o) hiku 'to catch (a cold)' (KS), oboreru 'to drown' (Ex.(a)), tsubureru 'to be destroyed' (Ex.(c)), taoreru 'to fall down' (Ex.(d)). Since passive and potential forms are regarded as a non-volitional verb, they can be also used with sō ni naru, as shown in Exs.(b), (e) and (g). If the verb is a volitional verb, Vmasu sō ni naru cannot be used if the subject is the speaker himself / herself.

- (1) a. *私が昼ご飯を食べてそうになった時、友達から電話がかかってきた。

(When I was about to eat my lunch I received a call from my friend.)

→ 私が昼ご飯を食べようとした時、友達から電話がかかってきた。

- b. *僕が大学を出そうになった時、母が亡くなりました。

(When I almost graduated from college, I lost my mother.)

→ 僕が大学を出ようとした時、母が亡くなりました。

However, if the entire situation expressed by the whole sentence expresses a situation that is beyond human control, a volitional verb can be used even if the subject is the speaker himself as shown in (2): in both (2a) and (2b) the action is not the speaker's choice. What (2a) and (2b) mean are 'I was almost forced to eat that poisonous bean-jam bun' and 'I was swindled by somebody to use that counterfeit paper money to purchase things.'

- (2) a. 私は危うくその毒まんじゅうを食べそうになった。
(I almost ate that poisonous bean-jam bun.)
- b. 僕はもうちょっとでその偽札で買い物をしそうになった。
(I almost bought things with that counterfeit paper money.)

If the subject is s.o. other than the speaker, Vmasu sō ni naru can be used, even if the verb is a controllable verb, because whatever happens to the third person is considered to be beyond the speaker's control.

- (2) a. 小さい子供が酒を飲みそうになったので、母親は急いで取り上げた。
(Because a small child almost drank sake, the mother hastily took it away.)
- b. 山田が会社を辞めそうになったので、同僚達は懸命に引き留めた。
(Because Yamada almost quit the company, his colleagues retained him with great efforts.)

【Related Expression】

All the examples of Vmasu sō ni naru can be replaced by mō sukoshi/chotto de ~ suru tokoro datta, except Exs.(f) – (g) in which Vmasu sō ni naru is used in a dependent clause. The latter expression focuses on both the impending aspect of something and the point of time at which s.t. occurs, but the former focuses only on the impending aspect.

- [1] a. 私は子供の時、プールでもう {少し / ちょっと} でおぼれるところだった。(cf. Ex.(a))
- b. 昨日もう {少し / ちょっと} で車にひかれるところだった。
(cf. Ex.(b))
- c. 地震で僕の家はもう {少し / ちょっと} でつぶれるところだった。(cf. Ex.(c))
- d. 庭の古い松の木が台風でもう {少し / ちょっと} で倒れるところだった。(cf. Ex.(d))

- e. 今日混んだ電車の中で、もう {少し / ちょっと} で財布をすられるところだった。(cf. Ex.(e))

As mentioned in Note 2, the verb of Vmasu sō ni naru is restricted to a non-volitional verb. But mō sukoshi/chotto de ~ suru tokoro datta is free of this restriction.

- [2] a. <sup>なが</sup>長い<sup>ろんぶん</sup>論文をもう {少し / ちょっと} で {<sup>か</sup>書き<sup>あ</sup>げるところだった / *書き上げそうになった}。

- (c) ジョンのうちに遊びに行ったら、家のペンキ塗りを手伝わされ、その上、芝刈りまでさせられた。

(When I went to see John at his place, he got me to help him paint his house, and what's more, he even got me to mow the lawn.)

- (d) このアパートは通勤に便利で家賃も安く、その上、駐車場まである。

(This apartment is convenient for commuting and the rent is reasonable. Moreover, it even has a parking space.)

- (e) 日本語は構造が英語とかなり違うし、その上、漢字があるから、アメリカ人には習得が難しい。

(The structure of Japanese is considerably different from that of English, and on top of that, it has kanji; therefore, it is difficult for Americans to learn.)

- (f) この学校はいい先生が少なく設備もよくない。その上、生徒の非行も多い。

(This school does not have many good teachers and the facilities are not good, either. And besides that, there is a lot of juvenile crime.)

Note

Sono ue is used to introduce an emphatic statement. Thus, an emphatic marker like made often appears in the added statement, as in KS(A) and Exs.(b) – (d). (See Related Expression III.)

【Related Expressions】

I. Ue (ni) can replace sono ue, as in [1].

- [1] a. 彼は一緒にアパートを探してくれた上(に), 引っ越しまで手伝ってくれた。(=KS(A))

- b. この仕事は給料がいい上(に), 時々外国に行く機会もある。
(=KS(B))

- c. バナナは安い上(に), 栄養も豊富だ。(=KS(C))

(⇒ ue (ni))

II. Omake ni can replace sono ue without changing meaning, as in [2], although omake ni is slightly more casual.

- [2] a. 彼は一緒にアパートを探してくれて, {その上 / おまけに},
引っ越しまで手伝ってくれた。(=KS(A))
- b. この仕事は給料がいいし, {その上 / おまけに}, 時々外国
に行く機会もある。(=KS(B))
- c. バナナは安い。{その上 / おまけに}, 栄養も豊富だ。
(=KS(C))

III. Sore ni is similar to sono ue except that the added statement is not emphatic. Thus, this statement is often supplementary information. In the following examples, [3a] and [3b] are acceptable but [4a] and [4b] are somewhat unnatural. The reason is that in [3a] and [3b] the second statements are not necessarily emphatic while in [4a] and [4b] the second statements are emphatic as the emphatic marker made shows.

- [3] a. この仕事は給料がいいし, {その上 / それに}, 時々外国に
行く機会もある。(=KS(B))
- b. バナナは安い。{その上 / それに}, 栄養も豊富だ。
(=KS(C))
- [4] a. 彼は一緒にアパートを探してくれて, {その上 / ??それに},
引っ越しまで手伝ってくれた。(=KS(A))
- b. ジョンのうちに遊びに行ったら, 家のペンキ塗りを手伝わ
され, {その上 / ??それに}, 芝刈りまでさせられた。

【Related Expressions】

I. (Sore) ni mo kakawarazu also means of 'in spite of (that)' and, in fact, it can replace sore demo in all the KS and Exs. except Ex.(e). The reason why the replacement is impossible in Ex.(e) is that (sore) ni mo kakawarazu is used only in written or formal spoken Japanese; therefore, it doesn't fit in a very colloquial use of sore demo in Ex.(e).

[1] A: このオーバー、高いねえ。
(This overcoat is expensive, isn't it?)

B: {それでも / *それにもかかわらず} 買うつもり？
(Do you intend to buy it in spite of that?) (= Ex.(e))

[2] 両親は二人の結婚に反対している。{それでも / それにもかかわ

らず} 二人は結婚するつもりらしい。

(The parents are opposed to the couple's marriage. In spite of that, they seem to intend to get married.) (= KS)

II. Sore demo can be rephrased by te mo as in:

- [3] a. 両親が二人の結婚に反対していても、二人は結婚するつもりらしい。(cf. KS)

(Even if the parents are opposed to the couple's marriage, they seem intent on getting married.) (cf. KS)

- b. 暑いので扇風機をつけたが、つけてもまだ暑かった。

(cf. Ex.(a))

But Wh-word ~ te mo cannot be rephrased by sore demo.

- [4] a. <sup>なに</sup>何<sup>な</sup>を食べてもおいしい。

(No matter what I eat, it tastes good.)

cf. *何を食べる。それでもおいしい。

- b. 彼は<sup>だれ</sup>誰<sup>たい</sup>に対しても<sup>おな</sup>同じ<sup>ないど</sup>態度<sup>と</sup>を取る。

(No matter who he faces, his attitude remains the same.)

cf. *彼は誰に対する。それでも同じ態度を取る。

Sore dokoro {ka / de wa nai / ja nai} can indicate a flat rejection of an invitation / request / command of the conversational partner as in KS(B), Exs.(e) and (f). S<sub>2</sub> gives an unusual circumstance which makes it impossible to accept the invitation / request / command.

Notes

1. Sore ga can be used with or without an interjection such as ie, ie, or iya. When an interjection is used, sore ga follows it, as in KS and Ex.(b).
2. Although sore ga is often used when the response is negative, it can be used when the response is positive, as in (1).

【Related Expression】

Omake ni and sore ni are used in similar situations. The difference is that omake ni introduces an emphatic statement while sore ni introduces a non-emphatic statement. Thus, in [1] omake ni is acceptable because the additional statements can be emphatic.

- b. このアパートは明るくて清潔だ。{それに / おまけに} 家賃が安い。(=Ex.(d))

However, in [2] omake ni is not quite acceptable because the additional statement is not as important as the initial one and, therefore, cannot be emphasized.

- [2] 車を買っても置く所がないし、{それに / ??おまけに} あまり乗る機会もない。(=KS(B))

When omake ni is used to introduce an item, an emphatic marker like made is necessary, as in [3].

- (c) A: もっと給料が高い方がいいでしょう？
(You would prefer a higher salary, right?)
B: そりゃ(あ)そうですが…。
(Naturally, I would, but . . .)

Notes

1. Sorya(a) in Ex.(c) is the contracted form of sore wa.

2. Interjections such as hai, ee and un can be used with sore wa. When such an interjection is used, sore wa follows it, as in KS and Ex.(a).
3. Sore wa in the following examples should not be confused with the sore wa presented here. As a matter of fact, sore in these examples is a demonstrative pronoun. That is, sore in (1) refers to A's idea and sore in (2) refers to A's giving a gift.

(1) A: 彼女は僕が嫌いになったのかなあ。
(Perhaps she doesn't love me any more.)

B: それは違うよ。
(That's not true.)

(2) [When giving a gift,]

A: これ、つまらないものですが。
(This is nothing special, but . . .)

B: それはご丁寧に。
(That's very kind of you.)

Note that sore wa in these examples cannot be preceded by interjections such as hai and ee.

Notes

1. Sorezore is used to express an idea of 'each' or 'respectively.'
2. There are two types of construction that involve sorezore. One is the construction that is a condensed version of two or more co-ordinated sentences as in KS(A) and Exs.(a) – (d). For example, KS (A) is a reduction from (1) below:

- (1) 山田さんは果物を買って、鈴木さんはお菓子を買った。
(Yamada bought fruits and Suzuki bought cakes.)

This sentence can be condensed either into KS(A), (2) or (3).

- (2) 山田さんは果物を、鈴木さんはお菓子を買った。
(Yamada bought fruits, and Suzuki, cakes.)
- (3) 山田さんは果物を、鈴木さんはお菓子を、それぞれ買った。
(Yamada bought fruits, and Suzuki, cake, respectively.)

The other type is a construction that is not a reduction from a co-ordinated sentence as exemplified by KS(B) and Exs.(e) – (h).

3. Sorezore can be used as a pronoun as in Ex.(i). In this case sorezore is used in a combination of sorezore no N. Two more examples follow:
- (4) オーケストラはそれぞれの音色を持っている。
(Orchestras have their own respective sounds.)
- (5) 学生はそれぞれの自転車で登校する。
(Students come to school on their own bicycles.)
4. Sorezore can be used as a kind of noun as shown in (6) and (7) below.
- (6) 宇宙の星はそれぞれが引力で引き合っている。
(The stars of the universe are each pulling others by gravitation.)

- (7) このワインの中<sup>なか</sup>にはフランス<sup>さん</sup>産とドイツ<sup>ま</sup>産が混<sup>ま</sup>じっています。匂<sup>にお</sup>いのかいだけで、それ<sup>い</sup>ぞれを言<sup>あ</sup>い当<sup>あ</sup>てること<sup>で</sup>が<sup>き</sup>出来<sup>き</sup>ますか。
(In these wines are mixed both French wines and German wines. Can you tell the respective wines by just smelling them?)

【Related Expression】

Meimei and ono'ono are similar in meaning to sorezore.

- [1] 私達は兄弟だが、趣味が {それぞれ / <sup>おのおの</sup>各々 / <sup>めいめい</sup>銘々} 違う。(=Ex.(c))

But they are distinctly different. Meimei and ono'ono can refer only to a human, but sorezore can refer to anything, as shown in [2].

- [2] 読んだ小説は {それぞれ / *各々 / *銘々} 面白かった。(=KS(B))

Furthermore, sorezore can be used in a condensed structure as in KS(A) and Exs.(a) – (d), but neither meimei nor ono'ono can be used in this structure, as shown in [3].

- [3] 山田さんと鈴木さんは、果物とお菓子を {それぞれ / *各々 / *銘々} 買った。(=KS(A))

- (h) 郵便局はスーパーのすぐ隣です。

(The post-office is right next to the supermarket.)

Notes

1. Sugu in KS(A) and Exs.(a) – (f) means ‘without much temporal distance,’ whereas in KS(B), Exs.(g) and (h) it means ‘without much spatial distance.’
2. ~ tara/to sugu is used to mean ‘as soon as ~’ as in KS(A), Exs.(a) and (b), if the main verb is a volitional verb. Ex.(d) cannot mean ‘as soon as,’ because the verb is a non-volitional verb. Another example follows:

- (1) そのエビを食べたら、すぐおなかが痛くなった。

(I got a stomachache straight after eating that shrimp.)

【Related Expression】

Mō sugu as in [1] is used to mean ‘s.t. is going to take place very soon since a triggering event has already taken place.’ Sentences [2] and [3] are unacceptable because in [2] the triggering event (i.e., a telephone call) has not taken place and in [3] the triggered event (Smith’s coming) has already taken place.

- [1] スミスさんは電話したから、もうすぐ来るよ。

(Because we have called Mr. Smith, he will come pretty soon.)

- [2] *スミスさんは電話すれば、もうすぐ来るよ。

- (g) うちでは給料日のたびに銀座のレストランで食事をします。

Notes

1. The meaning of 'each / every time' is emphasized by inserting goto between tabi and ni.

(1) a. 日本へ行くたびごとに新しいことを学んで帰ります。

(cf. KS(A))

b. 父は旅行のたびごとにおみやげを買ってきてくれる。

(cf. KS(B))

2. The tense of the verb that comes before tabi ni is restricted to nonpast.
3. The particle ni of tabi ni cannot be dropped.

【Related Expressions】

1. Sinf tabi ni, N no tabi ni and VN no tabi ni can be paraphrased by Sinf toki (ni) wa itsu (de) mo, N ni wa itsu (de) mo, and VN suru toki wa itsu (de) mo respectively, as shown in [1].

- [1] a. あのひとと話す時<sup>とき</sup>(に)はいつ(で)も心が和みます。(cf. Ex.(a))
 b. 誕生日にはいつ(で)も夫はバラの花を買ってくれます。
 (cf. Ex.(f))
 c. 父は旅行【する時はいつ(で)も / *にはいつ(で)も】おみやげを買ってきてくれる。(cf. KS(B))

The paraphrasability between the two structures does not always mean that they are synonymous. Since the tense of the verb that comes before tabi ni is restricted to nonpast, Ex.(e), for example, is ambiguous as to whether the speaker feels his life is enriched while listening to Mozart or after he has finished listening to it. The two readings of Ex.(e) correspond to [2a] and [2b] below.

- [2] a. モーツァルトの音楽を聞く時にはいつでも人生が豊かになった気がする。
 (When I listen to Mozart's music I always feel my life is enriched.)
 b. モーツァルトの音楽を聞いた時にはいつでも人生が豊かになった気がする。
 (When I have listened to Mozart's music I always feel my life is enriched.)

Such two-way interpretation is also possible with Exs.(a) – (c), but the interpretation is logically impossible for KS(A) and Ex.(d).

(⇒ toki (DBJG: 490–94))

- II. Sinf tabi ni and N no tabi ni can also be paraphrased by Sinf·nonpast to itsu (de) mo. The original and the paraphrased versions again mean practically the same. Notice, however, that unlike Ex.(e), [3] is not ambiguous like [2] above: it means only [2b].

- [3] モーツァルトの音楽を聞くといつ(で)も人生が豊かになった気がする。

Notes

1. Tada is a device to emphasize such ideas as “only,” “just,” and “simply.” As a matter of fact, a sentence with tada and one without tada mean the same thing unless tada is followed by One + Counter no Noun (e.g., hito-ri no otoko ‘a man,’ ichi-dai no kuruma ‘a car’). For example, the two sentences in (1) and (2) are semantically equivalent. The addition of tada however, makes the (a) sentences more emphatic.

- (1) a. 彼女はただの一度も手紙をくれなかった。(=KS(B))
b. 彼女は一度も手紙をくれなかった。
- (2) a. 彼はただ弁護士だけが頼りだ。(=KS(C))
b. 彼は弁護士だけが頼りだ。

When tada is followed by One + Counter no Noun, the meaning changes, as in [3].

- (3) a. 彼のただ一つの欠点は時間にルーズだということだ。
(=KS(A))
(His only (one) defect is that he is not punctual.)

- b. 彼の一つの欠点は時間にルーズだということだ。
(One of his defects is that he is not punctual.)

2. Tada can be used in a variety of sentence patterns. Those presented in KS and in Formation are not exhaustive. (See Exs.(g) and (h).)

【Related Expression】

Tatta can be used instead of tada when One + Counter immediately follows, as in KS(A) and Ex.(a).

- [1] a. 彼の {ただ / たった} 一つの欠点は時間にルーズだということだ。 (=KS(A))
b. 彼は {ただ / たった} 一人でやってきた。 (=Ex.(a))

However, tatta cannot replace tada in its other uses, as in [2].

- [2] a. 彼女は {ただ / *たった} の一度も手紙をくれなかった。
(=KS(B))
b. 彼は {ただ / *たった} 弁護士だけが頼りだ。 (=KS(C))
c. 彼女とは {ただ / *たった} お茶を飲んで話をした(という)だけだ。 (=KS(D))

On the other hand, tada cannot be used to modify a number beyond one or to modify an adverb, as in [3] and [4].

- [3] 私はこの夏<sup>なつ</sup> {たった / *ただ} 二日<sup>ふたつか</sup>しか休まなかった。
(I took only two days off this summer.)
[4] ジョンは {たった / *ただ} 今<sup>いま</sup>帰<sup>かえ</sup>ったばかりです。

(No, not at all. He was an ordinary college professor.)

(e) ただの冗談<sup>じょうだん</sup>ですよ。

(I'm just kidding, you know.)

Note

Tada no N is used when the speaker makes nothing out of s.t. / s.o. Therefore, it can be used as a humble expression as in KS and Ex.(d).

[Related Expression]

Tada no N is similar in meaning to futsū no N which means 'ordinary N.' The latter does not carry the former's emotive overtone of 'making nothing out of s.t. / s.o.'; it is, rather a neutral term to mean 'not special,' or 'standard.' So when the emotive overtone is strong (including a case of humble expression) tada no can hardly be replaced by futsū no, as shown below.

- [1] a. 私は {ただ / ?普通<sup>ふつう</sup>} の平社員ですから、そんなことは知りません。(=KS)

Note

Tashikani ~ ga is usually used when the speaker admits that something is certain or true but wants to say something in opposition to what is admitted.

【Related Expression】

Notes

1. The conjunction tokoro de is used with Vinf·past. The past form is used here not as the past tense marker but as the counterfactual marker. So in every case what is expressed in the tokoro de clause has not taken place yet. What the conjunction really means is: 'even if one supposes an action or a state in the clause has already taken place.'
2. The main clause usually takes an explicit negative marker nai, but there are cases like KS and Ex.(g) in which the main clauses express something undesirable.

【Related Expression】

Vinf·past tokoro de can always be replaced by Vte mo.

- [1] a. どんなに低く見積もっても、工費は五億円を超えるだろう。
(cf. KS)
- b. この薬を飲んでも、風邪がすぐ治るわけじゃない。(cf. Ex.(a))
- c. 一週間に一度ぐらい運動しても、あまり効果はないでしょう。
(cf. Ex.(c))

However, there is a crucial difference between Vinf·past tokoro da and Vte mo. The former has a clear counterfactual meaning, but the latter does not have a clear counterfactual meaning.

There are a lot of cases where Vte mo cannot be replaced by Vinf·past tokoro de owing to the crucial difference. Notice that in [2] below Vte mo clearly expresses not something counterfactual but something factual.

- [2] a. <sup>しゅじん わたし をん どのやうい</sup>主人は私が何度注意 {しても / *したところで} たばこをやめない。
(My husband won't quit smoking no matter how many times I advise him.)
- b. <sup>ぼく なに た</sup>僕は何を {食べても / *食べたところで} <sup>ふと</sup>太っちゃうんです。
(I gain weight no matter what I eat.)

Another crucial difference is that the main clause for Vinf·past tokoro de has to be negative either explicitly or implicitly; whereas the main clause for te mo can be affirmative. (See Note 2.)

- [3] a. この科目を {取らなくても / ??取らなかったところで} <sup>そつぎょう</sup>卒業は出来る。
(I can graduate even if I don't take this course.)
- b. <sup>えんぴつ か</sup>鉛筆で {書いても / *書いたところで} いいですか。

Notes

- For all the sentences given in KS and Exs, the verbs of saying, thinking, feeling or doing are ellipted, except KS(E) and Exs.(k) – (m) in which the entire iu yōni / iu fū ni is deleted.

(l) a. 幸夫は来年は家<sup>いえ</sup>が買<sup>か</sup>えると {思<sup>おも</sup>って / 言<sup>い</sup>って}, 大変喜<sup>よろこ</sup>んでいる。(cf. KS(A))

b. 博物館は開<sup>ひら</sup>いているかなと思<sup>おも</sup>って、電話<sup>でんわ</sup>してみた。

(cf. KS(B))

- c. テニスをしようと {思っ / して} 出かけたなら、途中で雨が降ってきた。(cf. KS(C))
- d. 父はまだ元気なようだと思っ / 安心していたが、最近急に弱ってきた。(cf. KS(D))
- e. 外国語の能力は単語から文、文から段落、そして段落から複段落という {よう / 風} に、伸びていく。(cf. KS(E))

KS(A) type, i.e., Exs.(a) – (c), KS(B) type, i.e., Exs.(d) – (f), KS(C) type, i.e., Exs.(g), (h), and KS(D) type, i.e., Exs.(i) and (j), usually take omotte. They can take itte, if the to-clause can be interpreted as a quote, as in KS(A) and Ex.(a). Notice that Ex.(a) may take omotte, but the meaning is not the same as the original ellipsed one. It means ‘My friend looked sad, wrongly assuming that a cat which she kept for a long time died.’ For that matter, one of the interpretations of KS(A) is ‘Yukio is very happy assuming wrongly that he can buy a house next year.’ KS(C) type, i.e., Exs.(g) and (h), usually take omotte and shite. KS(E) type, i.e., Exs.(k) – (m), take iu {yōni / fū ni}.

(⇒ to<sup>3</sup> (DBJG: 478–80))

2. In KS(A) type, the only type which allows ellipsis of itte the main verb is usually a psychological verb such as yorokobu ‘rejoice’ of KS(A), kanashigaru ‘deplore’ of Ex.(a), shinpaisuru ‘worry’ of Ex.(b), and kuyashigaru ‘feel chagrined’ of Ex.(c). Another notable thing about this type is that the whole sentence refers not to the speaker’s but to a third person’s psychological state.

- (2) a. *僕は来年は家を買えると大変喜んでいる。(cf. KS(A))
(I’m very happy that I can buy a house next year.)
- b. *私は長い間飼っていた猫が死んでしまったと、悲しかった。
(cf. Ex.(a))
(I was sad that the cat I kept for a long time died.)

The acceptable versions of (2a) and (2b) are (3a) and (3b), respectively.

- (3) a. 僕は来年は家を買える {から / ので} 大変喜んでいる。

- b. 私は長い間飼っていた猫が死んでしまった【から / ので】悲しかった。

3. The omotte-ellipsis is possible when the preceding verb expresses the speaker's volition with Vvol as in KS(C), Exs.(g) and (h) or his / her conjecture as in KS(D), Exs.(i) and (j). However, if the preceding verb does not express either volition or conjecture by means of darō (as in Ex.(i)), kamoshirenai (as in Ex.(j)) and yōda (as in KS(D)), the omotte-ellipsis does not usually occur.

- (4) a. <sup>にほんご</sup>日本語を日本で勉強するの面白いと【思っ<sup>て</sup> / \* $\emptyset$ 】, 去年の夏日本で日本語を勉強した。

(Thinking that it would be interesting to study Japanese in Japan, last summer I studied Japanese in Japan.)

- a'. 日本語を日本で勉強するの面白いだろうと【思っ<sup>て</sup> /  $\emptyset$ 】, 去年の夏日本で日本語を勉強した。

(Thinking that it might be interesting to study Japanese in Japan, last summer I studied Japanese in Japan.)

- (5) a. <sup>たろう</sup>太郎は冬休みに海外旅行でもしたいと【思っ<sup>て</sup> / \* $\emptyset$ 】, 急に家の近くの旅行代理店に出かけた。

(Taro suddenly went to a travel agent near his house, wanting to make a trip abroad during the winter break.)

- a'. 太郎は冬休みに海外旅行でもしようと【思っ<sup>て</sup> / \* $\emptyset$ 】, 急に家の近くの旅行代理店に出かけた。

(Taro suddenly went to a travel agent near his house, wishing to make a trip abroad during the winter break.)

4. The shite-ellipsis out of Vvol to shite is possible only when the Vvol to shite clause appears in a larger construction, as in KS(C), Exs.(g) and (h). For example, in (6a) below, no action is described, so the shite-ellipsis is impossible, whereas in (6a') an action is explicitly mentioned, so the ellipsis is possible.

- (6) a. お金を払おうと【し<sup>て</sup> / \* $\emptyset$ 】, 財布がないことに気がついた。

(When I tried to pay, I realized that I didn't have my purse.)

- a'. お金を払おうと {して /  $\emptyset$ }, ポケットに<sup>て</sup>手<sup>を</sup>突<sup>っ</sup>込<sup>み</sup>んだが, 財布がないことに気がついた。

(I tried to pay and put my hand into my pocket, but I realized that I didn't have my purse.)

5. The iu {yō / fū} ni-ellipsis is possible when N Prt + N, ... N Prt + N (soshite) N(Prt) precedes to iu {yō / fū} ni, as in KS(E) and Exs. (k) – (m). Otherwise the ellipsis is impossible unless the main verb is a verb of saying or thinking.

- (7) a. 社長には問題<sup>もんだい</sup>はなかったという {よう / 風} に言<sup>い</sup>っ<sup>て</sup>お<sup>い</sup>て<sup>く</sup>下<sup>さ</sup>い。

(Please tell the president that there were no particular problems with it.)

→ 社長には問題はなかったと言<sup>い</sup>っ<sup>て</sup>お<sup>い</sup>て<sup>く</sup>下<sup>さ</sup>い。

- b. この物<sup>もの</sup>語<sup>がたり</sup>は今<sup>いま</sup>の社<sup>しゃ</sup>会<sup>かい</sup>を風刺<sup>ふうし</sup>しているという {よう / 風} には考<sup>かんが</sup>えられませんか。

(Can't we regard this story as mocking contemporary society?)

→ この物語は今の社<sup>しゃ</sup>会<sup>かい</sup>を風刺<sup>ふうし</sup>しているとは考<sup>かんが</sup>えられませんか。

(⇒ to iu fū ni)

- (8) a. 彼はもう我<sup>が</sup>慢<sup>まん</sup>が出来<sup>で</sup>ないという {よう / 風} に荒<sup>あら</sup>々<sup>あら</sup>しく立<sup>た</sup>ち上<sup>あ</sup>がった。

(He stood up abruptly in a way that showed he could no longer stand it.)

→ *彼はもう我<sup>が</sup>慢<sup>まん</sup>が出来<sup>で</sup>ないと, 荒<sup>あら</sup>々<sup>あら</sup>しく立<sup>た</sup>ち上<sup>あ</sup>がった。

- b. 彼はどうしようもないという {よう / 風} に首<sup>くび</sup>を振<sup>あ</sup>った。
(He shook his head in such a fashion as to suggest that there was no way out.)

→ *彼はどうしようもないと, 首<sup>くび</sup>を振<sup>あ</sup>った。

Note

S to iu koto wa is used when the speaker / writer views the content of S at a conceptual level. Specifically, S to iu koto wa is used (1) when S is unlikely or impossible (e.g., KS(A) and Ex.(a)), or (2) when the speaker / writer concludes or attempts to conclude s.t. from S (e.g., KS(B) and (C), and Exs.(b) – (g)).

[Related Expression]

Koto also changes a sentence into a noun clause. The difference between S to iu koto and S koto is that the former is used when S represents a concept rather than a fact (e.g., KS(A)) or when the speaker / writer views the concrete content of S at a conceptual level (e.g., KS(B) and (C)). On the other hand, S koto is used when S represents a fact (or something nearly factual) and the speaker / writer views it at a concrete level. The following examples illustrate this point.

First, S koto cannot be used when S is unlikely to happen. In this case, S to iu koto is used, as in [1].

- [1] a. 彼がこの集まりに来ない {という / \* $\emptyset$ } ことは考えられない。
(=KS(A))
- b. これだけ丁寧に説明すれば、分からない {という / \* $\emptyset$ } ことはあり得ない。(=Ex.(a))

Second, if S represents a fact which the speaker / writer knows through his / her direct experience, only S koto is acceptable, as in [2].

- [2] 彼がその集まりに来なかった { $\emptyset$  / ??という} ことは事実だ。
(It is a fact that he didn't come to the meeting.)

However, if S represents a fact which the speaker / writer knows through indirect experience (i.e., through secondhand information), S to iu koto is acceptable, as in [3].

- [3] 彼が離婚した { $\emptyset$  / という} ことは事実だ。
(It is a fact that he got divorced.)

Third, if S represents something likely to happen, both S koto and S to iu koto are acceptable, as in [4]. In this case the speaker / writer may view the situation at either a concrete level or a conceptual level.

- [4] 彼がこの集まりに来ない { $\emptyset$  / という} ことは確かだ。
(It is certain that he will not come to this meeting.)

Fourth, when verbs like kanjiru 'feel' and yōkyūsuru 'request; demand' are used, the content of S should be concrete. In this case, S koto is used, as in [5].

- [5] a. 何かよくないことが起こりつつある { $\emptyset$  / \*という} ことを<sup>かん</sup>感じる。
 (I feel that something bad is happening.)
 b. <sup>われわれ</sup>我々は<sup>しゃちょう</sup>社長が<sup>しやがい</sup>謝罪する { $\emptyset$  / \*という} ことを<sup>ようきゅう</sup>要求した。
 (We demanded that the president apologize to us.)

However, as in [6], with verbs like tsutaeru 'convey; tell' and kiku 'hear; listen' both S to iu koto and S koto can be used because the content of S can be either conceptual or concrete.

- [6] a. 彼がこの集まりに来ない {という /  $\emptyset$ } ことをみんなに<sup>つた</sup>伝えた。
 (I told everybody that he would not come to this meeting.)
 b. 彼がこの集まりに来ない {という /  $\emptyset$ } ことを<sup>き</sup>聞いた。
 (I heard that he would not come to this meeting.)

- (f) 学生は貧乏だというのに、結構いい車を取り回しているね。

Notes

1. Sinf to iu noni is used to indicate that an action or state expressed in the main clause takes place quite contrary to one's expectation from an action or a state expressed in the subordinate clause (=Sinf to iu noni clause).
2. Iu in Sinf to iu noni in this heading does not have the original meaning of 'say,' because it does not express a quote. But as in (1a) below, there are cases in which Sinf to iu noni expresses a quote. Compare (1a) with (1b) which is a non-quote case.

(1) a. 市役所は閉まっているというのに、妻はそんなことはないと言う。

(I told my wife that the City Hall is closed, but she says it isn't.)

b. 市役所は閉まっているというのに、その前に人が集まっている。

(Although the City Hall is closed, a lot of people are gathered in front of it.)

[Related Expression]

All the Sinf to iu noni in KS and Exs can be replaced by Sinf noni without changing the essential meaning, because both of them express the meaning of 'although.'

- [1] a. 四月なのに、まだ肌寒い。(cf. KS)
- b. あさってはロンドンへ行かなければならないのに、まだ何も準備していないんですよ。(cf. Ex.(a))
- c. 彼は母親が危篤なのに、映画を見に行った。(cf. Ex.(b))
- d. 年末でとても忙しいのに、うちの人是一体どこへ行ったのだろう。
(cf. Ex.(c))

Sinf to iu noni is used when something quite contrary to what is expected from S is expressed in the main clause, so if the contrast to one's expectation is not fully expressed as in [2a], the use of Sinf to iu noni becomes marginal. In [2b] in which ample information is given to make the contrast clear, to iu noni becomes acceptable.

- [2] a. 彼はお金がある {のに / ??というのに} なかなか出さない。
(He has money alright, but he does not part with it readily.)
- b. 彼は資産家の息子でお金が余るほどある {のに / というのに} なかなか出さない。
(He is the son of a man of property, and he has money more than he can use, but he does not part with it readily.)

Notes

1. Although there is no restriction as to what precedes it, to iu no wa is usually preceded by N / Adj(na)stem or {VP / AP / S}inf. Similarly, any form can precede to iu koto da, but it is normally preceded by {VP / AP / S}inf. When to iu is not present before koto da, N no or the pre-noun form of V or Adj. must precede.
2. In X to iu no wa Y to iu koto da, the presence of the second to iu depends on the relationship between X and Y. If Y is the unshortened word of, a definition of, or a synonym for X, to iu is not used (e.g., KS(A) and Ex.(a)).

- (1) a. パソコンというのはパーソナル・コンピュータ {の / *という} ことだ。 (=KS(A))
- b. マイカーというのは個人が持っている車 {の / *という} ことだ。 (=Ex.(a))

If Y is an interpretation or explanation of X, to iu should be present (e.g., KS(D) and Ex.(f)).

- (2) a. 「猿も木から落ちる」というのは上手な人でも時には失敗することがある {という / ??ø} ことだ。 (=KS(D))
- b. 「花より団子」<sup>はなよりだんご</sup> というのはきれいなものより食べられる団子の方がいい、外観より実質の方を取る {という / ??ø} ことだ。 (=Ex.(f))

If Y can be interpreted either way, to iu is optional. For example, in KS(C), if to iu is present, the speaker is explaining the meaning of ashi ga deru. If to iu is not present, the speaker is providing a definition for the phrase under focus.

3. To request the meaning of a word, a phrase, or a sentence, the following expressions are commonly used.

- (3) [Asking the meaning of a word]

カラオケ<sup>さん</sup>というの<sup>は</sup>何<sup>なん</sup>ですか。

(What does karaoke mean?)

- (4) [Asking the meaning of a phrase or a sentence]

「首<sup>くび</sup>を切る」<sup>を</sup>というの<sup>は</sup>どうい<sup>い</sup>う意<sup>い</sup>味<sup>み</sup>ですか。

(What does kubi o kiru mean?)

Note that the expression is (5) is not used in this situation.

- (5) *カラオケの意味は何ですか。

(lit. What is the meaning of karaoke?)

4. In asking the meaning of X in conversation, X to iu no wa is often contracted to X tte, as in (6).

- (6) a. カラオケ<sup>て</sup> (= とい<sup>い</sup>うの<sup>は</sup>) 何<sup>なん</sup>ですか。 (= (3))

(Do you like karaoke?)

B. カラオケ<sup>て</sup>?

[Related Expression]

X to iu koto wa Y to iu koto da also means that X means Y. However, this structure is used to provide an interpretation of a fact (or something nearly factual), and is not used to provide a definition, an explanation, or an interpretation of a word, a phrase, or a sentence. Thus, to iu koto wa is acceptable in [1], but not in [2], and to iu no wa is acceptable in [2], but not in [1].

- [1] 手紙が戻って来た {<sup>てがみ</sup> <sup>もど</sup> <sup>き</sup> 手紙が戻って来た } <sup>かのじょ</sup> <sup>は</sup> <sup>もう</sup> <sup>この</sup> <sup>じゅうしょ</sup> 彼女はまだこの住所にはいないということだ。

In both cases, the clause which follows X to iu to is a response (an involuntary action or a state of mind) caused by X.
2. To iu to is also used to question the meaning of a word or phrase mentioned by the interlocutor, as in (1).

[Related Expression]

To ieba is similar to to iu to. However, to iu to is used in the situations mentioned in Note 1, whereas to ieba is used when the speaker wants to present what has just been mentioned as a new topic. Compare [1] and [2].

2. X to iu yori wa Y usually takes a topic as shown in KS and Exs.(a) – (h) but there are cases when it does not take a topic as in Ex.(i).
3. X to iu yori wa Y often takes the form of X to iu yori wa mushiro Y. The adverb mushiro makes the meaning of 'rather' more explicit.

Notes

1. The particle toka de is used to give an unconfirmed reason for a given action or state. The particle consists of the quotation marker to and the question marker ka and the particle of cause / reason de.

(⇒ to<sup>3</sup> (DBJG: 478–80); ka<sup>2</sup> (DBJG: 166–68); de<sup>3</sup> (DBJG: 107–09))

2. Since toka de is used to express what the speaker / writer has heard from someone as a reason for an action / state, the subject cannot be the speaker / writer himself.

- (1) {ジョン / *私 / *あなた} は仕事<sup>しごと</sup>があるとかで映画<sup>えいが</sup>に行かない。
(John / *I / *You will not go see the movie, saying something like he has things to do.)

【Related Expression】

Toka de and kara / node are crucially different in that the former is used to express an uncertain hearsay reason; whereas the latter two conjunctions for reason / cause have nothing to do with hearsay. Therefore in (1) above kara / node can be used regardless of the person (i.e., the first person or the third person) of the subject, as shown in [1].

- [1] {ジョン / 私 / あなた} は仕事がある {から / ので} 映画に行かない。

Notes

1. Vinf-past tokoro is used when someone does something intentionally. Thus, the tokoro clause must represent a volitional action. The following sentences are unacceptable. (See Related Expression.)
  - (1) a. *目が覚めたところ、もう昼だった。

  - b. *夕立が通ったところ、とても涼しくなった。

[Related Expression]

V tara (i.e., Vinf·past ra) can be used in place of Vinf·past tokoro, as in [1]. However, V tokoro is more formal than V tara and is usually used in formal speech and writing, while V tara is used in both formal and informal language.

- [1] a. 先生に相談した {ところ / ら}, ぜひ大学院に行くよう勧められた。(=KS)
 b. 部長に頼んでみた {ところ / ら}, 喜んで引き受けてくれた。

It is noted that V tara does not have the restrictions listed in Notes 1, 2, and 3. Thus, the following sentences are all acceptable.

- [2] a. 目が覚めた {ら / *ところ}, もう昼だった。(=(1a) in Note 1)
 b. 夕立が通った {ら / *ところ}, とても涼しくなった。

Notes

1. Tokoro ga always appears in sentence-initial position.
2. In “S<sub>1</sub>. Tokoro ga S<sub>2</sub>,” S<sub>2</sub> represents something one does not expect from S<sub>1</sub>, as in KS(A).
3. Tokoro ga is used in response to the addressee's utterance, as in KS(B). In this case, the sentence following tokoro ga is not what the addressee expects to hear.

[Related Expressions]

- I. Although the sense of unexpectedness disappears, the conjunctions daga, keredo(mo), and shikashi can replace tokoro ga in “S<sub>1</sub>. Tokoro ga S<sub>2</sub>,” as in [1].

[1] 日本式の部屋に泊まりたいと思って旅館を予約した。{ところが /
だが / けれども / しかし}, 通された部屋は洋式だった。
(=KS(A))

However, daga, keredo(mo), and shikashi cannot replace tokoro ga when “Tokoro ga, S” is a reply to a question, as in [2].

[2] A: 彼女にプロポーズしたんだろう？ どうだった？

B: {ところが / *だが / *けれども / *しかし}, だめだったんだ。
(=KS(B))

Tokoro ga, on the other hand, cannot be used when the situation does not involve unexpectedness, as in [3].

- [3] a: この本<sup>ほん</sup>は高<sup>たか</sup>い。{だが / けれども / しかし / *ところが} いい本だ。
(This book is expensive. But it is a good book.)

(It's cold here in winter. But it's cool in summer.)
- (⇒ daga; keredomo (DBJG: 187–88))

II. Sore ga is also used when the speaker is going to provide an unexpected response to a question. In fact, tokoro ga in such situations can be replaced by sore ga, as in [4].

- [4] A: 彼女にプロポーズしたんだろう? どうだった?
B: {ところが / それが}, だめだったんだ。(=KS(B))

However, unlike tokoro ga, sore ga can be used when the second speaker is not sure what the first speaker expects to hear in the second speaker's response. For example, in [5] sore ga can be used even when B is not sure what A expects, while tokoro ga can be used only when B knows that A expects a good result. (⇒ sore ga)

- [5] A: 試験<sup>しけん</sup>どうだった?

- B: {それが / ところが} だめだったんだ。

Notes

1. The conjunction usually occurs with a Wh-word as shown in KS and Exs. However, there are cases where Wh-word is not used as in KS(D), Exs.(c), (f) and (i). Note that naku / nakarō in Ex.(f) comes from a negative Adj(i)nai.
2. When tomo is connected with an Adj(i), the form can be either Adj(i)stem ku to mo or Adj(i)stem karō to mo, as shown in Formation (ii). But when Adj(i)stem is used with tomo as a fixed phrase, as in KS(D) and Ex.(i), only Adj(i)stem ku tomo is used. The only other commonly used fixed phrases are hayaku tomo 'at the earliest' and tashō tomo 'more or less.' All this express quantity or degree and can be used in both spoken and written Japanese.
3. Note that mo of Vvol to mo can be deleted, but mo of te mo cannot. (⇒ te mo (DBJG: 468-70)) Mo can be also omitted from Adj(i)stem karō tomo and Adj(na)stem de arō tomo.

【Related Expression】

Vvol tomo, {karō / ku} tomo, Adj(na)stem de arō tomo can be replaced by te mo or tatte without changing the meaning. However, tomo definitely belongs to written Japanese, and te mo belongs to either spoken or written Japanese, and tatte belongs to spoken Japanese. However, the fixed phrases such as osoku tomo ‘at the latest’ and sukunaku tomo ‘at least’ are the exceptions.

Adj(i / na)te mo can be replaced by Adj(i)stem {ku / karō} tomo / Adj(na)stem de arō tomo, but V*te mo* cannot be replaced by Vvol tomo, especially when the verb expresses something controllable. Note that in [2] and [3] below, [2a] and [3a] express something controllable, but [2b] and [3b] express causative passive situations that are beyond human control.

Notes

1. When N precedes to naru to, it means “when it comes to N.”
2. S to naru to is used when the speaker / writer has just learned that S is true.

【Related Expression】

To suru to is similar to to naru to in that both express a provisional idea. However, S to suru to is used when S is hypothetical or uncertain, whereas S to naru to is used when the speaker / writer takes S to be true or a reality. Thus, to naru to cannot be used in the hypothetical situation in [1].

- [1] 今自分の家を建てる {とすると / *となると} どんな家を建てますか。

Notes

1. X tōri means either that someone does something in the same way as X (e.g., KS(A) and (B)) [manner], or that something agrees with X (e.g., KS(C) and (D)) [concordance]. In the first case, the particle ni may follow tōri, but in the second case, no particle follows, as in (1).

(1) 思った通り {ø / *に} 彼が<sup>が</sup>一番先に来ていた。(=KS(C))

(This is a scheduled activity (lit. an activity which is the same as we scheduled).)

【Related Expression】

In some contexts, yōni, the adverb form of yōda, also expresses the idea “in such a way.” However, X yōni basically means that the way someone does something or something takes place is like X, while X tōri means that the way someone does something or something takes place is the same as X. Thus, in contexts where the way is practically the same as X, yōni and tōri are almost interchangeable; otherwise, they are not. In [1], for example, the yōni sentences and the tōri sentences mean practically the same thing, except that the tōri sentences stress “exactness.”

[1] a. 私の言う {ように / 通り(に)} 体を動かして下さい。(=KS(B))

b. 予想した {ように / 通り} 誰も宿題をやってこなかった。

In [2], on the other hand, tōri is not acceptable.

[2] a. 春<sup>はる</sup>になった {ように / *通り} 暖<sup>あたた</sup>かい。

(lit. Today is as warm as if spring had come.)

b. 彼女<sup>かのじょ</sup>は日本人<sup>にほんじん</sup>の {ように / *通り} 日本語<sup>はな</sup>を話す。

(Let New York's price index be 100.)

Notes

1. The common meaning for all the uses of suru in KS and Exs is the speaker's assumption about something. Vinf-past to suru is a hypothetical assumption. Excepting the cases where to suru is used in the sense of 'regard ~ as ~,' practically all the uses of to suru can take both non-past and past tenses.

- (1) a. 温度は一定 {だ / だった} とする。(=KS(A))
b. 一日に五百マイル運転 {できる / できた} とすれば / すると、何日で着きますか。(=KS(B))
c. 温暖化現象がこのまま {続く / 続いた} としよう。(=KS(C))

The choice of the past tense over the non-past tense serves to indicate a greater degree of hypothesis, because the past tense expresses s.t. as if a given situation already existed. The similar contrast that is found in basic grammar is ~ hō ga ii as in (2).

- (2) すぐ {行く / 行った} <sup>ほう</sup>方がいいよ。

(You should / had better go there right away.)

2. In terms of the choice of particles there are three patterns for the N (da / dearu) to suru structure: that is, N<sub>1</sub> {ga / o / wa} N<sub>2</sub> (da / dearu) to suru.

- (3) a. 温度は一定だとする。(=KS(A))

- b. 温度が一定だとする。

- c. 温度を一定だとする。

The most basic one is the ga-version, i.e., (3b) and it means 'Let's assume that (not something else but) the temperature is constant.' In the o-version, i.e., (3c), the original subject of (3b) has been changed to a direct object o. The o-version translates into English as 'Let's assume the temperature to be constant' in which the original subject has changed to the direct object, just as in the Japanese version. In (3a) 'the temperature' is presented as the topic of the sentence. The similar particle choice is observed in the omou construction.

- (4) a. その映画<sup>えいが</sup>は面白<sup>おもしろ</sup>いと思<sup>おも</sup>う。

(As for the movie, I believe that it is interesting.)

- b. その映画が面白<sup>おもしろ</sup>いと思<sup>おも</sup>う。

(I believe that (not something else but) the movie is interesting.)

- c. その映画を面白<sup>おもしろ</sup>いと思<sup>おも</sup>う。

(I believe the movie to be interesting.)

Note also that in (3) the copula da can be dropped in (3a) and (3c), but not in (3b).

[Related Expressions]

- I. Compare N to suru in [1a] and [2a] and N ni suru in [1b] and [2b].

- [1] a. 温度は一定とする。(=KS(A))
 b. 温度は一定にする。
 (We will make the temperature constant.)
- [2] a. 一ドルは<sup>さんびやくろくじゅう</sup>三百六十円とする。
 (Let 1 dollar be ¥360.)
 b. 一ドルは三百六十円にする。
 (We will make 1 dollar ¥360.)

The choice of the particle ni indicates that the speaker causes the change, whereas the choice of the particle to indicates that the speaker simply assumes a certain state of the matter. So if the speaker cannot make an assumption about something, the use of to is ungrammatical, as shown in [3] and [4].

- [3] <sup>こおり</sup>氷を<sup>みず</sup>水 {に / *と} する。
 (We make ice into water.)
- [4] <sup>まほうつか</sup>魔法使いはカエルを<sup>おうじさま</sup>王子様 {に / *と} する。
 (The wizard will change a frog into a prince.)

II. To sureba / suru to can be contrasted with to nareba / naru to, with difference of meaning. The former expresses an assumption, but the latter expresses a reality, as shown in [5] and [6] below:

- [5] a. 一日に五百マイル運転できると {すれば / すると}, 何日で着きますか。(=KS(B))
 b. 一日に五百マイル運転できると {なれば / なると}, 何日で着きますか。
 (If we can drive 500 miles per day, how many days will it take to get there?)
- [6] a. 日本経済がこのまま下降線をたどると {すれば / すると}, 日本語ブームもやがては終わるかもしれない。(=Ex.(g))
 b. 日本経済がこのまま下降線をたどると {なれば / なると}, 日本語ブームもやがては終わるかもしれない。
 (If the Japanese economy keeps going down as it is now, the Japanese language boom may eventually come to an end.)

Note

Sound-symbolical word + to suru is used to mean 'to look ~' or 'to feel ~'. The sound-symbolical word (i.e., a phono-mime, pheno-mime and psycho-mime) expresses sensory experience as in Exs.(a) – (c) or psychological experience as in KS and Exs.(d) – (i). The following is an inexhaustive list of such sound-symbolical words that take to suru.

ぐにゃつとする (to become limp)	すかつとする (to feel very refreshed)
しゅんとする (to feel despondent)	つんとする (to look standoffish)
ぎくつとする (to feel shocked)	ぎよつとする (to be startled)
じつとする (to stay still)	ほろりとする (to be moved to tears)
どきつとする (to be startled)	くらつとする (to feel dizzy)
ぞくつとする (to shiver with cold)	すうつとする (to feel refreshed)

Unlike the ones listed above, most of the sound symbolical words are based on reduplication, that is, they take the form of X-X as in:

きらきら ((shine) sparkingly)

ころころ ((small objects) roll)

ぽたぽた ((large amount of liquid) drips)    ぬるぬる (slimy)
 ざくざく ((cut) a heavy, thick object)    かちかち ((freeze) hard)
 しとしと ((it rains) quietly)    するする ((slide) smoothly)
 くるくる ((turn) round and round)    こそこそ ((escape) secretly)

But all the sound symbolical words with reduplication cannot normally fit into the to suru pattern.

- (1) 今日は春のように、一日中<sup>きょう はる いちにちじゅう</sup>ぽかぽかしていた。
(Today all day long it was nice and warm like spring.)
- (2) あの女<sup>おんな</sup>の人は目がきらきらしている。
(That woman's eyes are sparkling.)
- (3) もうすぐ日本に行けると思うと、わくわくする。
(I get excited when I think that I can go to Japan pretty soon.)

【Related Expression】

Notes

1. The adverb tōtō is used to express that an expected situation has come about after an extended period of time. The resulted situation is often negative in nature, but not always, as shown in Exs.(g) and (h).
2. The main verb that is used with tōtō often takes Vte shimau, an auxiliary verb that indicates completion of something about which the speaker is emotive. (⇔ shimau (DBJG: 403-06))

【Related Expressions】

- I. Tōtō is crucially different from yatto in that the former often indicates a negative situation that came about spontaneously, but the latter indicates a positive situation that has been realized with the greatest efforts. So, every tōtō in the KS and Exs. cannot be replaced by yatto, except Exs.(g) and (h).

- [1] a. 弟は医者<sup>の</sup>の忠告<sup>を</sup>聞かないでたばこを吸い続け、{とうとう / *やっと} 肺がんになってしまった。(=Ex.(a))
- b. 日本語の先生が余りにも厳しかったから、その学生は{とうとう / *やっと} 日本語が嫌いになってしまった。
(=Ex.(b))

However, if the final verb is a verb that expresses s.t. positive that has resulted by human efforts, then yatto can be used but not tōtō. Note that the final verbs in [2a] and [2b] are non-volitional verbs. If the verbs are volitional as in [2a'] and [2b'], both yatto and tōtō become acceptable. In this case yatto and tōtō indicate difficulty in the process and the sense of accomplishment, respectively.

- [2] a. <sup>さん</sup>三時間も<sup>かんが</sup>考えて {やっと / *とうとう} 数学の問題が解けた。
(I was able to solve a mathematical problem eventually after working on it for three hours.)
- b. <sup>さが</sup>探していた本<sup>ほん</sup>が<sup>かん</sup>神田<sup>だ</sup>の<sup>ふるほんや</sup>古本屋で {やっと / ??とうとう} <sup>み</sup>見つかった。
(I finally found a book I'd been looking for at a second-hand bookstore in Kanda.)
- a'. 三時間も考えて {やっと / とうとう} 数学の問題を解いた。
(I solved the problem eventually after working hard at it for three hours.)
- b'. 探していた本を神田の古本屋で {やっと / とうとう} 見つけた。

(I finally found a book I had been looking for at a second-hand bookstore in Kanda.)

As explained in Note 1 above, tōtō tends to occur with a negative statement, so for example in [3a] the choice of tōtō indicates the speaker/writer's dislike of the winter, whereas, the choice of yatto indicates his liking of the winter. In [3b] the choice of tōtō indicates the speaker/writer's unhappiness about the man's quitting the job, whereas the choice of yatto indicates his happiness about the guy's quitting the job.

- [3] a. 冬<sup>ふゆ</sup>が {とうとう / やっと} やって来た。
(The winter finally came.)
- b. その男<sup>おとこ</sup>は会社を {とうとう / やっと} 辞<sup>や</sup>めた。
(The man quit the company in the end.)

Note also that yatto cannot be used with a negative predicate, as follows.

- [4] a. スミスさんは {とうとう / *やっと} パーティーに来<sup>き</sup>ませんでした。
(Smith didn't show up at the party after all.)
- b. なくした財布<sup>さいふ</sup>は {とうとう / *やっと} 見<sup>み</sup>つかりませんでした。
(The purse I lost was not found after all.)

II. Another similar adverb tsui ni can replace tōtō and yatto, when the main verb is affirmative, but when it is negative, it can replace only tōtō.

- [5] 待ち<sup>まち</sup>に待<sup>まつ</sup>った夏<sup>なつ</sup>休<sup>やす</sup>みは {ついに / とうとう / やっと} やって来た。
(The long-awaited summer vacation has finally arrived.)
- [6] a. キャシーは {ついに / とうとう / *やっと} パーティーに<sup>あそ</sup>現<sup>あ</sup>れなかった。 (Cathy didn't show up at the party after all.)
- b. エドには {ついに / とうとう / *やっと} 会<sup>あ</sup>うことが出来<sup>でき</sup>なかった。
(I couldn't see Ed after all.)

Tsui ni focuses on the final moment, whereas tōtō focuses on the process that leads to the final moment, but in actual use they are virtually interchangeable.

Notes

1. Vinf-past ue de is used to express an idea that someone will do something rather important (quite often decision-making) after they have done something as a preparatory action. The image is that the action expressed in the main clause is on top of the accompanying action, as shown in the following diagram.

(KS(A))

(Ex.(b))

2. The verbs of the main and preparatory actions are non-passive, volitional verbs.

- (1) a. 彼は新しい仕事 {を見つけた / *が見つかった} 上で、彼女と結婚した。
(He married her after he found a new job / a new job was found.)
- b. 彼は財産を全部整理した上で、{自殺した / *死んだ}。
(He killed himself / died after he had sorted out all of his assets.)

Compare the following four sentences in which main and preparatory actions are stated in active or passive predicates.

- (2) a. ??この問題はよく調査された上で、結論が出されるべきだ。
(For this problem a conclusion should be drawn after a careful investigation has been conducted.) [passive-passive]
- b. ?この問題はよく調査した上で、結論が出されるべきだ。
(For this problem a conclusion should be drawn after we have conducted a careful investigation.) [active-passive]
- c. *この問題はよく調査された上で、結論を出すべきだ。
(For this problem a conclusion should be drawn after a careful investigation has been conducted.) [passive-active]
- d. この問題はよく調査した上で、結論を出すべきだ。
(For this problem we should draw a conclusion after we have made a careful investigation. [active-active]

3. N in N no ue de as exemplified by KS(B), Exs.(g) and (h) is typically a noun of investigation, interview, discussion and the like. And the noun is usually a Sino-Japanese noun that takes (o) suru.

[Related Expression]

Vte kara is close in meaning to Vinf-past ue de, in that both express two actions in sequence. In fact, all the KS and Exs. can be rephrased using Vte kara, as long as the verbs are volitional. See Note 2.

- [1] a. よく考え {た上で / てから}, 御返事いたします。(=KS(A))
 b. よく問題を話し合っ {た上で / てから}, 決めたらどうでしょうか。
 (=Ex.(a))
 c. 実験をし {た上で / てから}, 理論の正しさを証明しなければならない。(=Ex.(b))

However, there is a crucial difference between the two constructions: Vte kara is used solely to indicate time sequence but Vinf-past ue de is used to indicate a preparation for a relatively important action. Therefore, there are cases of Vte kara which cannot be rephrased by Vinf-past ue de as in [2]. In these examples, Vte kara part lacks the sense of prerequisite. That is why the use of Vinf-past ue de is impossible.

- [2] a. ジョーンズさんは必ずシャワーを<sup>あ</sup>浴び {てから / *た上で} <sup>お</sup>寝る。
 (Mr. Jones always goes to bed after taking a shower.)
 b. 雪子は晩ご飯を<sup>た</sup>食べ {てから / *た上で} <sup>えい</sup>映画<sup>が</sup>に行った。
 (After eating her supper, Yukiko went to a movie.)
 c. 私達はこの家を買<sup>い</sup>っ {てから / *た上で} もう十<sup>じゅう</sup>年<sup>ねん</sup>になる。
 (It's already been 10 years since we bought this house.)

If Vte kara indicates a preparation, then, the rephrasing is alright as in [3].

- [3] a. 電話をし {てから / た上で} 友達を<sup>ともだち</sup>訪<sup>たず</sup>ねた。
 (I visited with my friend after calling him.)
 b. 彼は必ず翌日<sup>よくじつ</sup>の予定<sup>よてい</sup>表<sup>ひょう</sup>を調<sup>しら</sup>べ {てから / た上で} 床<sup>とこ</sup>につく。
 (He always goes to bed after looking at the following day's schedule.)

【Related Expression】

The te-forms of verbs (Vte) are also used to mean ‘V and ~.’ The difference between Vmasu and Vte is as follows.

Basically, in “V<sub>1te</sub> ~ V<sub>2</sub>” there is a close relationship between the action in V<sub>1</sub> and that in V<sub>2</sub>. No such relationship exists between V<sub>1</sub> and V<sub>2</sub> in “V<sub>1masu</sub> ~ V<sub>2</sub>.” Usage restrictions differ depending on the subjects of V<sub>1</sub> and V<sub>2</sub>.

A. When the subjects of V<sub>1</sub> and V<sub>2</sub> are the same:

A-1. Vte

In general, “V<sub>1te</sub> ~ V<sub>2</sub>” is used when the two actions are closely related and the sequence is important. More specifically, Vte is used in situations like those in [1] – [3].

- [1] When one action (V<sub>2</sub>) cannot take place until another action (V<sub>1</sub>) takes place, as in (a) and (b):

- a. 私は今日デパートへ {行って / *行き} 買い物しなければなら
ない。
(I have to go to the department store to do some shopping today.)
- b. 実物を {見て / *見} 買うかどうか決めたい。
(I'd like to decide whether to buy it or not after I see the real thing.)

[2] When  $V_1$  represents the cause of  $V_2$  (a special case of [1]), as in (a) and (b):

- a. 彼は<sup>かれ</sup> {働き<sup>はたら</sup>すぎて / ???働き<sup>からだ</sup>すぎ} 体を壊<sup>こわ</sup>してしまった。
(He damaged his health by overworking.)
- b. 赤ん坊<sup>あか ぼう</sup>は私の顔<sup>かお</sup>を {見て / ???見<sup>き</sup>い} 急に泣<sup>な</sup>き出した。
(Seeing my face, the baby suddenly began to cry.)

[3] When  $V_1$  represents a means or manner of doing  $V_2$ , as in (a) and (b):

- a. 京子は毎日自転車<sup>まいにち じてんしゃ</sup>に {乗<sup>の</sup>って / ???乗<sup>の</sup>り} 学校へ行く。
(Kyoko goes to school by bicycle (lit. by riding a bicycle) every day.)
- b. 私は手袋<sup>てぶくろ</sup>を {はめて / ???はめ} その仕事<sup>しごと</sup>をした。
(I did the work with gloves on.)

A-2. Vmasu

In general, “ $V_1masu \dots V_2$ ” is used when two actions or states are not directly related. More specifically, Vmasu is used when the times of two independent actions or states overlap, as in [4] and [5].

[4] Overlapping actions

- a. 幸男<sup>ゆき お</sup>はよく {働き<sup>はたら</sup>き / *働<sup>はたら</sup>いて}, よく遊<sup>あそ</sup>ぶ。
(Yukio works hard and plays a lot.)
- b. みんなはその知らせ<sup>し</sup>に {驚<sup>おどろ</sup>き / *驚<sup>おどろ</sup>いて}, 悲<sup>かな</sup>しんだ。
(Everybody was surprised and saddened by the news.)

[5] Overlapping states

- a. 次郎<sup>じろう</sup>はクラシック音楽<sup>おんがく</sup>を {好<sup>この</sup>み / *好<sup>この</sup>んで}, 演奏家<sup>えんそう か</sup>もよく知<sup>し</sup>っている。
(Jiro likes classical music and knows many performers, too.)
- b. 我々<sup>われわれ</sup>は平和<sup>へい わ</sup>を {愛<sup>あい</sup>し / *愛<sup>あい</sup>して}, 戦争<sup>せんそう</sup>を憎<sup>にく</sup>む。
(We love peace and hate war.)

A-3. Additional information before $V_2$ and acceptability of $V_1masu$

When the action of  $V_1$  precedes that of  $V_2$ ,  $Vte$  is preferred. However, when additional information precedes  $V_2$ ,  $Vmasu$  is acceptable even when the action of  $V_1$  occurs before that of  $V_2$  (e.g., KS(A) and Exs.(a) – (c)). Compare (a) and (b) in [6] and [7].

- [6] a. エビは殻を {むいて / *むき}, 炒めます。
(As for shrimp, you take their shells off and fry them.)
- b. エビは殻を {むいて / むき}, サラダ油で軽く炒めます。
(=Ex.(b))
- [6] a. これは炭火で {焼いて / *焼き} 食べます。
(You eat this after grilling it over charcoal. (lit. This, you grill it over charcoal and eat it.))
- b. これは炭火で {焼いて / 焼き}, しょう油を {付けて / *付け} 食べます。
(You eat this with soy sauce after grilling it over charcoal. (lit. This, you grill it over charcoal, dip it into soy sauce, and eat it.))

The acceptability of  $V_1masu$  in this situation may be due to the fact that when additional information occurs before  $V_2$ , the focus shifts from the relationship between the two verbs to the additional information before  $V_2$ .

A-4. Stylistic use of $Vmasu$

In sentences involving a series of verbs,  $Vmasu$  is often used in situations where either form can occur. This choice is stylistic and avoids the overuse of the  $Vte$  form. For example, in [8],  $V_1$ – $V_5$  can be  $te$ -form verbs. However, because  $V_1$ ,  $V_3$  and  $V_5$  must be  $te$ -forms (See [1]), the  $Vmasu$  form would more commonly be used for  $V_2$  and  $V_4$ .

- [8] 私は今日、まず、デパートへ {行つて / *行き} (=V<sub>1</sub>) 買い物をし (=V<sub>2</sub>), その後、銀行に {寄つて / *寄り} (=V<sub>3</sub>) 新しい口座を開き (=V<sub>4</sub>), 帰りに喫茶店で友達に {会つて / *会い} (=V<sub>5</sub>) 本を返す予定だ。

(Today I'm planning to go to the department store first to do some shopping, then, to stop by the bank to open a new account, and on my way back, to meet a friend of mine at a coffee shop to return her book.)

In conversation, however, such stylistic control is difficult and, therefore, te-forms often occur for every verb. This is the reason why in some situations the use of Vte sounds colloquial and the use of Vmasu sounds formal.

A-5. Vte / Vmasu and controllability

In “V<sub>1</sub>te ~ V<sub>2</sub>,” because the action in V<sub>1</sub> is closely related to the action of V<sub>2</sub>, both verbs must be either controllable or non-controllable, as in [9] and [10]. This is not the case with Vmasu.

- [9] a. 私はボブに会って、ジェーンの<sup>たず</sup>ことを尋ねた。
[Both controllable]
(I met Bob and asked him about Jane.)
- b. 私はたまたまボブに {会い / ?会って}, ジェーンの<sup>たず</sup>ことを尋ねた。
[Non-controllable and controllable]
(I saw Bob accidentally and asked him about Jane.)
- [10] a. スリは<sup>けいさ</sup>刑事に見つかって、<sup>たいは</sup>逮捕された。 [Both non-controllable]
(The pickpocket was found by a detective and was arrested.)
- b. スリは刑事に {見付き / ?見つかって}, <sup>でんしゃ</sup>電車から<sup>と</sup>飛び<sup>お</sup>降りた。
[Non-controllable and controllable]
(The pickpocket was found by a detective, and he (= pickpocket) jumped off the train.)

B. When the subjects of V<sub>1</sub> and V<sub>2</sub> are different:

When two different subjects are involved in “V<sub>1</sub>te ~ V<sub>2</sub>,” the action of V<sub>1</sub> has not necessarily been completed before that of V<sub>2</sub>, as in [11].

- [11] <sup>つとむ</sup>勉がピザを焼いて、<sup>としこ</sup>利子がサラダを作った。
(Tsutomu baked a pizza and Toshiko fixed a salad.)

(⇒ -te (DBJG: 464-67))

1. The Vmasu of practically all the verbs can be used as a noun, except Sino-Japanese suru-verbs. Some of the verb stems (Vmasu) are treated like real nouns and listed as such in dictionaries, taking the topic marker wa, the subject marker ga, the direct object marker o, etc. It is strongly suggested that the non-native speaker / writer check each use of Vmasu as a noun in the dictionary.

Notes

1. Affirmative forms such as Vmasu wa suru, Adj(i)stem ku wa aru, and {Adj(na)stem / N} de wa aru often appear with the conjunction ga in contrastive sentences. (⇒ wa<sup>1</sup> (DBJG: 516–19))

(It is needless to say that reading books is very important.)
- (2) 人生に浮き沈みがあるのは言うまでもない。

- b. 彼は平日 {ばかりで(は)なく / はもちろん / は言うに及ばず} 週末も祭日も仕事をしている。(cf. Ex.(c))

The only difference is that X wa iu made mo naku is used primarily in written Japanese, whereas ~ bakari de (wa) naku ~ (mo) and wa mochiron can be used in both spoken and written Japanese. wa iu ni oyobazu is not used in casual speech.

Notes

1. In casual conversation wake, an informal form of wake da, is used quite frequently to give slight emphasis to a fact when the speaker does not expect the hearer to know about it. (1) presents an example.

- (1) 私が帰ったらね、いとこの政ちゃんが来てたわけ。で、話してるうちにディスコへ行こうということになって、友達に電話したわけ。

(When I got back home, my cousin Masa was there. While we were talking, we decided to go to a disco and I called some friends of mine.)

2. Wake da, as introduced here, should not be confused with the use in which two propositions X and Y have the relationship "given X, one is logically led to Y,” as in (2). In this use, wake da is interpreted as “it means that ~,” “you mean that ~,” “that’s why,” “no wonder,” “that is,” “in other words,” etc.

- (2) a. Teacher: 私は来週一週間日本に行きます (=X)。
(I’ll be in Japan for a week beginning next week.)

Student: じゃ、来週は授業がない (=Y) わけですか。
(So, you mean there will be no classes next week?)

- b. ジョーンズさんは日本に十年もいたんだ (=X) そうだ。日本語が上手な (=Y) わけだ。
(I heard that Mr. Jones was in Japan for ten years. That’s why he speaks Japanese well.)

- c. ジョーンズさんは日本語が上手な (=Y) わけだ。日本に十年もいたんだ (=X) そうだ。
(No wonder Mr. Jones speaks Japanese well. He was in Japan for ten years, I heard.)

(⇒ wake da (DBJG: 531–34))

[Related Expression]

In some situations no da also conveys the idea “the fact is that ~.” For example, KS(A) and (C) could be rephrased as [1] and [2], respectively, only [1] does not convey as strongly the speaker’s expectation that the proposition represented by the preceding sentence is known to the hearer and [2] does not give as much emphasis to the fact represented by the preceding sentence.

- [1] 福田先生の死で私達はリーダーを失ってしまったのですが、今後は私達自身でこの会を発展させていかなければなりません。

(We lost our leader with Prof. Fukuda’s death, and from now on we have to advance this group by ourselves.)

- [2] 今でこそ地球が丸いことは子供でも知っているが、コロンブス以前は誰もが地球は平らだと思っていたのだ。

(Today even children know that the earth is round, but before Columbus, everybody thought that it was flat.)

Wake de cannot be rephrased as no de, however, because no de conveys a sense of reason or cause. [3], for example, does not mean the same thing as KS(B).

- [3] 戦争は大きな犠牲を伴うので、我々は何としてもこれを避けなければならない。

(Because war is accompanied by great sacrifice, we have to avoid it at any cost.)

On the other hand, wake da cannot be used to provide or ask for an explanation of, or a reason for, information shared by the speaker and the hearer, as in [4] and [5].

- [4] 今日のパーティーには行けません。宿題がたくさんある {ん / の / *わけ} です。

(I can't come to today's party. I have a lot of homework.)

- [5] [Looking at someone doing something]

A: 何をしている {ん / *わけ} ですか。

(What are you doing?)

B: 日本語を勉強している {ん / *わけ} です。

(I'm studying Japanese.)

(⇒ no da (DBJG: 325-28))

B: いや、そういうわけではありません。

Notes

1. Wake de wa nai, the negative form of wake da, denies what is implied either in the previous statement (e.g., KS(A) and Exs.(a) – (d)) or in the following statement (e.g., KS(B) and Exs.(e) – (g)). In either case, wake de wa nai sentences and the previous (or following) sentences are often connected by conjunctions like ga and shikashi.

(⇒ wake da (this volume; DBJG: 531–34))

2. In some situations the ideas whose implications are denied by wake de wa nai are not stated (e.g., KS(C) and Ex.(h)). For example, KS(C) denies an implication of (1), the idea which is not stated in KS(C).

- (1) 結果がいいことは大切だ。
(It is important that the result is good.)

Note

Wake ga nai basically negates either (a) the existence of a reason to believe that someone will do / does something, will be / is in some state, or something will happen / happens, or (b) a possibility of someone's future / present action or state, or a future / present event. Thus, sentences before wake ga nai are always nonpast. However, wake ga nai can indirectly negate the existence of a reason to believe that someone did something or was in some state, or that something happened, or negate the possibility of a past action or state by presenting the negation in a statement about a common belief, a habitual action or state, or one's ability. For example, KS(B) can be used in a context as in (1).

- (1) A: チャールズが一年<sup>いちねん</sup>で日本語をマスターしたそうだよ。
(I heard that Charles mastered Japanese in a year.)

B: 冗談<sup>じょうだん</sup>だろう。日本語がそんなに速くマスター出来るわけがない。
(=KS(B))

(You are kidding! It is impossible to be able to master Japanese that quickly.)

[Related Expression]

Hazu ga nai expresses an idea very similar to wake ga nai. Thus, the key sentences above can be rephrased, as in [1].

- [1] a. こんなやさしい仕事が君に出来ない {わけ / はず} がない。
(=KS(A))
b. 日本語がそんなに速くマスター出来る {わけ / はず} がない。
(=KS(B))

However, hazu ga nai can be used with past sentences and it negates the possibility of a past action, state, or event, as in [2]. (See Note.)

- [2] a. 彼女がそんなことをした {はず / ???わけ} がない。
(It is impossible for her to have done such a thing.)
b. 彼が優等生<sup>ゆうとうせい</sup>だった {はず / ???わけ} がない。

- (h) 上司の命令なのだから、報告書を書かないわけにはいかない。
(It is my boss's order, so I cannot avoid writing the report.)

Notes

1. Wake ni wa ikanai is used to express the meaning that one cannot do s.t. because of an external circumstance. So, the phrase cannot be used to indicate a simple fact of incompetence. For example, (1a) presents a simple case incompetence, whereas (1b) presents a case in which one cannot play the piano owing to some circumstance (e.g. a baby is asleep). Actually (1b) presupposes that the speaker can play the piano.

- (1) a. 僕はピアノが弾けない。
(I cannot play the piano.)

- b. 僕はピアノを弾くわけにはいかない。
(I cannot play the piano (owing to some circumstance).)

2. -nai wake ni wa ikanai is used to express the meaning that ‘s.o. has no other choice but s.t.’ as shown in KS(B), Exs.(g) and (h).
3. There is no affirmative counterpart of wake ni wa ikanai.
- (2) 今日はいい天気だから、テニス {が出来る / *をやるわけにいく}。

【Related Expressions】

- b. これから運転しなければなりませんから、酒を {飲めません / 飲むことは出来ません}。(cf. Ex.(d))
- c. まだ仕事が残っているので、{帰れません / 帰ることは出来ません}。(cf. Ex.(e))

But rareru and koto ga dekiru cannot replace wake ni wa ikanai unless an external circumstance which blocks s.o. from doing s.t. exists, as noted in Note 1.

(⇒ rareru<sup>2</sup> (DBJG: 370–73); koto ga dekiru (DBJG: 200–01))

- II. -nai wake ni wa ikanai can be rephrased by -nakereba naranai, but notice that the latter expresses obligation, responsibility and necessity, whereas the former expresses the idea of ‘to have no other choice but to do s.t.’

Notes

1. The meaning of the transitive verb yaru depends on the structure in which it is used and on the meaning of the direct object noun.

Structure	Meanings	Examples
a) s.o. ga s.o. o N(place) ni yaru	'send'	KS(A), Ex.(a)
b) s.o. ga s.o. ni N o yaru	'give'	KS(B), Ex.(b)
c) s.o. ga N(sports / game) o yaru	'play'	KS(C), Ex.(d)
d) s.o. ga N(occupation) o yaru	'work as'	KS(D)
e) s.o. ga N(role) o yaru	'play a role'	KS(E)
f) s.o. ga N(food / alcoholic drink / cigarette) o yaru	'eat / drink / smoke'	KS(F), Ex.(f), (g)
g) s.o. ga N(work / task) o yaru	'do'	Ex.(c)
h) s.o. ga N(event) o yaru	'hold'	Ex.(e)
i) s.o. ga N(hobby / subject) o yaru	'learn'	Ex.(h)
j) s.o. ga N(illness) o yaru	'suffer from'	Ex.(i)
k) s.o. ga N(store / company) o yaru	'run'	Ex.(j)

Note that the structures for c through k are identical. The only crucial difference among them is the meaning of ‘yaru’ depending on the meaning of the direct object nouns.

(⇒ ageru<sup>1</sup>; ageru<sup>2</sup> (DBJG: 63–67))

2. Yaru has the meaning of ‘drink,’ ‘eat,’ and ‘smoke’ but the usage is very much restricted, as shown in (1).

- (1) a. 昨日はおいしいすしを {食べました / *やりました}。
(Yesterday I ate delicious sushi.)
- b. ここではたばこを {吸って / *やって} はいけません。
(You shouldn’t smoke here.)
- c. 毎朝僕はオレンジジュースを一杯 {飲みます / *やります}。
(Every morning I drink one cup of orange juice.)

Besides KS(F), Exs.(f) and (g), there are only a few expressions which can be used correctly.

- (2) a. 今晚僕と一杯やりませんか。
(Won’t you drink with me tonight?)
- b. どうぞ皿のものをやって下さい。
(Please help yourself to the dishes.)

【Related Expressions】

- I. Yaru can be replaced by suru in the cases of c, d, e, g, h and j of the chart in Note 1. That is, suru lacks the meanings of ‘send,’ ‘give,’ ‘learn’ and ‘eat / drink / smoke.’ When yaru can be replaced by suru, the difference between yaru and suru is a matter of style: the former is more informal and colloquial.

- [1] a. 午後、テニスをしませんか。(cf. KS(C))
- b. 今アメリカで日本語の教師をしています。(cf. KS(D))
- c. 三船敏郎のする役は正義感の強い男だ。(cf. KS(E))
- d. 宿題をしましたか。(cf. Ex.(c))

- c. 私は去年から生け花を {やって / *して} います。(=Ex.(h))
- d. 私は酒もたばこも {やりません / *しません}。(=Ex.(g))

II. Suru can be replaced by yaru only when it means 'play,' 'work as,' 'eat / drink / smoke.' That is, yaru lacks the meanings of 'make,' 'wear,' 'have,' 'feel,' and 'cost.'

- [3] a. 先生はテストをやさしく {した / *やった}。
(The teacher made the test easy.)
- b. 京子はきれいなスカーフを {している / *やっている}。

(knowing that it will cause s.o. trouble / difficulty)

- (e) 言うことを聞かなかつたら少し脅してやれ。
(If he doesn't listen, threaten him a little.)

Notes

1. Yaru is one of the “giving” auxiliary verbs meaning ‘do s.t. for s.o.’ However, it is also used when A does something undesirable to B knowing that A’s deed will cause B difficulty. For example, KS states that the speaker teased Tadashi, with the implication that he knew that it would make trouble for Tadashi. Compare KS with (1), which is a neutral statement and conveys no such implication.

- (1) 私は正をからかった。
(I teased Tadashi.)

(⇒ ageru<sup>2</sup> (DBJG: 65–67))

2. The subject of Vte yaru is the first person in declarative sentences and the second person in interrogative sentences, commands, requests, or suggestions. (2) is ungrammatical unless the speaker / writer is totally empathetic with Taro.

- (2) *太郎は次郎をからかってやった。
(Taro teased Jiro.)

[Related Expressions]

- I. The auxiliary verb kureru, which usually means ‘do s.t. for me,’ is also used when an action causes difficulty, as in [1]. Here, kureru expresses strong feelings of unhappiness, anger, etc., on the side of the person who is affected by the action.

- [1] a. ジェリーはとんでもないことをしてくれた。
(Jerry did a terrible thing to me.)
b. よくも恥をかかせてくれたわね。[female speech]
(You really disgraced me!)

Note that in the above sentences the verb phrases tondemonai koto o suru ‘to do a terrible thing’ and haji o kakaseru ‘to disgrace’ represent undesirable actions. If a verb phrase does not represent an undesirable action, kureru means 'do s.t. for me' as in [2].

- [2] ケイトは私の魚を食べてくれた。
(Kate ate my fish for me.)

(⇒ kureru<sup>2</sup> (DBJG: 216–19) ; rareru<sup>1</sup> (DBJG: 364–69))

II. The “receiving” verb morau (not the auxiliary verb morau) can also be used when the sentence object is something undesirable, as in [3].

- [3] a. テッドに風邪をもらった。
(I got a cold from Ted.)
b. 課長に大変な仕事をもらってしまった。
(I got an awful assignment from my boss (lit. section chief).)

(⇒ morau<sup>1</sup> (DBJG: 261–63))

Notes

1. The adverb yatto can be used with Vinf when s.t. desirable has been finally achieved, as exemplified by KS(A) and Exs.(a) – (d). If s.t. negative has been brought about the adverb cannot be used.

- (1) a. 彼は四年間癌の治療を受けていたが、{*やっと / とうとう / ついに} 死んでしまった。

(He was receiving treatment for cancer for four years, but he finally died.)

- b. 彼らは夫婦仲が前から悪かったが、{*やっと / とうとう / ついに} 別れてしまった。

(They have been unhappily married for some time, but finally they got divorced.)

2. The adverb can also mean 'barely' as in KS(B), (C), Exs.(e), (f) and (g).
 3. Yatto no koto de is a set phrase that emphasizes the time and efforts it takes for s.t. positive to come about, as exemplified by KS(D) and Ex.(h). The English translations are 'at long last,' 'with the greatest effort,' 'with the greatest trouble.'

[Related Expressions]

- I. Yatto and yōyaku are very close in that both of them indicate eventual completion of something positive; the only difference is that yōyaku sounds more formal and is usually written.

- [1] {ようやく / *やっと} 螢雪の功なつて、ここに卒業の段となりましたことを心からお祝い申し上げます。

(From the bottom of my heart I would like to congratulate you on your graduation today after long diligent study.)

- II. Yatto can be replaced by adverbs nantoka and karōjite as shown in [2]. Both nantoka and karōjite mean that s.t. positive has been luckily accomplished in spite of difficulty. But the latter implies that almost insurmountable difficulty has been cleared.

- [2] a. 日本史の期末レポートを {やっと / 何とか / かるうじて} 書き終えた。(=KS(A))

- b. この道は車が {やっと / 何とか / かるうじて} 一台通れるくらいの狭さです。(=KS(B))

However, when yatto indicates that it is a matter of a long wait before s.t. desirable is realized, it cannot be replaced either by karojite or by nantoka as shown in [3].

- [3] a. 半年の長い冬が終わって、{やっと / *かろうじて / *何とか} 暖かい春になった。 (=Ex.(a))
- b. <sup>じゅうじ</sup>十時になって、{やっと / *かろうじて / *何とか} <sup>じむしょ</sup>事務所が <sup>ひら</sup>開いた。
(Ten o'clock came round and finally the office opened.)
- c. つまらない講演が {やっと / *かろうじて / *何とか} 終わった。
(The boring lecture finally came to an end.)

III. Tsui ni is another adverb which indicates that either s.t. desirable or undesirable has finally come about or will come about after a relatively long process. It can replace yatto in KS(A), Exs.(b) and (c). If the result is a natural one as in Ex.(a) yatto is preferable to tsui ni. Also, if the focus is placed more on current difficulty rather than on a long process as in KS(B), (C), Exs.(f) and (g), the replacement is impossible. (See Note 1.)

-yō<sup>1</sup> よう suf.

Notes

1. Vmasu-yō is most commonly used with ga nai 'there is no way to V; cannot V.'
2. Although Vmasu-yō can be used in affirmative sentences (e.g., Exs.(h) and (i)), it is most commonly used in negative sentences.

3. Vmasu-yō often appears with conditional clauses ending in -te wa, -tara, or -te mo, as in KS(B) – (D) and Exs.(b) – (f).

【Related Expression】

Notes

1. The auxiliary verb -yō is used to express either the writer's conjecture that s.t. can be done or his belief that s.t. should happen. The structure ~N + Prt + Vvol, always expresses certainty, as shown in KS(B), Exs.(f) and (g). Adverbs such as sazo 'surely' and kitto 'certainly' also indicate conjecture with a feeling of certainty. Otherwise, the auxiliary verb is subject to either interpretation.
2. The auxiliary verb -yō is primarily used in written Japanese.
3. The Adj(na) version of -yō is Adj(na)stem + dearō. For the Adj(i) version, see karō of this volume.
4. The negative versions of -yō are Vinf-nonpast mai (V: a non-controllable verb), Adj(i)stem + ku arumai, Adj(na)stem + de wa arumai, respectively.

(If we utilize telephone lines, we can offer this service to users in a larger region.)

- (g) 集中管理システムの方がより効率的だろう。
(A centralized system would probably be more efficient.)
- (h) バスで通勤する方がより経済的です。
(Commuting to work by bus is more economical.)

Notes

1. The adverb *yor*i was derived from the particle *yor*i 'than.' *Yor*i Adj./Adv. expresses the idea 'more Adj./Adv. than now or than otherwise' and is used to make a general comparison rather than a comparison between two specific entities. For example, KS(A), (B), and (C) are equivalent to (1), (2), and (3), respectively.

- (1) 私達はいつも今よりよいサービスの提供に努めています。
(We are always trying to offer better services than (we do) now.)
- (2) 外国語は新しい技術を利用すれば、そうしないより効果的に教えることができる。
(If we utilize new technology, we can teach foreign languages more effectively (lit. than not doing so).)
- (3) 子供達に自分で考えさせる方が、そうしないより教育的だ。
(To have children think for themselves is more educational (lit. than not doing so).)

(⇒ *yor*i<sup>1</sup> (DBJG: 564-67))

2. If X (no) hō ga is present, as in KS(C), the sentence is comparative without *yor*i. In this case, *yor*i is used for emphasis.

(⇒ ~ hō ga ~ *yor*i (DBJG: 140-44))

[Related Expression]

Motto also expresses the concept of 'more.' However, motto is more colloquial than *yor*i. Thus, the combination of motto and yoi, the literal version of ii 'good,' is awkward, as in [1].

- [1] 私達はいつも、{より/?もっと}よいサービスの提供に努めています。
(=KS(A))

On the other hand, motto can be used when a specific item of comparison kore / are / sore yori ‘than this / that / that’ is known from the situation or context, whereas yorī is unacceptable in this situation, as in [2].

- [2] a. {もっと / *より} 大きい<sup>おおき</sup>のではありませんか。
(Do you have a bigger one (than this)?)
- b. あの映画<sup>えいが</sup>は {もっと / *より} 面白い<sup>おもしろ</sup>と思っていたのだが、期<sup>き</sup>待<sup>まち</sup>外<sup>はず</sup>れだった。
(I thought that that movie would be more interesting (than that), but it was disappointing.)
- c. {もっと / *より} (たくさん)召<sup>め</sup>し上<sup>あ</sup>がって下<sup>くだ</sup>さい。
(Please have more (than that).)

Note also that when X hō ga ‘X is (more)’ is present, motto implies ‘much more,’ while yorī is simply for emphasis. (See Note 2.) Compare [3a] and [3b].

- [3] a. バスで通勤する方がもっと経済的<sup>けいぎてき</sup>です。
(Commuting to work by bus is much more economical.)
- b. バスで通勤する方がより経済的<sup>けいぎてき</sup>です。(=Ex.(h))

(It was a textbook so I had no choice but to buy it, although it was expensive.)

◆Formation

食<sup>く</sup>べざるを得ない (s.o. cannot help eating s.t.)

行<sup>い</sup>かざるを得ない (s.o. cannot help going there)

Exception:

せざるを得ない (s.o. cannot help doing s.t.)

◆Examples

(If you go to Japan you cannot help but adapt yourself to Japanese customs.)

(Because this many people have been murdered by guns, I feel that we cannot help but control possession of guns more strictly.)

- (d) ジョンは一年で日本語がすらすら話せて、新聞が楽に読めるようになったのだから、語学の天才と言わざるを得ない。

(Since John was able to speak Japanese fluently and read newspapers with ease in one year we cannot help calling him a genius of language learning.)

- (e) 日本は天然資源の乏しい国だから、経済発展のためには輸出に依存せざるを得ないのである。

(Since Japan is a country lacking natural resources, she cannot help relying on exports.)

Notes

1. Vneg zaru o enai is used in written Japanese to express an idea of 'cannot help -ing.'
2. The irregular verb suru changes to se before zaru o enai, as shown in Formation and Exs.(c) and (e).
3. Just like its English counterpart, the verb that can be used in Vneg zaru o enai has to be a volitional verb, so a non-volitional verb such as wakaru 'understand,' dekiru 'can,' tsukareru 'get tired,' komaru 'get into trouble,' mieru 'can see' and every potential form cannot be used with Vneg zaru o enai.

【Related Expressions】

- I. Vneg zaru o enai can be replaced by Vneg nakereba naranai when the latter means 'have to do s.t. because there is no other choice.'

[1] a. それは高かったが、教科書だったから買わなければならなかった。(=KS)

b. 日本へ行けば、日本の習慣に従わなければならない。

(=Ex.(a))

- c. これだけの人が拳銃で殺されているのだから、拳銃所持をより厳しくコントロールしなければならない。(=Ex.(c))

When Vneg nakereba naranai is used in a context where one has to do s.t. because s/he has an obligation to do it, it cannot be replaced by Vneg zaru o enai, as shown in [2]. In [2] the writer had made a promise with s.o. to go see a movie and as a result of that had to leave home right away. In such a case Vneg zaru o enai cannot replace Vneg nakereba naranai.

- [2] 映画に行く約束<sup>やくそく</sup>があったので、すぐ出<sup>で</sup>かけ {なければならなかった / *ざるを得なかった}。

(I had to leave my home right away, because I had arranged to go to a movie.)

But if the same predicate is used in a situation where there is no choice but to leave a place right away, Vneg zaru o enai can replace Vneg nakereba naranai, as shown in [3].

- [3] 社長<sup>しゃちょう</sup>からの命令<sup>めいれい</sup>だったので、すぐ出<sup>で</sup>かけ {なければならなかった / ざるを得なかった}。

(Because it was the president's order, I had to leave right away.)

The crucial difference between the two structures is: Vneg zaru o enai is used to express only a no-choice situation but Vneg nakereba naranai is used to express either a no-choice situation or an obligation situation.

(⇒ ~ nakereba naranai (DBJG: 274-76))

- II. Vneg zaru o enai can be also replaced by Vneg wake ni (wa) ikanai and V shika nai as shown in [4].

- [4] a. それは高かったが、教科書だったから {買<sup>か</sup>わざるを得なかった / 買<sup>か</sup>わないわけに(は)いかなかった / 買<sup>か</sup>うしかなかった}。(=KS(A))

- b. 日本へ行けば、日本の習慣に {従<sup>したが</sup>わざるを得ない / 従<sup>したが</sup>わないわけに(は)いかない / 従<sup>したが</sup>うしかない}。(=Ex.(a))

Vneg wake ni (wa) ikanai can be used in both no-choice and obligation situations, and implies the speaker's unwillingness to do s.t. indicated by the verb, whereas both Vneg zaru o enai and V shika nai are used only in a no-choice situation. So in an obligation situation as in [2] above, Vneg wake ni (wa) ikanai can be used but not V shika nai.

Notes

1. The sentence-final particle zo is used only by male speakers in informal speech to express either the speaker's strong feeling about something in a monologue or a strong desire to draw the hearer's attention to something.
2. KS(A) and Exs.(a) – (d) are examples of a monologue in which the male speaker is expressing his emotion such as dismay (KS(A)), joy (Ex.(a)), surprise (Ex.(b)), determination (Ex.(c)), etc. KS(B) and Exs. (e) – (i), on the other hand, are examples of other-directed speech in which the speaker wants to draw the hearer's attention to something assumed to be unknown to the hearer. For example, in KS(B), a father can be the speaker who wants to draw his wife's or children's attention to the fact that the bus's scheduled time for departure is drawing near.
3. The particle zo is used in informal speech only. When it is used to draw s.o.'s attention to s.t., the addressee has to be either the male speaker's equal or inferior. So, for example, a male child cannot use zo to his parents.

【Related Expression】

There are four differences between the sentence-final particles zo and yo. First, the latter cannot be used in a monologue but the former can, as shown in [1] below.

- [1] a. *あれ、財布がどこかへ行ってしまったよ。(cf. KS(A))
 b. *今日はあの子とデートが出来るよ。(cf. Ex.(a))
 c. *変だよ。女房の顔が猫の顔に見える。(cf. Ex.(b))

In other words, yo is always other-directed, but zo can be used either self-directed or other-directed way. Therefore, in all the other-directed examples zo can be replaced by yo.

- [2] a. 急がないとバスに乗り遅れるよ。(cf. KS(B))
 b. 今日は寒いから、オーバーを着て行った方がいいよ。(cf. Ex.(e))

- c. 予告もなしに来るなんて失礼だよ。(cf. Ex.(i))

The choice of yo in the above sentences sounds much less persuasive and informal than the choice of zo. Note that the sentences of [1] are all unacceptable as self-directed sentences (i.e., monologues) but acceptable if they are other-directed sentences. The second difference between the two sentence-final particles is that yo can be used by both male and female speakers but zo is used only by male speakers. The third difference is shown in [3] below. In the sentence-final combination of yo ne (assertion + confirmation) yo cannot be replaced by zo.

- [3] a. 最近日本の政治はすいぶん変わった {よね / *ぞね}。
(Japanese politics has undergone tremendous change, hasn't it?)
- b. 日本人は世間体を気にする {よね / *ぞね}。
(Japanese people are concerned about how they appear to the world, aren't they?)

The fourth and the last difference stems from the fact that zo can be used only with informal forms as indicated in Formation. In contrast, the particle yo can be used either with informal or formal forms.

- [4] a. この本は面白いです {よ / *ぞ}。
(This book is interesting, you know.)
- b. 彼は日本人です {よ / *ぞ}。
(He is a Japanese, you know.)
- c. 酒を飲み過ぎると、病気になります {よ / *ぞ}。
(If you drink too much sake, you'll get ill, you know.)

(⇒ yo (DBJG: 543–47))

Appendixes

Appendix 1 Katakana Word Transcription Rules

Katakana words, or borrowed words spelled in katakana, make up a significant portion of Japanese vocabulary. When the original foreign words are used as Japanese words, certain phonological rules apply to them, usually yielding somewhat different pronunciations from the original.

The following is a list of correspondences between English vowels and Japanese vowels to show how a particular English vowel is perceived by a native Japanese. English is used here, because the majority of borrowed words are now coming from English. Phonetic symbols are given in brackets.

- (A) English [æ] (cat, salmon) [ʌ] (cut, come), and [ə] (suppose, ahead) → Japanese [a]
- (A') English vowels [ɑ:] (father, calm), [ə:r] (service, fur), and [ər] (doctor, better) → Japanese [ɑ:]
- (B) English [i] (sit, busy) → Japanese [i]
- (B') English [i:] (beat, chief) → Japanese [i:]
- (C) English [u] (book, put) → Japanese [u]
- (C') English [u:] (soup, rule) → Japanese [u:]
- (D) English [e] (get, friend) → Japanese [e]
- (E) English [ɔ] (hot, yacht) → Japanese [o]
- (E') English [ɔ:] (all, chalk) → Japanese [o:]

The following rules can be used to interpret unfamiliar katakana words or to transcribe foreign words in katakana.

Appendix 2 Compound Verbs

A compound verb is a verb that consists of two verbs creating a specific meaning not always predictable from the meanings of each element. The compound verb has only one accentual peak and no other elements can enter between the two verbs. The compound verb is either Vte + V as in katte ageru 'to buy s.t. for s.o.,' katte miru 'to buy s.t. on an experimental basis,' katte oku 'to buy s.t. in advance,' or Vmasu + V. In this segment only the latter will be exemplified and explained.

The Vmasu to which another verb is affixed acquires additional meaning such as 'to start to do s.t.,' 'to finish doing s.t.,' 'to continue to do s.t.,' etc. On one hand there are some compound verbs that are so productive (i.e., they can be almost freely produced according to the pattern) that they are not listed in a dictionary. For example, Vmasu + hajimeru 'to begin to do s.t.,' Vmasu + sugiru 'to do s.t. too much' are not listed in a dictionary. On the other hand, there are other verb compounds that are so unproductive that they are listed in a dictionary. For example, tori-kaeru 'to exchange,' kaki-raosu 'to rewrite,' etc.

The following are a list of frequently used compound verbs with the pattern of V<sub>1</sub> (= Vmasu) + V<sub>2</sub>. For each compound verb given below the basic meaning is given in brackets and the conjugation type is given in parentheses, followed by English glosses (which are omitted when there is no close equivalent). The symbols v.i. and v.t. stand for an intransitive verb and a transitive verb, respectively. Generally speaking, the entire compound verb is an intransitive verb, if V<sub>1</sub> is intransitive, and a transitive verb if V<sub>1</sub> is transitive.

Appendix 3 Compound Particles

a. Definition

While “content words,” such as nouns, verbs, and adjectives, convey content information about people, things, their actions and states, etc., “function words,” such as particles and conjunctions, indicate grammatical relations between sentence elements or propositional relations between statements. Compound particles are function words which consist of two or more words and function as single particles in that they are interpreted as a unit rather than word by word.

b. Common structures

Common structures for compound particles are as follows:

- (1) Prt. + Vte (の) / Vmasu / Vinf·nonpast. (Exs. に関して(の); に関し; に關する)
- (2) Prt. + N + Prt. (Exs. のために; を中心に)
- (3) N + Prt. (Exs. 次第で; 上で)

c. Preceding elements

Many compound particles mark only nouns; some compound particles mark verbs or sentences as well as nouns; [N _], [V _], [S _], and [Sq _] indicate what element precedes the compound particle. (Sq indicates an interrogative sentence.)

d. Forms

Compound particles appear either in preverbal or prenominal forms. Compound particles in preverbal forms modify the following verbal, and compound particles in prenominal forms modify the following noun. Prenominal forms are listed with N at the end of the compound particle (e.g., に関するN).

e. Topic marker

Some preverbal compound particles are followed by the topic marker wa to introduce topical phrases. (Exs. にかけては; については)

f. Formal forms

In formal speech, Prt. + Vmasu mashite is occasionally used instead of Prt. + Vte. (Exs. におきまして; につきましては)

Appendix 4 Conjunctions

There are two types of conjunctions: coordinate conjunctions which serve to connect independent sentences and subordinate conjunctions which serve to connect two sentences into a single complex sentence. The coordinate conjunctions of  $S_1$ . Conj.  $S_2$  structure as instanced by Exs.(1a, b) below are particularly important, because the proper use of such conjunctions is essential for forming a paragraph, a discourse unit consisting of meaningfully arranged independent sentences.

- (1) a. <sup>わたし</sup>私は今朝<sup>けさ</sup>ひどく<sup>あたま</sup>頭が痛<sup>いた</sup>かった。<sup>だから</sup>だから、<sup>かいしや</sup>会社<sup>い</sup>に行<sup>い</sup>けな<sup>な</sup>かった。
(I had a severe headache this morning. So I didn't go to work.)
- b. <sup>にほん</sup>日本へ行<sup>い</sup>って<sup>にほんご</sup>日本語<sup>べんきよう</sup>を勉強<sup>たい</sup>したい。<sup>しかし</sup>しかし、<sup>りよひ</sup>旅費<sup>たか</sup>が高<sup>たか</sup>くて行<sup>い</sup>け<sup>な</sup>ない。
(I want to study Japanese in Japan. But the travel cost is so expensive that I cannot go there.)

In view of the importance of the coordinate conjunctions in discourse, this segment addresses specifically the classification, meaning / function and uses of the coordinate conjunctions that combine independent sentences. For the subordinate conjunctions, see the following items in DBJG and in this volume:

ato de (DBJG: 78–80), ba (DBJG: 81–83), kagiri<sup>1</sup> (82–85), kara<sup>2</sup> (DBJG: 177–78), kara<sup>3</sup> (DBJG: 179–81), kara to itte (103–05), ka to iu to (114–16), (no) kawari ni (116–21), kekka (121–23), keredo(mo) (DBJG: 187–88), kuseni (155–58), mae ni (DBJG: 231–33), niagara (DBJG: 269–70), nagara(mo) (199–202), nara (DBJG: 281–84), ni atatte/atari (237–41), ni mo kakawarazu (257–60), ni shitagatte/shitagai (268–71), ni tsurete (285–88), ni wa (289–92), node (DBJG: 328–31), norii<sup>1</sup> (DBJG: 331–35), norii<sup>2</sup> (DBJG: 335–37), sai (ni) (369–74), tabi ni (442–44), -tara (DBJG: 452–57), tatte (DBJG: 461–63), te mo (DBJG: 468–70), te wa (461–63), to<sup>4</sup> (DBJG: 480–82), to dōji ni (471–74), to itte mo (474–77), to iu norii (484–87), to iu yori (wa) (495–97), to naru to (512–14), to tomo ni (532–35), totari (ni) (525–28), uchi ni (DBJG: 512–15), (no) ue de (547–50), and ue (ni) (551–53)

The coordinate conjunctions are further classified according to their general meanings into eight subcategories:
